Willamette University

The Glee Club concert this evening will be worth the price of admission several times over to every lover of music. The quality of the music and excellence of the program is spoken of in a few extracts of local papers, in places the club has appeared:

The Willamette University Glee Club gave a concert at the college chapel Thursday evening. They were greeted by a large and appreciative audience. The choruses showed careful training, and there are several of the members of the club that possess voices of more than ordinary merit. Those who attended were well pleased with the evening's entertainment, and hope to have the pleasure of hearing the club again at some future date.—Polk County Itemizer.

Willamette University Glee Club. The Willamette University Glee Club, of Salem, rendered a very pleasing and artistic entertainment in the opera house in this city last night. The audience was an appreciative one and every one went away highly pleased with the performance. Mr. E. F. Averill accompanies the club as reader. Wm. Rebhan, a native of our town, is a member of the club.—Brownsville Times.

Invitations were issued this morning to all students of the collegiate department of the University to a reception at Mrs. Prof. Hawley's Wednesday evening.

The entertainment given Saturday night by the W. U. Glee Club was well attended and highly enjoyed by all. The club consists of 16 male voices, and all their selections were rendered in the best manner. E. F. Averill, a Brownsville man, is with the club as reader and impersonator, and his renditions were loudly applauded.—Lebanon Express-Advocate.

A SWEET BREATH. Is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary R. Vick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies, but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength, and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat, and makes the stomach sweet. For sale by F. G. Haas, 96 State street."

Likes the Treatment. Josephine Kelley, a local character, was arrested last night by the police officers for roaming the streets at unreasonable hours. She was fined $5 this morning, and released that she might go to work and earn the money with which to pay the fine. This is the woman's second arrest for the same offense. She was released from custody only three days ago, after serving a sentence for the first offense. She is evidently fond of the treatment she received at the city jail.

Mohair Wm. Brown & Co. are paying 35c.

MARION COUNTY TAXES

Penalty and Interest Charges Will Be Added After Today

Today was the last day in which taxpayers could settle with the county at the face value of their assessing the law requires that penalty and interest charges be added. Sheriff Colbath reports that on a roll representing $220,000 there has been collected $185,000 leaving about $35,000 on which the additional costs are to be figured. Of the amount remaining unpaid, in many instances half payments have been made so that the collection of the roll is well advanced.

Met 'Disastrous Defeat.

Bishop Scott Academy in Portland may know how to conduct themselves with military bearing but they are sadly lacking in the first rudiments of baseball playing. On Saturday afternoon a team from that institution charged the Chemawa Indian school boys on the grounds of the latter at Chemawa and the result was a disastrous defeat for the visitors by a score of 5 to 2 in favor of the Indians. The particular feature of the game was the excellent work of Sam Morris who pitched the game for Chemawa. On next Saturday afternoon the Indians will play another game with Mt. Angel.

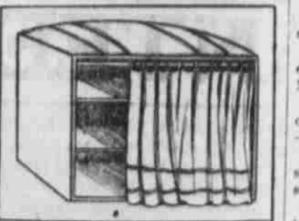

"HARDENING" OF CHILDREN

Hecker is outspoken in his objections to the methods pursued in the so called "hardening" of children by the means of cold douches or baths. As a rule children thus treated are more susceptible to nasal catarrhs, throat affections, bronchitis and pulmonary inflammations than those who have not been subjected to the "hardening" process. Furthermore, such measures frequently give rise to pronounced anemia and various disorders of the nervous system. Children so "hardened" are especially prone to acute and chronic intestinal disorders.

While in healthy children a properly conducted "hardening" process is often of advantage it must be remembered that there are no hard and fast rules, and that every case must be treated according to the individual indications. The fundamental principles of a proper "hardening" system are as follows: (1) Gradual acclimation to the air of the room; (2) gradual acclimation to outdoor air; (3) gradual acclimation to cold water; (4) suitable clothing—varied according to the weather and time of year. Great care should be observed in acclimating the child to cold water, and the effects of the same should be carefully watched, the endeavors being at once suspended on the first appearance of any unfavorable symptoms.

On no account should any of the "hardening" measures be commenced until the nursing period is passed, and in all cases the process should be one of gradual advancement.—New York Medical Record.

Handy Piano Seat. This is an improvement on the round music stool and is contrived from an old packing case fitted with two shelves for music. Two sides are knocked out and the whole wood must be well sandedpaper or enameled. A quaint seat would be one stained a dark oak with a thickly padded flat brown serge cushion fixed on the top and kept in its place with bands of MUSIC CASE AND PIANO SEAT. natural colored leather. Curtains of chestnut brown pongee silk hide the sides and can be easily drawn aside when music is wanted. These combined music cases and piano seats are to be recommended for use in flats where space is limited, and they possess the merit of being inexpensive and easily made by the amateur carpenter.

Sleeping and Sitting Room.

If one has to use a room for both sleeping and sitting in, it is a good plan to fit up one corner with shelves not more than four feet from the floor where the bath and all other washing appliances can be kept. This corner should be cut off from the rest of the room by a handsome cretonne or typstry curtain, which should be suspended by a rod hidden by a piece of cornice molding. Having the corner of the room thus cut-off will add to rather than detract from its appearance, for the convenience of this little private nook will be a very great comfort to its owner, who will probably put up another shelf a few feet higher than the first to keep her boots and shoes upon.

S. L. Jones, the confectionery salesman, was in the city Sunday for a visit with his family.

EIGHT HOUR DAY

Established in Chemawa School Work

The Salem Carpenters' Union held a large meeting Saturday night, and read an official communication showing that they had gained their contention for an eight-hour day on the government buildings at Chemawa Indian School.

The union has decided to not enforce an eight-hour day on private work at Salem, deeming a nine-hour day more fair under all the conditions. The union is considering a complaint of putting an apron on common laborers, not union men, and having them work with hammer and saw, at Chemawa. But it is believed this will be adjusted today.

The Salem Union voted unanimously to contribute one day's work from each member for the improvements on Marion square. This will be a contribution equal to over $200 in work, and is very much appreciated by the Improvement League.

OVERPETTED PETS.

Dogs and Cats Spoiled by Appetite For Unnatural Tidbits.

Possibly the dog world might afford a better specimen of a living skeleton than one in the kennel next to the door of a boarding place for animals, but it would take a day's journey to find him.

"What's makes him so thin?" was asked of the attendant.

"He won't eat," was the reply—"that is, he won't eat hospital food. He's been spoiled. Lots of dogs and cats that are brought here have been spoiled. Their owners think it is a sign of high breeding to cultivate an appetite for a peculiar and unnatural diet. They train animals to eat all kinds of food that they would never touch of their own volition. This emaciated fellow has been taught to like fruit. He is particularly fond of pears; but, in case he can't get them, peaches, apples and lemons are a fairly satisfactory substitute. Unfortunately, his present ailment makes a fruit diet extremely dangerous, and since he is deprived of his favorite food he is literally starving himself to death."

The attendant passed on to a neighboring cage and poked his finger sportively into the side of a large gray cat that "meowed" plaintively in response to his cheery "Hello, there, Cesar!" The cat had such a healthy, wholesome appearance that the visitor inquired what meat he was fed upon. "Triumph!" said the attendant. "You've missed it there. He doesn't feed upon meat. He's a vegetarian. He likes onions better than anything else, unless it's melons. A good many cats like melons, and most of them are also partial to raw asparagus. The fact is you might run through a list of all the dishes that find a place on any up to date menu and you will find that some of our patients have acquired a taste for them. This epicurean appetite may denote aristocratic tendencies on the part of my boarders, but I don't approve of it. Most of these acquired tastes are a perversion of the natural animal appetite, and it is likely to prove harmful in the end. The trick is pretty expensive for us fellows that run cat and dog boarding houses, and I'd like to put a stop to it."—New York Times.

Cats of Ancient Egypt.

By some persons the popularity of the cat in Egypt has been attributed to the fact that the animal was valuable in ridding the palaces of rats and mice and also in hunting fowls. There are several paintings in the British museum, executed by ancient Egyptian artists, representing Egyptian sportsmen in boats on the river Nile, accompanied by large cats, sitting on their haunches in the stern. Other pictures show the cats swimming with birds in their mouths after the manner of retriever dogs. These pictures have greatly perplexed modern naturalists because the cat of today has a strong aversion to water, and it is difficult to reconcile such different traits even after the lapse of thousands of years.

GOOD ROADS SOCIETY

Is Organized by Residents of Liberty Neighborhood

County Judge Scott, president of the State good roads association, attended a meeting at Liberty Saturday evening when a local good roads society was organized. The meeting was an enthusiastic one and was largely attended by the people of that section of the county. Permanent organization of the society was effected by the adoption of by-laws and constitution submitted by a committee that was appointed at a previous meeting. Officers were elected as follows: President, J. H. Daniel; secretary, Roy V. Ohmart; treasurer, P. N. Lathrop; Messrs. West, A. T. Wain and Roy V. Ohmart were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions with which to aid in the building of good roads.

PROGRESS.

Some time ago there was a notable automobile procession in the city of Buffalo, N. Y. It was notable for its size, and also for the fact that it was entirely composed of automobile wagons (like that in the cut above), built to distribute the advertising literature of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, proprietors and manufacturers of Dr. Pierce's medicines. In many a town and village Dr. Pierce's automobile has been the pioneer horseless vehicle. These wagons, sent to every important section of the country, are doing more than merely advertise Dr. Pierce's Remedies—they are pioneers of progress, heralds of the automobile age.

And this is in keeping with the record made by Dr. Pierce and his famous preparations, which have always kept in the front on their merits. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is still the leading medicine for disorders and diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive systems, for the purifying of the blood and healing of weak lungs.

Women place Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in the front of all put-up medicines specially designed for women's use. The wide benefits this medicine has brought to women have been well summed up in the words "It makes weak women strong and sick women well."

The reputation of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets as a safe and effective laxative for family use is international. It may be asserted without fear of contradiction that no other firm or company engaged in the vending of put-up medicines can rank with the World's Dispensary Medical Association, either in the opinion of the medical profession or of the intelligent public. The Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, which is connected with the "World's Dispensary," is alone sufficient to prove this supremacy. Here is a great modern hospital, always filled with patients, where every day successful operations are performed on men and women whose diseases demand the aid of surgery. No hospital in Buffalo is better equipped, with respect to its modern appliances, or the surgical ability of its staff. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the chief consulting physician of this great institution, has associated with himself nearly a score of physicians, each man being a picked man, chosen for his ability in the treatment and cure of some special form of disease.

The offer that Dr. Pierce makes to men and women suffering with chronic diseases of a free consultation by letter, is really without a parallel. It places disease and charge the entire resources of a great medical institute at the service of the sick. Such an offer is not for one moment to be confounded with those offers of "free medical advice" which are made by people who are not physicians, cannot and do not practice medicine, and are only saved from prosecution by artfully wording their advertisements so that they give the impression that they are physicians without making the claim to be licensed.

Those who write to Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., may do so with the assurance that they will receive not only the advice of a competent physician, but the advice of a physician whose wide experience in the treatment and cure of disease, and whose sympathy with human suffering leads him to take a deep, personal interest in all those who seek his help and that of his associate staff of specialists. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (in paper covers), containing 1000 large pages, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, or 21 cents for the cloth-bound volume, to pay expense of mailing only.
