FARMER'S CHOPPED FEED

From the Minnesota Farm, Stock and Home

Good seed on poor soil is making poor use of a good thing.

Food is valueless until digested and assimilated, and the same is true of reading.

As profits of beef making decline the thoughts of cattle men lightly turn to milk.

A consular report says that Japan agriculture is sorely distressed by high rents and interest.

Every well managed farmer's elevator is a better trust-buster than the average congressman.

The snug workshop, with its carpenter and blacksmith kit, is a profitable place to while away a winter's day.

The thought machine works even better in cold weather than hot; make it put in full time about these days.

Do not forget that the owl that dozes in the barn all day is busy devouring rats, mice and such truck all night.

Whiskey left to itself is innocent, harmless stuff; but when combined with man it becomes vicious and dangerous stuff.

Neglect no longer to provide comfortable places for the young recruits to the livestock forces that will be coming soon.

A correspondent inquires about "bromus" enormous" (fact). Well getting mixed on words beats getting mixed on tangle-foot.

For home consumption mixed sorts of potatoes may be grown if desired; but for market only one sort should be presented to the buyer.

The best thing about Cecil Rhode's Oxford scholarship to American students is that it provides for only two from each state every three years.

This is written while the weather is very cold, and the writer is hoping that but few of his readers are losing money by having his cows suffer from cold.

There are people who show their lack of patriotism by declaring that Minnesota could have worried through some way without a legislative session this winter.

The Australasian commonwealth states will have to import. It is said, 200,000 tons of breadstuffs. It would seem no more strange if Minneapolis were making such imports.

In the University of Minnesota the salary of an occupant of a professor's chair is limited to $2400, but its football coach gets $3000. Physical development is necessary to intellectual development, of course; but isn't the first beginning to take an unfair advantage of the last?

Salem, March 17, 1903.

Ed. Journal: The Portland papers have sent out the glad tidings that C. H. McIsaac, who, it seems, has been in session with the balance of the Washington legislature, has returned.

There is not a particle of doubt about his being back, for he, himself, not only admits it, but rushes into print to advertise the fact, and throws bunches of violets at himself, and pats McIsaac on McIsaac's own back right in public. He is indeed enthusiastic over himself, to the point of stopping over in an excess of exuberance. He left Portland nearly two months ago, bound for Olympia, with, unknown to his employers, a sloop in his clothes. The people of Oregon expected that the state of Washington would appropriate $250,000 for the Lewis and Clark fair, and no one ever dreamed of its giving less than $100,000. But in the face of this McIsaac loaded up a $50,000 sloop, and by persistent effort, or by accident, got the Washington legislature to cut down the appropriation to that amount. The way in which he accomplished this is told in his own bashful and diffident manner, as follows:

"My sloop was $50,000 or nothing," and I got the former. The bill for this appropriation was unanimously passed in the house last night," said Mr. McIsaac.

"We had a hard time of it," he continued, "but we won out in the end. You know, the bill providing for a $50,000 appropriation passed the senate last Thursday. It was then referred to the house, where it was amended and the appropriation cut in half. In the meantime I telegraphed to the fair headquarters here asking for instructions, whether I should force a conference or refuse the $25,000. I received answer that I should use my own judgment. I then determined to have a conference. This I did with the result that the senate refused to concur with the house amendment and committees were appointed from both bodies. From the senate the following were appointed: Senators Rands, Hamilton, Halley, Corwall and Tollman. The house was repre-

HERPICIDE

Relieves Dandruff Immediately

Newbro's Herpicide performs its work on the principle, "Remove the cause, you remove the effect," and consequently it reaches and kills off the ever-busy microbes, which is responsible for all scalp diseases. It thus makes dandruff and falling hair impossible, and promotes a luxuriant growth of hair that soon becomes the pride of the owner. Even on bald spots it soon produces hair as thick and luxuriant as anyone could wish for.

One bottle will convince that it is the only hair restorer that really restores.

sented by Representatives Megler, Cooney, Craig, Veness and Stevens. The committee met last Wednesday and signed a report requesting the house to recede from its former action. The report was presented to the house yesterday afternoon and was adopted without opposition."

Just think what would have happened if McIsaac had not been there? But no, let us not contemplate the soul-barrowing possibility. McIsaac was there; a Webster Winklerfeld determined to do or die a hero meet for the occasion. Did he falter? Did he weaken? Navy falter! No! Not on your life! He yanked the legislature up by its collar, so to speak, and forced a conference. He wouldn't stand for any $25,000 appropriation. He would have refused to accept it, and have haughtily told Washington to keep her dishes and doll baby at home. She couldn't come to our garden party with any measly hand-out of $25,000. She couldn't play in our back yard on that kind of a ticket, or paddle in Gold's lake, or slide down our cellar door, or even swing on the back gate, or look over the fence. And just think how badly the Washington push would have felt at having the limit raised on them beyond their stakes? Let us be becomingly thankful that they weakened, otherwise—but let us draw the curtain and appreciate McIsaac, while he is yet with us, for Emperor William, Castro and John Bull will be bidding for him next. The Northwest is entirely too small a field for McIsaac.

TWENTY YEARS TRIAL. There are lots of good things the doctors know nothing about. We frequently cure people of disease after the doctors have given them up. If the disease comes from over work, dissipation, or exposure, causing weak and watery blood, and loss of flesh and strength, we have the one sure remedy in Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic. These tablets taken with meals turn the food into rich red blood, making strong steady nerves, and increasing the strength, building up solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3lbs per week. This means health. For nervous prostration, loss of memory, or a pale, sallow complexion, a better remedy was never made. Doctors know nothing about this remedy only the fact that we make cures; as we have been doing this for twenty years we know our method to be the right one. Druggists sell Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic for 75c per box, or 3 boxes for $2.00, sent by mail on receipt of price. Write us for a pamphlet telling all about this great medicine.
