

Setting Left, But Stone Gone.

Setting gets loose, stone drops out unnoticed, search fruitless. This is a not infrequent experience with handsome rings. Come in and let us see if the setting to your ring is safe. We charge nothing for the inspection and it may save you the loss of a valuable stone. Re-setting rings is a Barr specialty; so is almost any sort of Jewelry repairing; so is making over old gold into rings. There are quite a good many sides to the Barr business.

Hood River's Strawberry Crop a Record Breaker

(Hood River Glacier, April 22d.)

The Davidson Fruit company has estimated the coming season's strawberry crop at 1,091,775 crates. These figures are almost startling. The earlier estimates were between 80,000 and 50,000 crates, but these numbers are now exceeded by 40,000 crates, but 17,000 less than the total crop for 1902. Mr. Davidson says the prospects for berries was never better. The strawberry plants in all parts of the valley look vigorous, and thrifty, and give every promise of an abundant yield. By use of fertilizers last fall the plants this spring have been made to look as green and healthy as one-year-olds. With such a large crop it is imperative that the growers use more than ordinary care in putting their fruit on the market, and to see that no inferior fruit is sent out, which will have a tendency to demoralize the markets. This matter will be watched closer than ever by the shipping concerns, and every effort made to ship only first-class fruit in first-class shape.

The Hood River strawberry crop has been estimated by the growers at 1,091,775 crates. The Davidson Fruit Company has compiled a few statistics furnished the company by the growers which are surprising to the best informed. The company sent requests to all the growers asking for a statement on the acreage in bearing and in new plants and the growers' estimate on his coming crop. Two hundred and forty growers reported 571 1/2 acres in bearing plants and 227 1/2 acres in new plants, while the total estimate for this year's crop is placed at 1,091,775 crates. H. F. Davidson says there are about 30 growers yet to report who have an additional total acreage of 50 acres, which would

Among Salem's Bright Young People

Every community has its young people in whom there is a general interest, and Salem is not an exception to the rule. We have not a few bright young people, of whom all are proud, and it is a rare pleasure to say a word about them when opportunity offers. Miss Anna M. Barr is one of Salem's progressive young ladies, in whom a large circle of friends are ever interested. She has been known for several years as a popular saleslady in the Barr jewelry store, and, having grown up in Salem, has many friends. She received a good education at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, and a few years ago decided upon a professional career, for which she is well fitted. Miss Barr took the full course in osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo., during 1901-1902, and has just returned with honors, having stood high in her class. Among the studies carried at the college were gynecology, obstetrics, anatomy, physiology, surgery and chemistry, all of which are essential to the professional work of the skilled osteopathist. Miss Barr is a devoted adherent of this popular new school of healing, and her many friends wish her success. She has opened practice with her brother and sister in the Odd Fellows' Temple, and is already a busy young woman in her chosen profession.

her husband, who is now in England, saying that his sudden disappearance a year ago, on the day of her arrival was caused by the fact that he was shanghaied aboard a British ship, and has just reached the home port. Readers of the Daily News will recall its account of the strange disappearance of Mr. Aho on the day of the arrival of his wife and family from Finland, about a year ago. It was supposed at the time that the husband was recreant to his duty, and had deserted his helpless wife and children. The letter gives no details as to the names and methods of the kidnapers. —Astoria News.

No Middlemen.

The unions are all trying to cut out the middlemen. There is one union manufacturer that has done it—the Packard Men's Shoe is sold direct from the factory to the man who wears it, through one agent in a city—Geo. W. Johnson, reliable clothier, at Salem. All styles, at $3.50.

Bob Fitzsimmons Penniless.

New York, April 25.—After more than 200 battles, covering a period of 20 years, Bob Fitzsimmons, the old man of the prize ring, supposed by his friends to be worth at least $100,000 declares that he has no money left and that the house at Bath Beach which is owned by his wife, represents his entire wealth. As Mrs. Fitzsimmons died without making a will the title to this property passes to her children and "Lanky Bob" is left with a life interest only. If Fitzsimmons' statement to his lawyers is accurate, all he has to show for his years of fighting is the right to live in a house for the rest of his life.
