Fathers, mothers, children, do not miss seeing the real live Midgets at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday and Thursday, April 22 and 23. All the favorite characters will be there, including the Chinaman, policeman, coons, etc. The scenery is gorgeous, the costumes beautiful, the music bright and catchy, and, all seen under the changing colors of the calcium lights, forms a series of pictures never to be forgotten. Reserved seats on sale at box office at 9 o'clock Wednesday, at popular prices. The management promises a rare treat in store for those who see the Midgets, as this production bids fair to be one of the finest yet given this season.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

An interlining of asbestos paper in the carving cloth or in dollies to use on polished tables will protect the table top. A temporary relief for a squeaky door is to rub lard or butter on the parts that come in close contact with each other. Our grandmothers used tansy leaves to aid in keeping moths out of clothing, and today they are just as effective as moth balls. If lamp chimneys are held over steam for a few minutes, then polished with a dry cloth, they will not break so easily as when washed. Before hemming tablecloths and napkins the edges should be cut perfectly straight. This can be accomplished easily by drawing a thread. You can tell if a bed is damp by laying your hand glass between the sheets for a few moments. If the sheets are not properly dried, the glass will be clouded. An old housekeeper declares that bleached cloth retains traces of the sulphur used to whiten it and says that it consequently discolors silver. She advises the use of unbleached cloth for bags in which to keep the silver.

The Woman Peddler.

"Any woman who can talk at all," said a schoolteacher who had tried book peddling and given it up in despair, "can interest a housekeeper in labor-saving appliances. The woman who does her own housework will give attention to anything that will save her a pain in the back or aching arms. But she will not talk to men about such things. When I lost my place as teacher in a public school, I tried book peddling. Oh, the women I called upon would invite me in and talk to me readily enough. That was the trouble. They would tell me their family history and their troubles and then lead me to the door with the sorrowful assertion that they never had any time to read, they were so busy. So I gave up books and took up little time and labor saving articles in the way of egg beaters, potato parers, can openers and cheap little articles such as women seldom see except at food shows. A stove lifter is a most salable article. I keep watch for anything new in this direction and then go the rounds. I have several regular customers who bring me a good commission on things that I buy for their dining room and kitchen."—New York Times.

A False Alarm.

A false alarm was turned in about 7 o'clock from the old Willis house, on the corner of Center and Capital streets. The department made a quick run, only to find that some one had been burning a lot of rubbish in the fireplace, and a chimney cap, in an upstairs room, having been left off, the room filled with smoke. Some of the neighbors turned in the alarm.

BASE BALL TEAM

Salem is Ready to Join the League

And will Put up Both Funds and a Good Game

At last Salem is to have a baseball team. A meeting of all interested in baseball is to be held in Justice Morgan's court room at 8 o'clock tonight, and all lovers of the game are urged to attend, as the season opens May 2d, and no time should be lost, if Salem is to have a winning team.

Organization has been perfected by the Roseburg, Eugene and Albany clubs, and the addition of a Salem club will make an excellent circuit, and will insure some lively and interesting contests between the rival teams during the coming season.

A Journal reporter called on several business men and found them heartily in favor of a team. Dr. A. A. Jessup was asked the question: "Should Salem have a baseball team?" and replied, "Most assuredly. It is a good thing and ought to go through. I know of no better advertisement for a town, and think the games will be well patronized, especially if a winning team is put in the field. I shall do all I can to encourage the sport."

Charles McNary, president of the Capital Amateur Athletic Club, said: "I believe Salem ought to, and can have a team, and I will support any move made in the right direction. I feel sure the people will support a team, but the team must do something for itself first."

George Snyder received the following letter in reply to a letter in reply to a letter asking for general information relative to the requirements necessary for Salem to become a member of the league:

"Replying to your favor of the 17th inst., will say that the only requirements are a team of ball players and a ground on which the league games may be played. While not yet decided upon, a forfeit of $150 will probably be required of each team in the league to guarantee finishing the season. Each team takes all gate receipts, and pays the expenses of the visiting team to the extent of 10 men, including an umpire. Cottage Groves wants to enter, but I hope you will rush matters, and get Salem into the league. Salem is further from here, but would be more acceptable to us, on account of the size of the place. Better write to President G. M. Turner, of Albany, at once, making formal application to enter, and I am sure you will be accepted, unless Cottage Grove is there first. The season opens May 2d, so no time is to be lost."

Finding More Material.

"How large is your Mammoth cave?" asked the foreign tourist. "Nobody knows exactly," said the native. "It's so large, though, and people get lost in it so easily, that when a man is about to explore it he makes his will and wishes his weeping friends goodbye."

"Most astonishing! I never heard that before!"

"Oh, well, of course, it isn't quite so bad as that. I was only joking."

True Mercy.

"Prisoner," said the judge, "you are convicted of bigamy, of having married two wives. Have you any plea for mercy before the sentence of the court is imposed on you?"

"Yes, judge," said the prisoner. "Give me as big a sentence in jail as you can."

"What?"

"I want to keep out of the clutches of those two wives as long as I can, and a long jail sentence will be true mercy."—Baltimore Herald.

Charity.

Charity itself commands us, where we know no ill, to think well of all. But friendship, that always goes a step higher, gives a man a peculiar right and claim to the good opinion of his friend.

Great men should think of opportunity and not of time. Time is the excuse of feeble minded and puzzled spirits.—Disraeli.

CLUB'S FIRST MEET

Young Men's Republican Club Met Last Night

The Salem Club will Assemble Tonight

The Young Men's Republican club held its first meeting last night in the police court room. This was also the first political meeting of the congressional campaign now about to open, and, while the attendance was not large, the meeting formally opened the campaign.

It was called to order by President Hal D. Patton, who stated that the object of the meeting was to make arrangements for the congressional campaign and to assist in the election of Hon. Binger Hermann, the Republican nominee. He also stated that Mr. Hermann was expected in the city today and it would be proper to take some steps toward his reception. A motion was then made and adopted that a committee on reception be appointed, and, in accordance therewith, President Patton appointed Hon. E. M. Croisan, Hon. Frank Davey, J. H. McNary, Clair Baker and H. D. Patton, the motion being to the effect that the president of the club be included in the committee.

A few prominent Republicans were present, and several lively enthusiastic speeches were made, emphasizing the importance of active work to bring out a full vote, as the only hope of the Democrats is that the Republicans will pole a light vote. A committee consisting of W. E. Richardson, J. G. Graham and John McNary was appointed on reorganization of the club, and to make the necessary canvass and obtain new names.

The Salem Republican Club will hold a meeting in the council chamber of the city hall at 8 o'clock tonight, when plans will be formulated for an active part in the campaign, and as Mr. Hermann himself, will be present and address this meeting, it is an assured fact that it will be quite interesting and enthusiastic, as this will be Mr. Hermann's first political speech of the campaign, Salem Republicans should feel proud of having gained this distinction.

She was an Historical Character.

The wife of John Dye died at Chenoweth, Wash., April 8. She was an Indian woman, aged about 70 years. Her name was Elizabeth, and she was known as Betsy. In her youth she was noted for her beauty. She claimed that Phil Sheridan was for a time her husband, by whom she had one child, a daughter. This daughter, under the name of Sheridan, married a half-breed named Olney, nephew of the late Judge Olney of Astoria. Both Olney and his wife are dead. They had four children who are now on the reservation. Elizabeth was married several times but had only the one child. About 15 years ago she married John Dye, a veteran of the civil war, who served in the Union army in a West Virginia regiment, probably under General Phil Sheridan in the campaigns in Virginia. John Dye is a fisherman and makes his living catching salmon and sturgeon along the Columbia and by working occasionally in the logging camps. He had great regard for his wife Elizabeth and is much grieved over his loss.—Hood River Glacier.

MISS FAY LEE, President of the Shakespearean Club, Kansas City. "Your booklet came to my home like a message of health when I had suffered with headache, backache and bearing-down pains. I was weak, nervous and hysterical and had not consulted any doctor, thinking it would pass away in time, but instead I found that the pains increased and were more frequent. I decided to try Wine of Cardui and in a short time was much improved. It seemed to act like a charm. I kept up the treatment and the result was most satisfactory. Words fail to express my gratitude for the suffering that is now saved me. I am in fine health, physically and mentally. I can only say 'thank you', but there is much more in my heart for you." BEARING-DOWN pains are the worst that women know. If you are suffering from this trouble you need not be uncertain about it. The pains in the abdomen and back that feel as if heavy weights were pulling down on the nerves of the stomach are "bearing-down pains". They may not be particularly severe at present but they are growing worse. That headache which nearly drives you distracted now is caused by the terrible nervous tension. The nerves soon begin to give way under the strain. You perhaps jump at any unusual disturbance, or laugh or weep, hysterically, at no apparent cause. That is what Miss Fay Lee, 603 1/2 North Seventh Street, Kansas City, Kansas, was coming to when she rescued herself by taking Wine of Cardui. The Wine made her a strong, healthy woman again, as it has made a million other women strong and healthy. By inducing regular menstruation the entire system is relieved of the terrible wasting drains. The ligaments which hold the womb in place are strengthened by a healthy flow and that organ is returned to its normal position. Returning health is the result. This is what Wine of Cardui has done for thousands of the best women in America. If you need advice write The Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn., describing all your symptoms freely, and a letter of advice will be sent you. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist to-day. A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.
