HELLO GIRLS STRIKE

Butte Service Badly Crippled

Messengers Locked out Because They Organize

Imported Girls from Salt Lake are on the Grounds

Butte, April 17.—The telephone and telegraph service is badly crippled because of strikes. A month ago the Western Union locked out its messenger boys, because they organized. It then tried girls, who were hooted off the streets. It then attempted deliveries by telephone, but the girls organized and struck yesterday when it was learned that girls had been imported from Salt Lake. A large crowd gathered at the depot, but the girls disembarked outside the city. The telephone building is today guarded by girl strikers.

The Irish Land Bill

Dublin, April 17.—By unanimous vote the Irish National Convention, which met here today, accepted in principle the Irish land bill, introduced in the House of Commons by Mr. Windham, chief secretary of Ireland, and intrusted to John Redmond and his party the task of securing in the House of Commons such amendments as the national convention may consider essential. The convention tomorrow will outline the shape that the amendments should take, and on Saturday Lord Dunraven, Lord Mayo, Captain Shawe-Taylor, John Redmond, William O'Brien and T. W. Russell are likely to meet at a round-about conference to discuss the landlords' and tenants' opinions on the land bill, and try to arrive at a common basis of parliamentary action.

Today's proceedings at the convention revealed discontent with various features of the bill, but nothing so serious as to indicate a danger of its ultimate rejection. Even Michael Davitt, who had an opportunity of dividing the delegates into two bitterly opposing camps, and who, amid dramatic excitement, subordinated his own views, pledged himself to abide by the verdict. John Redmond and William O'Brien triumphed over all objections; indeed, the objectors, save Michael Davitt, were scarcely given a hearing by the delegates.

YOUTSEY SWEARS TO DETAILS

Taylor Deliberately Planned Goebels Murder

Tried to Hire a Negro, but Feared to Trust Him

Frankfort, April 17.—Youtsey was again on the witness stand this morning and detailed the attempt made to get Heckersmith, in January preceding the crime, to do the killing. Taylor declined to enter into the agreement, because Heckersmith was a negro, and Taylor said he couldn't trust him. He said later, however, that he would pardon any one who would kill Goebel. Taylor wrote to Howard, asking him to come to Frankfort, as he was about to be robbed of his office.

He Died Praying

St. Joseph, April 17.—Charles May, a railway fireman, was today hanged for the murder of Robert Martin, in December, 1900. He was praying when the drop fell. In his speech he said he had not intended to kill Martin, therefore hanging was too severe a punishment.

An Old Man Executed

Butler, Mo., April 17.—James Gattrell, aged 72 years, formerly state senator, and also county judge of Refugio county, Texas, who has made and lost many fortunes, and promoted successful schemes involving hundreds of thousands, was hanged here this morning for the murder of D. Donegan, a Colorado miner. He slew Donegan as he slept, and threw the body into the creek, after taking his valuables. His downfall was due to whiskey and drugs.

Corbin Going to St. Louis.

Washington, April 17.—Major General Corbin, adjutant general of the army and grand marshal of the parade at the dedicatory ceremonies of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, will go to St. Louis tomorrow to remain until after the ceremonies. He will be accompanied by Mr. Allensworth, his confidential clerk, and will take personal charge of the work of preparing for the great parade. The general expects his work on the day of the parade to be the least of his task. He will have charge of the work of receiving and assigning the camp of the 3000 regulars, as well as national guardsman of almost equal number. Problems of transportation and maintenance will be worked out under his direction. He will have as his aide a number of prominent officers of the regular army as well as the adjutants-general of the many states that have promised to send troops to take part in the great pageant.

Vermont Y. M. C. A.

Burlington, Vt., April 17.—Many delegates and visitors are here for the state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association. The gathering will be formally opened with a reception and banquet this evening and the proceedings will continue through Sunday. The speakers are to include prominent association workers of Vermont, Ontario, Massachusetts and New York. Major General O. O. Howard has promised to conduct the meeting Sunday evening.

Bodies of Fair and Wife Decapitated

Heads will be Used as Evidence in the Courts

Desecration Due to Fight Over Their Estate

San Francisco, April 17.—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair have been decapitated, and their skulls will be used in the New York court to refute the evidence of the Frenchmen, Mas and Moran, that Mrs. Fair died first. The bodies were brought here, but were never buried, as the attorneys suspected this move of Mrs. Nelson to claim the estate. The secret of decapitation leaked out today, and caused wonder among friends. The attorney said: "Eminent surgeons who examined the skulls, will testify it was impossible that Fair died first."

Violated Game Laws.

The trial of Chas. French was called at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in Justice Horgan's court. He was arrested on complaint of deputy game warden, Charles Allskey, charged with killing a grouse and two quails. He withdrew his charge of not guilty, and plead guilty to killing the quails, thereupon the other charge was withdrawn. He was fined $15, and as he did not pay was sent to jail to serve out his fine.

Ora French, the 15-year-old brother of Charles, was arrested yesterday by Constable Lewis and arraigned in Justice Horgan's court. He entered a plea of guilty, but, on account of his age, sentence was suspended and the prisoner was allowed to go, with a warning not to repeat the offense.

Much credit is due to Deputy Game Warden Charles Allskey, who investigated the charges, and brought the offenders to justice.
