WOMAN IN THE CASE

Timber Land Business is Badly Mixed

All Kinds of Rumors Concerning Commissioner

There seems to be a great big bunch of trouble down Roseburg way over the location of timber lands. The central figure, according to the papers down that way, seem to be a Miss Ware who, it appears was a United States commissioner. All kinds of statements have been made, some of them connecting her name with certain timber location people. The condition at present shows an indictment against Miss Ware, and that she is in the language of the law "non est." If the assertions made by some of our contemporaries are true, there will be some salacious developments should she be brought to book. The Eugene Register of Saturday says:

Since the Register's report yesterday first apprised its readers of Secretary Hitchcock's latest action in Oregon land frauds there have been practically no new developments. The secretary's charges also include two other commissioners of the three recently removed by Judge Bellinger—H. W. Reed of Bend; J. W. Hamaker, of Hly, and J. O. Hamaker, of Bonanza. Miss Ware and the two other two commissioners are to be arraigned for perjury, falsification of records and conspiracy, with additional minor charges against each.

Miss Ware's whereabouts is not known at this time. She left some time ago ostensibly to visit with friends in San Francisco and later returned to Portland but it has been learned that she again returned to California.

The three ex-commissioners, when arrested, will be bound over to await the action of the federal grand jury. When this step has been taken, vigorous prosecutions will follow, in which evidence collected by Special Agents Green and Linnen will form the basis of the case.

Collusion with Locators.
In some of these cases the evidence clearly indicates that the commissioners have been in collusion with the land locators and cruisers and by improper methods have been able to reap considerable personal gain out of their transactions. Fictitious entries have also been made in several instances, the commissioners assuming sole responsibility in these cases. The three commissioners whose arrest have been ordered are said to be guilty of more than gross negligence, as the evidence establishes the fact that they wilfully violated the laws under which they are permitted to receive land filings, with the sole idea of profiting by their illegal action.

This is the story up to date, but it remains to be seen whether the charges so generously made can be substantiated.

Washington, April 27.—The supreme court of the United States today declared in the case of the negroes of Montgomery county, Alabama, who complained that under the new constitution their names are not registered on the voting list, thus excluding the black race from voting, that the circuit court was right in dismissing their bill. By this decision the treatment of the negro franchise is left to the state department.

The opinion of the court was read by Justice Holmes, who was followed by Justice Harlan, who delivered a strong dissenting opinion. The majority opinion of the court held it was impossible to grant the relief, as it would be unheard of and extraordinary extension of equitable law to political matters. Brewer, representing his own views, and those of Brown, declared the only question involved was, whether the federal court had jurisdiction. That the circuit court did have jurisdiction is to my mind clear. The case should have remained for further trial.

The Earl Arrested

New York, April 27.—The Earl of Yarmouth was this morning served with a writ of attachment issued by the court of the King's bench, in London, last March, at the instance of the Security Guaranty Company of London, for a debt of $1500, borrowed in 1902. Interest charges are also added at varying rates, ranging from $100 to $500 per annum. The service was made personally in his apartments, while the earl's party was with him. The earl was painfully embarrassed, but accepted it, and declared he would make answer within the required time, 40 days.

Afraid of the Dagoes

New York, April 27.—Fear of violence at the hands of the Mafia, caused a general disappearance at the jury which was to hold an inquest this morning into the death of Madonna, whose body was found in a barrel, and for whose murder 13 Italians were held. When the coroner called the case at 10:30 this morning only a few jurors were present. It is learned that over half of the jurors disappeared when it was learned they were expected to serve in a Mafia case. The coroner adjourned the case until this afternoon.

The Court Cleared Him

Philadelphia, April 27.—In the supreme court today Justice Mitchell fully exonerates and liberates Private Wadsworth for killing a miner while on duty with his regiment during the anthracite strike. The matter came up on a writ of habeas corpus. The decision is important to national guardmen, as it defines their lines of duty when called out.

President is Busy.
Grand Island, Neb., April 27.—President Roosevelt began a strenuous day by turning the first soil for the Carnegie library. He made an address in front of the high school building. His train left here at 9:15.

Hastings, Neb., April 27.—Roosevelt, in his speech here, urged all to continue tree planting, and paid a high compliment to J. Sterling Morton, who, as secretary of agriculture in Cleveland's cabinet, was the father of the Arbor Day movement. He said that millions of school children, through this, were learning the great lessons which center about trees and forests.

DOING HONOR TO GRANT

His Birthday Celebrated in Many Places

Galena, His Old Illinois Home Leads Them All

Galena, Ill., April 27.—Citizens of Galena today paid tribute to the memory of the city's most illustrious son, Gen. U. S. Grant. It was the 81st birthday anniversary of the great commander and the eleventh annual celebration under the auspices of the Grant Birthday Association. These celebrations in the lead mine city have long since ceased to be merely a local event. The city that gave the commander of the Union armies to the nation loves thus to cherish his memory. The commemoration this year proved a fitting successor to the noteworthy observances thus begun in 1893, when William McKinley was the orator, and in which Theodore Roosevelt and other eminent scholars and public men have journeyed here to pay tribute to the memory of the hero.

The annual address was delivered today by Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, in addition to the orator of the day there were present many persons of prominence from Chicago and elsewhere. The exercises took place in Turner Hall, immediately after the arrival of the Chicago party. The president of the association introduced Senator Bailey, who delivered a masterful oration. The city was gallily decorated in bunting for the occasion, and there was a large attendance from the surrounding towns.

Cortelyou to Speak at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 27.—The presence of men of national fame will make especially noteworthy the annual banquet tonight of the American Republican Club celebration of Grant's birthday. Secretary Cortelyou will be the principal speaker and his address is looked forward to with particular interest as it will be his first public speech since his appointment as head of the new department of labor and commerce.

Hanna to Sneak at Salem.

Salem, O., April 27.—The Grant banquet of the Hanna club tonight promises to be the most notable affair of its kind ever given here. The club has arranged the following list of speakers and toasts: "General Grant," Hon. J. B. Burrows of Palmersville, O.; "The Eighteenth District," Hon. James Kennedy of Youngstown; "Industrial Peace," Senator M. A. Hanna of Cleveland; "Unconditional Surrender," J. J. Grant of Canton; "Grant's Native State," Col. Myron E. Herrick of Cleveland; "The Elephant and Its Keeper," James E. Carey of Salem.

Banquet to Boston.

Boston, Mass., April 27.—The Middlesex Club gives its annual banquet at the Hotel Brunswick tonight in celebration of Grant's birthday anniversary. Secretary of the Navy Moody and other prominent speakers are to be heard.

Newspapers Fighting.

Kansas City, April 27.—There is a cut rate newspaper war on here. The World today offers the daily afternoon and Sunday paper for 5 cents a week. Another local papers already gives a morning, evening and Sunday paper for 10 cents a week.

Contempt for Life.

(Collier's Weekly.)
A foreign observer, asked what struck him most as characteristic of America, replied: "Accidents, homicides and general contempt for human life." Railway accidents, and no one punished; automobile slaughter, and no legal control; lynchings on the increase; feuds among the citizens, cables and trolleys in their wild career; mad dogs biting a dozen children at a time, with no check on the general canine freedom—such is the picture which often represents the land of liberty to the astonished European. The objection to such a state of affairs is not measured by the number of massacred. Any self-respecting nation would spend a thousand lives in war rather than have one citizen unjustly treated. That the victim of automobiles, mad dogs or trolley cars number few in the total deathrate does not touch the real disgrace. A reproach to our civilization is involved, to our self-government. An American citizen should be permitted to walk along an American street in safety. If he is murdered by a devil-wagon, there should be redress. The children killed by rabies will not cause race suicide, but their fate is our shame. Better that a hundred men should legitimately die than one child should be deprived of life through neglect or indolence. The death of a freeman in pursuance of duty, of a citizen in response to the summons that comes to all, has only the sadness of our common fate. Every death which is caused by crime, incompetence or indifference is an outrage. It is a reproach which a nation should use its utmost to remove. To treat such things with unconcern is as unworthy as is the Chinese indifference to military duty and courage.
