A BICYCLE TOWN.

Now that the President is coming would it not be a good plan to reform the abuse of allowing bicycles on the sidewalks?

There are but few walks in the city on which riding bicycles is forbidden, and they are creeping, creeping back onto those.

There is hardly a day one does not see persons ignorantly or willfully trespassing on walks the using of which by wheels has been forbidden.

If the people of this city would get a referendum vote on that matter there is little question but that all bicycles would be ordered off the sidewalks.

In Sacramento the same reform had to be struggled for, but it was two years before there was any great improvement in the streets noticed.

Cinder paths were constructed along the main streets. Life and limb were safe on the sidewalks. They even for bid fast riding over cross-walks.

To force all cyclists to ride the streets would make them take an interest in good roads, such as they will never take if they can coast on the sidewalks.

What say our good roads aldermen and mayor to clearing the walks of this city May 1st, and keeping them cleared of wheels forevermore and a day? Why not petition for a vote on this matter?

ought to be in the parade.

Pedro, the biggest horse in Salem, ought to be in the parade when the President comes.

He has served faithfully at the Capital Lumber Company's sawmills and lumber yards for 16 years.

He weighs 2000 pounds, and when there is a sawlog or a stick of timber or a freight car or two that can't be moved any other way, Pedro is hitched on, and it moves.

Pedro is gentle, has a good appetite, likes to take a daily roll on the sawdust, sleeps well at night, and never goes on a strike.

He has been on the payrolls of the mills, working for his board and lodging, longer than any man around the yard.

He deserves a place in the procession, and should wear ribbons in his foretop, and a gold collar on his tail.

There are few horses in Oregon with so good a record, or with a better record, than Pedro, and he deserves a place of honor.

GROWS LIKE A TURNIP.

The first poem that Longfellow ever wrote was about the way a turnip grew day and night. And it grew and it grew, and it grew.

With nine free rural mail routes out of the city, with free mail service out of Turner, Macleay, Jefferson, Woodburn and points on the West Side, The Journal circulation has spread very rapidly.

Suburban stations have been put in at four stores in the suburbs, where the paper is delivered daily at 4 p. m. by electric car service. One neighborhood canvassed showed Journals taken at 21 out of 40 residences in four blocks.

To meet these demands The Journal has been enlarged and improved. Since the 20th day of March the telegraphic service was increased 2700 words.

Saturday The Journal Easter number will be issued with many illustrations.

Preparations are completed for an elaborate mid-summer carnival edition in colors.

The people are finding there is little of interest in taking San Francisco and Eastern dailies, when they can get so good a paper as The Journal at their homes for less money.

WORTHY OF ROOSEVELT'S ATTENTION.

The fact that a city like Salem has maintained a non-partisan administration for six years, and has conducted an ideal city government from a business standpoint, is worthy of any man's attention.

It is not likely that President Roosevelt's attention would be called to so small and honest a proposition in municipal affairs. Just the same, it is the greatest achievement in its line on the Pacific coast.

The people of Salem, the Capital City, which he will visit, can rightfully be claimed to have won the highest round of fame in the history of American cities, and some day this discovery will be made.

Some time a college professor will discover that right here in the second city of Oregon was born an idea that will yet revolutionize municipal government—the only practical solution of city problems.

A city where not a dollar is stolen or misappropriated, a city government not for any party, machine, faction or ring, but directly for the people, and responsible to the people—a rare avia, indeed.

The fact is the plans of government on which the city of Salem is run is probably beyond the grasp of many communities—but is not beyond the capacity of any intelligent American community, with an honest press—that is a press that will serve the people directly, without selling out and subordinating itself to machine or ring rule.

As a writer on political history, as a student of governmental problems this is a matter worthy the attention of Theodore Roosevelt. It is the crowning distinction of this community—but one the professional politician will never bring to his attention, because the trade of the image-makers of Ephesus would be ruined.

DALLAS CITY ELECTION.

Dallas elected the water works ticket, headed by J. C. Hayter, and he will be mayor for two years, with a council to back him. Bonds are to be issued for water works.

This is a victory for the progressive element of the community, and, as we understand it, there are two plans for proceeding to secure a water service.

One is for the town to issue bonds, and pay a private corporation to put in a water plant, and the other is for the town to put in and own its plant.

The city should certainly own and operate its own plant. There is no greater folly than for a city to give to some private corporation a franchise, and then pay for it besides, and then not own anything but the right to buy water.

In Contra Costa county, California, a court house and other improvements were built on forty-year bonds, the interest piling up and a sinking fund piling up, and not payable for 25 years.

On the $200,000 bonds the county will pay $200,000 interest, and then still have the debt and about $120,000 interest to pay.

The popular loan plan of floating a debt of this kind, connected with public ownership of water works, and honest administration of the service to the public, is not too high an ideal for an intelligent American community to reach after.

What is Salem going to do for a public library? Salem should have a public library that is open to all the people of the city and the suburbs. With our ten free rural mail routes, with our extensive suburbs, with country and city practically becoming one through the rapid extension of the fruit industry, there should be a public library that will place the tens of thousands of books lying idle in the libraries already in the city into the hands of the masses. Under existing library laws this is possible. Why not push ahead and get into the front rank of communities on this subject? Good roads, good government, good books and good newspapers make good people.

The Journal has no desire to help kill off President Roosevelt. He is the best all-round man we have had in the White House in many a day. So we shall print no more of his speeches, for awhile.

By the time the Salem postoffice building is ready for occupancy it will almost have been outgrown by the rapidly increasing postal requirements of this community.

R. M. Veatch, Democratic warhorse of Cottage Grove, who has led the hosts in this district for congress, was elected mayor of Cottage Grove Monday.

One thing is accepted finally—that Salem is the second city of Oregon. That is no longer questioned.

Well, the Salem postoffice will never be any smaller than it is.

A NATURAL RESULT.

It is very reasonable to suppose if the foundation of a structure was removed that the building itself is bound to come down. This same principle can be applied to disease. Take a medicine into the system that will remove the cause of sickness, and the illness leaves of itself. Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick-headache and biliousness have their foundation in stomach disorders. Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure for all this that all druggists sell for 25c per box, it is called Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They get right at the beginning of these diseases and make the cure by taking away the cause of it. We will send a small box free by mail, or a large box on receipt of 25c. JOURNAL X-RAYS.

The Oregonian is evidently trying to nominate Mr. Brownell for congress, and will probably succeed.

Marriage will hereafter never be considered a failure, it at least silenced the post prandial senator from New York.

Has anyone heard anything concerning one Channey Depew recently? At last accounts and the last heard from him he was married.

If Binger Hermann could only divert all the attention of the Oregonian upon himself he could be nominated; but the greater stream is playing upon Brownell, and the latter will be Hermann's Pook Bah.

The Roseburg land office reports 1451 timber land filings and 801 homestead filings in the last nine months. It would be interesting reading if one had all the cases of perjury among that lot put in one volume.

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the chain of life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of heart or lungs, liver or kidneys, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

"I was in poor health when I commenced taking Doctor Pierce's medicines," writes Mr. Elmer Lawyer, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Ind. "I had stomach, kidney, heart, and lung troubles. Was not able to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and flesh, and stopped coughing the right way. Took about six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."

The use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure that foul breath.

Dr. J. F. Cook

Has come to the conclusion that all profession of the healing art outside of the vegetable kingdom is a failure. When your system is run out without pure blood. You will only find vitality in the vegetable kingdom. Poisonous drugs nor doctors' knives nor thunder and lightning will not remove the cause, but lay the foundation for a kind of disease. Those poisons go into your bones, and kill the life of them and create all kinds of diseases, cancerous tumors, consumption, dropsy, bone diseases, etc. You must bear in mind that his medicine is not a poisonous tonic, nor a stimulant, nor temporary relief which you get from poisonous drugs, where the results are sure death sooner or later. Do not blame the medicine, when it takes an effect and stirs up the poisons or disease in the system. You must not expect to be cured in a few days, for your sickness or disease has been a long time coming on, and it will take a long time to get it out of your system. It will take months or a year to build a new body from the bones up. This is what the people do not understand. They are used to being humbugged. His medicines are composed of Nature's Herbs—what the human system requires. When the animals get sick they will help themselves to those herbs, for they have the instinct, and the people have not, so we have to make a study of it. It has been a life study with Dr. Cook. Do not get weary; this life is too short and too sweet to worry out of this world.
