How a Polk County Man Made $2 50

Facial Massage and How Old No. Eight Sails

"I just made two and a-half the slickest," said Breeze Gibson, the Polk County hop-grower and stalwart Democrat, jingling some Bryan money "How did you do it?" said the Journal man eyeing the silver.
 "Man wanted to know if I had a cow for sale."
 "No, but I've got a likely young heifer."
 "What'll you take for her," said the man.
 "I'll take $25, says I."
 "He wrote me a check and the minute I took it I see I was away too low but I didn't gig back but remarked to the man I had let her go too cheap."
 "Well, give me $2.50 and I'll let you off on the trade."
 "I handed him the check and two and a-half."
 "I don't see how you made anything by that" said the reporter.
 "Well, I'd a give him $5.00 just as quick and when he offered to let me off for $2.50 I was just $2.50 ahead wasn't I?"
 It seemed so perfectly satisfactory to Breeze that there was no use arguing with him.

A Fine Opening.

There is a fine opening at Salem for a lady's hair dressing establishment. There are few if any competent lady's hair dressers in the city and the result is that Salem women go to parties and to the theatre with excruciating plain coiffure, and really appear to little advantage compared with what they might enjoy in that respect were artistic care of the head introduced. The speaker was one of the sweetest looking matrons of the Capital City. "I am also an advocate of the facial massage for women and it goes with hair dressing. I happen to know that my husband enjoys the luxury of having his face worked over once a week by his barber for half an hour or more, always comes home looking fresh and rosy and fifty per cent better for his treatment. The best barbers work the muscles of the face and the skin until the flabby appearance is all gone, rub in a lot of almond oil and other skin foods, and finish it all off with some good flitters for the pores and a dash of good face powder. Oh you needn't tell me the men don't have their faces primed for special occasions. We need it just as much as they and then we need still more a shoe dressing parlor. All three could go together and some bright man and woman have a fine business opportunity by combining hair-dressing, facial massage and shoe polishing.

Foot Massage.

Talking about the comforts of men, in Chicago the principal barber shops have their chairs rigged so that your shoes are taken off and shined while you are being shaved and when you are being finished off the shoes are put back on your feet. The feet are rested while you are being shaved or having your hair or beard trimmed. Another shop has gone a step farther in the direction of the oriental luxury and while one man takes away the shoes to be shined another takes off the customer's socks and gives his feet a massage treatment. The feet are sponged and treated to disinfectant and oiled and bayrummed and then all the muscles of the instep and sole of the foot and even the tiny muscles of the toes are worked over until when the barber is through with the top-dressing of the human head piece, the massage artist has produced a warmth and glow in the capillaries and even the sole of the foot that makes the tired man go out of there with a freshness, spring and elasticity that his family hardly recognize him. It is a question whether this would work among the denizens of a damp climate where there are apt to be webs between the digits of the pedal extremities. Some Salem barber might try foot massage or the Unions might make a rate for the service.

Old Number Eight.

All the motormen on the electric line like old number eight. She is not the least bit stylish, is raked in every joint and away back and forth like a horse that is about to fall down on your head. But old number eight has a splendid disposition, responds to the brake and takes the juice at the slightest touch. She has a fine headlight, a good motor and is well lighted inside. To see her go swinging along, you wouldn't think

SHE MADE A CHANGE

A Charleston Mother Did So With Advantage to Herself and Children

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children, writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for some how or other they never seem to be free from colds, coughs or sore throat.

This fall I made a change in the usual program. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh from which I had been suffering for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe, and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds.

So I gave them to the children, and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat, and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal catarrh, but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them, and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy cold or an obstinate, deep-seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves or washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, will be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which sell for 50 cents full-sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines. 3-17-19-23 she was fast but none of the newer cars on the road will keep as near the time card as old number eight, one of the original equipment when P. S. Knight and M. L. Chamberlain were managing the road. She reminds me of a ship that is well rigged, where all the braces and yards and sails swing back but she catches every pennyweight of wind and whoops along through the water like as if she was alive. That kind of a vessel will outlast all your nice-fitted and tight-rigged ships that ever floated. But old number eight wouldn't stand up in a storm worth a cent and a ship tacked up slack would. Her braces are shy and if she ever strikes a snag her whole mansard roof will crash down on the heads of her crew and passengers. The Colonel.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address,

Mr. Watson Resigns.

J. O. Watson, a young attorney of Portland, who has been serving as deputy in the office of Attorney-General Crawford has resigned his position and returned to Portland where he will again engage in the legal profession. While in the city M. Watson made a number of friends who will regret to see him leave the city. He will be succeeded by a young Willamette university law student named Parker, of Roseburg.

The Excitement Not Over.

The Benefit of Change.

We are like house plants. We need a change of soil now and then—to be replanted. New scenes, new experiences, new surroundings—a change of climate, dry air instead of moisture, sunshine in place of cloud. This is something essential to health. There are conditions near at hand that are better than Europe can offer. Take a month or two in California. Plant yourself for a time where there is no irritations, where the hotel is beyond criticism, the landscape pleasing, and where warm, sunny weather invites walks and drives. Pure and dry air, and the increased electric influences of sunshine are vastly helpful.

You can make this trip at very little expense, and enjoy a ride over the scenic Siskiyou and Shasta Mountains, which, at this time of the year, with their snow-covered peaks, are unsurpassed for their grandeur.
