MERCURY DOWN TO TWENTY

Blanket of Snow and Sleet Lies Over Entire State

Fruit Crop is Killed Involving a Loss of Millions of Dollars but Wheat is Pronounced Unhurt

Lincoln, Neb., April 30.—A deep blanket of snow and sleet lies over the greater portion of the state, and the mercury is in the twenties. It is now almost certain that the entire fruit crop is a failure, involving millions of dollars of loss. Crop experts say the wheat is only slightly damaged.

Hurt By a Turned Hurdle

Corvallis, April 30.—A hurdle tipped last night as Earl Rawson, a sophomore, ran it, and he sat heavily on its leg, the latter penetrating his body to a depth of eight inches. An operation was completed at 1 o'clock this afternoon, but the chances of his recovery are slender. Rawson was a novice at hurdling, the occasion being his second attempt.

Arizona Killings.

Tucson, Ariz., April 30.—The lynching and killing in the Huachuca mountains is the result of a concerted plan of the cattle men against the rustlers. The body of a victim lynched is that of a boy not over 17. A red thread on the shirt in Mexican and English read: "Death to cattle thieves." Another man caught skinning a beef was shot on the range.

State News.

George Smith, the negro wife-murderer, of Portland, will be hanged Friday, June 5th. The execution will take place in the jail enclosure at Portland.

Dan Lynch, a laborer, who was struck by the southbound train on the Southern Pacific Friday evening in Portland, died of his injuries yesterday.

Corvallis boasts of having a knife and razor factory, conducted by V. J. Casterline. He claims to have discovered a process of tempering.

Oregon City fishermen complain of a light run of salmon, due they claim to acids escaping into the river from the mills.

NEW TODAY

Notice is Hereby Given—That bids will be received by the Oregon State Board of Agriculture, at the office of W. A. Moores, assistant secretary, Salem, Oregon, up to and including May 12, 1903, for the furnishing and laying of 7000 feet, more or less, of 4-inch either wrought or cast iron pipe, to be laid from the water system at the asylum to the northwest corner of the grandstand; also furnishing and laying 1100 feet, more or less, of 2 1/2-inch wrought or iron pipe from the grandstand to the cattle stalls, and necessary connections; all of said pipe to be laid two feet under the ground. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. W. H. Wohrung, Pres. 4-30-03t.

Calves for Sale.—I have a limited number of good calves, under four weeks old, from first-class cows, to be sold Saturday. Leave orders at Journal office, or at Schramm's feed yard. H. L. Beaty. 4-30-03t.

Strike Was a Fizzle

Los Angeles, April 30.—The police rode on the cars of the Huntington system early this morning, expecting trouble over the strike, but there was no disorder. The men say they are not defeated, but the strike is deferred. The real cause of the failure to tie up last night was the men waited for each other to leave the cars. There was no concerted action at the critical moment, and the men would not leave. Organizer Shafer, of San Francisco, admits it looks like a fizzle.

Celebrated His Leaving

Rome, April 30.—King Edward was given an ovation this morning when he left Rome, in marked contrast to the coolness of yesterday, when he journeyed to the Vatican. Victor, Prince Colonna and a number of notables accompanied him to the train.

Stuart Robson To be Buried

New York, April 30.—Stuart Robson will be buried tomorrow at Gohausett, Mass., in the same cemetery with Lawrence Barrett. He was a steadfast follower of Ingersoll, so there will be no religious ceremonies.

Mormons in Macedonia

Vienna, April 30.—The Mormon missionary, William Wetzel, of Salt Lake, has arrived at Budapest, and will solicit government permission to found a European settlement.

Shamrock has Her New Mast

London, April 30.—A dispatch from Greenock says the new mast of Shamrock III was stepped today. The workmen are now strengthening the rigging with screws.

The Great Exposition Dedicated

itors. He extended greeting to the President, foreign representatives and others present, and closed by saying the celebration is of no state, no section, but of one entire country. The liberal arts building, where the ceremonies were held, seats 58,660, and was filled with the largest audience ever gathered under one roof in America. The acoustics were perfect. Only a portion of the outside was completed with staff decorations.

Roosevelt stood in the cold for nearly an hour, then turned and looked at the blanketed throng, after which he leaned forward and whispered to Local Detective Desmond. The latter disappeared, and shortly returned with another army gray blanket. A moment later the President's shining tile and glasses were all that distinguished him from the others. Corbin's seat was in the center, and Miles was placed behind a big plank pillar. "Just like it is in Washington," commented an army officer. The only man in the parade who received more than a formal salute from the President was General Grant. As soon as the late President's son and the troops came past the reviewing stand the crowd cheered, and many remembered that the rider's father's old log cabin, at Hardscrabble, was but a short distance away. Grant raised his sword in salute, and Roosevelt's hat came off, and for an instant he stood motionless.

St. Louis, April 30.—The St. Louis liberal arts building is overcrowded, and a panic is imminent. Women are fainting, and in danger of being trampled. The police force is inadequate, and the sergeant-at-arms has called on the citizens and newspaper men to help clear the aisles. Screams are plainly heard over the tumult of shouts. Emond Hoch, director of exhibits, appealed to President Francis to clear the aisles. He said that women and children were fainting, and unless something was instantly done there would be deaths, as the people were being crushed. Francis has sent members of the commission to clear the aisles. A number of women are being carried out unconscious to the hospitals.

She Stands the Tests

Newport, R. I., April 30.—After having been formally placed in commission in the harbor here today, the cup yacht Reliance was taken out for another trial spin, and during the two hours sailing she was brought into conditions of wind and sea which gave her the most severe test she has yet had.

That she proved herself to be a staunch, strong craft was the opinion of every one who saw her struggle in the nasty sea, under the heavy wind squalls encountered off the Canonicut shore. Many times during the afternoon her tender, the Sunbeam, had a hard struggle to hold her position in the wake.

The Plague In India

Simla, India, April 30.—Deaths from the plague are becoming enormous, and the mortality throughout India now exceeds 30,000 each week.

WOMANS' DUTIES.

A woman who keeps her house in order and has the care of a family, has just as much responsibility as the man who provides the means to carry on the housekeeping. She is deserving of the more credit since the demands on her strength is greater. The everlasting sameness about her duties, and the confinement necessary to carry them out is very trying to the nervous system, this produces a strain on the mind that mak her irritable, cross, and dissatisfied, which is just as much a disease as rheumatism or catarrh. If nerves can be built up and made strong by medicine of some kind this feeling is changed to one of cheerfulness and pleasure in her duties. The medicine that makes strong steady nerves, and prevents disease by building up the entire system, is Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic, a tablet to take at meal time. Cures nervous prostration by making rich red blood, feeding the nerves, and making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 lbs per week. This medicine is sold by druggists for 75c per box, or 3 boxes for $2.00, or sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us about your case. Address Dr. Bosanko Co., Philadelphia, Pa. For sale at Dr. Stone's Drug Stores. 2

Howard Jury Disagrees

Frankfort, Ky., April 30.—The jury in the Howard case, which has been out since last evening, reported this morning a failure to agree, and the court sent them back.

After deliberating some time the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and fixed the punishment at imprisonment for life. This is the third time that Howard has been found guilty of complicity in the Goebel assassination. At the first trial he was sentenced to be hanged. Howard and his friends are surprised.

George G. Swart, of this city, was awarded the contract for the construction of the Salem Flouring Mills Company's dam in North Mill creek, on High street. This will replace an old dam washed out last winter during the high water.
