NOTED WOMAN PIONEER

Martha Smith, Miner and Trader

On Her Way Back, Backed by Eastern Money

Voted a Gold Medal by Congress for Bravery

One of the most noted frontierwomen living is in Seattle on her way to Alaska. She is Mrs. Martha Smith, wife of Fred Smith, for many years a Cook Inlet placer miner. Mrs. Smith, whose honors include a gold medal voted to her by congress, was the first white woman ever seen in the Cook Inlet country. On the inlet her only daughter and the first white child born there came to cheer her in her loneliness and isolation. She is now a girl 10 years old.

Mrs. Smith in the future will be found operating on a large scale in the Copper river country. She will send an expedition North on the Pacific Packing & Navigation Company's Excelsior, on which vessel Mrs. Smith herself will take passage. She will take up a large consignment of supplies and six or eight head of livestock will be used in transporting the outfit into the interior.

In her Copper river operations, which are solely in the line of copper mine development, Mrs. Smith is backed by an Eastern syndicate. "It is too early yet to say much about our mining project," she said yesterday, "more than that it is an enterprise that means much, not alone for Alaska, but this city as well. My husband and I have found a great copper deposit in the interior from Valdez. We know what the property is, and have sufficiently shown its great worth to enlist ample capital to develop it on a large scale. Our enterprise contemplates the construction of a smelter and fully 100 miles of railroad. So it will be seen that we have found a great copper deposit, else these things could not be contemplated. People may think this is a gigantic undertaking, but it is no trouble to induce capital where there is real merit in your scheme.

All Favor Alaska.
 "While in the East I found much capital, especially in Boston, seeking Alaska investment. Boston is the home of the copper kings. They have an unlimited supply of money, which they are always ready to let go of in the way of a copper mine investment. There is no end of copper in the Copper river valley, through which a railroad is sure to be built. It may be one year and it may be several before such a highway is in operation, but it is going to come."

For the past five or six years Mrs. Smith has been mining in the Cook Inlet district, notably Lynx creek. She will direct the operation of these mines and others owned by herself and husband the coming summer.

The copper river valley properties were located by Mrs. Smith. For purely business reasons they decline to make known their location, save in a general way.

Mrs. Smith went to Cook Inlet in 1893. She was then known as Martha White. For several years on the inlet she did little else than trade, trap, fish and hunt. She is an expert shot and a splendid swimmer. Nearly every species of wild game known to Cook Inlet has fallen to her guns.

It was due to her ability as a swimmer, together with courage and willingness to risk her own life for others, that congress bestowed upon her one of the only two gold medals ever awarded to a woman. The other was given to Ida Lewis.

Eleven years after Miss Lewis was honored Mrs. Smith got her reward for rescuing shipwrecked sailors from a schooner which had met disaster on the Washington coast.

The heroic deed was performed January 29, 1892. Through her unaided efforts three of the crew of the British bark Ferndale were rescued from the surf, while 17 perished within a few yards of the shore.

Mrs. Smith's valor attracted immediate attention. The Portland Chamber of Commerce came to the front with a gold medal, and later congress recognized her life-saving service by voting her a gold medal.

A BRACE OF GOLDEN WEDDINGS

Brownsville Has Two in One Day

One Couple Married in Iowa the Others in Illinois

Relatives and Friends Gather in Honor of the Event

Brownsville comes to the front, and can justly claim the record for golden weddings, having celebrated two on the same day last week. The Times, of that city, gives a very interesting account of the affairs in its last issue, from which we condense the following:

Mr. and Mrs. John Larkin. Mr. John Larkin was born June 6, 1829, in Huntington county, Pa. Abigail Ritchey was born December 25, 1829, in Warren county, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Larkin were married at Crooked Creek, Iowa, by Rev. See, of the M. E. church, March 10, 1853, and celebrated the 50th anniversary of that event at their home southeast of this city on Tuesday, March 10, 1903.

Three guests of 50 years ago in Iowa were present—Mrs. Larkin's sister and nephew, Adam Ritchey, and Mr. Larkin's nephew, Mrs. Morehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Zosman. A merry party of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Zosman on Tuesday, March 10, 1903, to help celebrate their golden wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Zosman were married in Illinois in March, 1853, and after a very pleasant wedding journey of six months Mr. Zosman said they landed here without any money, but with a cow and horse. They settled on their donation claim in 1854, where they have resided ever since. Six children were born to them, four of whom were present: Jane Miller, of Middle Ridge; Lizzie Wells, of Plainview; Ella Smith and two children, from Independence, and their son, Monroe.

She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 145 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, and strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight and strength." F. G. Haas, drug store.

NEURALGIA

If a person has neuralgia in his system this is the season when it will be felt. It is an ailment that may spring from a variety of sources. Anæmia or any depressed state of the bodily functions are frequent causes. The exhaustion resulting from rheumatism also makes it easy for neuralgia to get a foothold.

Scott's Emulsion has for years been recognized as a powerful agent for good in giving new life to the worn-out nerve centers and building up the weakened tissues which are responsible for neuralgia.

In Scott's Emulsion the pure cod liver oil is combined with hypophosphites of lime and soda, the latter contributing strength to the blood and bones.

As the principal mission of Scott's Emulsion is to give healthy, solid flesh, active tissue, pure blood and rich bone marrow it will be readily seen why Scott's Emulsion is so effective in driving out the causes of neuralgia.
