The Csar and Caarina arrived at Moscow on Saturday to spend Easter. Their Majesties had a simple semi-state reception, which was in great contrast to the receptions in former years. Not a soldier was seen along the whole two miles of the route from the railway station to the Kremella, and there was not a sign of the usual precautions.

Salem Lawyer In Big Case

John A. Carson, of the firm of Carson & Adams, of this city, goes to San Francisco Tuesday morning, to take depositions from a number of the plaintiff's witnesses in the suit of the Chittyna Exploration Company vs. the Alaska Copper Company, et al., for some of the defendants. The suit is an important one, and involves the title to valuable copper mining property in Alaska. Attorneys interested in the case are also directed to assemble in Minneapolis on April 27th, and in New York on the 30th, inst., for the purpose of taking other depositions from other witnesses in the proceeding. Mr. Carson expects to return from San Francisco early next week, before going East.

FRUIT GROWERS UNION

Members Met and Signed up the Contracts

The Salem Fruit Growers' Union held a meeting of the stockholders Saturday for the purpose of considering the contracts for picking, packing, grading and delivering the crop of 1903, through the management of one central distributing firm at Portland, with a local manager at Portland. All the stockholders present signed the contract, but one or two wanted time to consider, and an adjournment was taken to the next regular meeting, Saturday, April 25th. There was great interest and enthusiasm, and the point seems to be reached where the Salem strawberries, cherries and other small fruits are going into the wider markets of the whole Northwest on as favorable terms as those from Hood river, the only other place that is handling its fruits through a growers' union. It is predicted by competent judges that if the union movement succeeds the small fruit industry will double at Salem, and the price of fruit lands will advance 50 per cent. At Hood River fruit lands are worth from $300 to $1000 an acre. Blank contracts for the growers to sign are in the hands of Lloyd Reynolds, secretary; H. B. Thielsen, A. Aufrance and E. Hofer. All should be signed this week, so the contracts with the distributing firm can be executed, and their work in the big market begin.

SHOT BY HIS FATHER

Desperate Pole After Killing his Son Resists Arrest

Attempted to Murder His Landlady

Buffalo, April 13.—A shooting affray in which a 9-year-old boy was killed and a woman mortally wounded an attempted murder, two suicides and two attempts at suicide that may result fatally occurred in this city tonight.

Joseph Kwitkowski, 31 years old, a Polish citizen is locked up at police headquarters, charged with shooting his landlady and killing his 9-year-old boy. He formerly conducted an extensive business in one of the city markets. Since the death of his wife, a year ago, business difficulties drove him to drink. Tonight when Kwitkowski returned home Mrs. Tekla Wolinski, his landlady, notified him that he would have to move, whereupon he drew a revolver and began firing, backing out of the house as he did so.

Mrs. Wolinski followed him and grappled with him. He pointed the revolver at her breast and fired. She fell to the ground mortally wounded. Kwitkowski fired several more shots, one of them striking his own 9-year-old boy, killing him instantly.

A large crowd quickly gathered, and he retreated into the house, locking the door behind him. When the officers arrived he barricaded the doors, and began firing through the windows at them. The officers fired about 30 shots through the windows, but failed to hit him. Kwitkowski continued the fire until his ammunition was exhausted. The officers then battered down the front door, and found the Pole hiding in a closet. He gave a desperate battle with a stiletto before he was finally overpowered.

Pennsylvania Floods.

Pittsburg, April 13.—A telegram from Imperial, Pa., says rain began falling in torrents last evening, and continued one hour, accompanied by a most severe electric storm. In a short time the Montour valley, which at this point is very narrow, was a foaming mass of water and timber from nearby lumber yards filled and obstructed it.

The tracks of the Montour road were carried away in many places, and the evening accommodation train, which left at 5 p. m., is supposed to be in the flood. At 10 p. m. the train, which was heavily laden with passengers, cannot be located, and the fear is for the worst.

The coal traffic from the Imperial district of the Pittsburg Coal Company will be at a standstill for several days, until the railroad can be built over. Farmers in the valley will suffer great loss, as many fields were almost ready for planting.

Later reports from Imperial say that the train which had been reported lost had been found at Montour Junction. When the track was washed away, the trainmen decided not to attempt the return trip. All the passengers are safe.

Pittsburg, April 13.—A rain storm here Sunday afternoon amounted to almost a cloud-burst. The streets for a short time became miniature rivers, and thousands of dollars of damage was done by flooded cellars. One man was killed by lightning, and many buildings were struck.

Center street for blocks was flooded and street car traffic was almost entirely suspended in the eastern portions of the city.

The loss of property in the thirty-seventh ward was great. A house in Coal street was almost swept from its foundations. Thousands of feet of lumber were carried away from the Pitt-street yard, on the Pennsylvania railroad. In Wilkesburg people were driven into the second stories.

Bruce Marcum, a Jackson, Ky., young man of good family, has, under the vagrancy law, been sold into servitude for six months. Marcum is so averse to work that the highest bid was $6.50.
