JOURNAL X-RAYS.

The Iowa idea seems to be an annual flood.

Roosevelt's next term will be, strictly speaking, his first.

The coast counties didn't do a thing for Binger Hermann, but give him majorities.

Salem now boasts two autos, and the horses are becoming accustomed to the noise.

These warm, sunny days the young man's fancy lightly turns toward a new spring suit.

The only flood in Western Oregon is a flood of strawberries and cream and sweet girl graduates.

Corvallis is now the only important town in Western Oregon that does not have early closing of stores.

Tilmon Ford offers to pay that bet, and The Journal man hasn't a white elephant on his hands, but a silk hat.

Cleveland and Bryan are still striving to not get on the same Democratic platform, and with some hopes of success.

The Brownsville Times remarks: Wonder if the vote on congressman in Clackamas county was—"according to program."

Keep your eye on Barney Eddy, of Tillamook. His county rolled up a suspicious majority for the Republican candidate for congress.

Judge Judah and Os. West are getting mighty familiar with Carnival queens, and seem to have a monopoly of kowtowing to popular vote royalty, regardless of the envy they are arousing.

Myrtle Creek Mail: The Daily Journal, of Salem, blew itself till it got blue and red in the face, and then published a fine special edition on nouncing the great Mid-Summer Carnival to be held in Salem June 29th to July 5th.

Binger Hermann's double handshake is not being made fun of so much as it was.

The Oregonian must want to make Geo. C. Brownell governor, to give him a page so early in the game.

We do not care under what rules and regulations it is done, so there is lots of building and lots of payrolls at Salem.

Hermann will not even take the tariff off those Philippine cigars that Reames could enjoy a 3-cent smoke occasionally.

Homer Davenport is writing syndicate letters, roasting Roosevelt for personal innovations he has instituted at Washington.

The strawberry union with cream cannot be beat. There are no strikes on either side, even if the cream has to be whipped.

Eugene has let contracts for building a $25,000 high school, and there will be 300 children to take the four-year course.

In the usual Salem way a little $1200 purse will be raised by our capitalists and business men for a steamer to Independence.

The girl graduate continues to hold the boards. She sings, and reads essays, and raises hob with many a manly vest's throbbing contents.

The Sunday bill of fare at the churches is interesting, as usual, and if you are good in the morning you can go to the ball game in the afternoon.

The editor of this paper says he has "a silk hat on his hands," which indicates that he is unfamiliar with silk ties. The force respectfully suggests that he can get it off his hands by putting it on his head.—The office devil.

The Oregonian conveys the important information that Geo. C. Brownell lets farmers have a chew of tobacco off his own plug, keeps a hot stove for their benefit, loans money to poor people who come to him for help, and can't keep all his political promises.

A Bird Much Like a Fish.
The "birds of a feather" that "flock together" do not belong to the penguin family, as they are entirely destitute of feathers, having for a covering a kind of stiff down. Another penguin peculiarity is that it swims not on, but under, water, never keeping more than its head out and when fishing coming to the surface at such brief and rare intervals that an ordinary observer would almost certainly mistake it for a fish.

WHAT TEDDY SAID

One of His Last Speeches Made on Historic Ground

Paid a Glowing Tribute to Lincoln and Grant and Made Best Short Speech of the Trip

Freeport, Ill., June 3.—President Roosevelt and party reached here from Dubuque at 8 o'clock and immediately afterwards was driven to the site of the Lincoln-Douglas debate in 1858, where a monument commemorating the event was unveiled in the presence of many thousands from Freeport and vicinity.

At the court house the president was introduced by Congressman Hill. He referred to the debate as an event of far-reaching importance. He complimented the women's clubs of Freeport which erected the monument. President Roosevelt spoke as follows:

"We mean today to commemorate the spot on which occurred one of those memorable scenes in accordance with which the whole future history of the nation was molded. Here were spoken words that flow through immediate time and that will flow through that portion of eternity recorded in the history of our race. Here was sounded the key-note of the struggle which, after convulsing the nation, made it in fact what it had been only in name, at once united and free. It is eminently fitting that this monument, given by the women of this city, in commemoration of the great debate that there took place, be recalled by the man whose deeds made good the words of Abraham Lincoln and the soldiers of the Civil War (Cheers and applause.)

"The word is mighty, but had it not been for the word the deeds could not have taken place. But without the deeds, the words would have been the idlest breath. It is forever to the honor of our nation that brought the statesman that could pierce the clouds that obscured the sight of the keenest of his fellows and could see what the future inevitably held. And, moreover, that we had back of the statesman and behind him the men to whom it was given to fight the greatest war ever waged for the good of mankind and for the betterment of the world.

"I have but a moment here. I could not resist the chance that was offered me to stop and dedicate this monument, for great though we regard Abraham Lincoln, my countrymen, the future will put him on an even higher pinnacle than we have put him. (Applause.) In all history I do not believe that there is to be found an orator whose speeches will last as enduringly, as certainly as the speeches of Lincoln. And in all history, with the sole exception of the man who founded the republic, I do not think there will be found another statesman so great and so single-hearted in his devotion to the welfare of his people.

"We cannot too highly honor him. The highest way we can honor him is to see that our homage is not only words; that to loyalty of words we join loyalty of the heart and that we pay honor to the memory of Abraham Lincoln by so conducting ourselves as citizens of this republic, that we shall hand down undiminished to our children and our children's children the heritage we received from men who upheld the statesmanship of Lincoln in the councils and who made good the soldiership of Grant in the field." (Cheers and applause.)

At 8:30 the party was driven to the depot and left for Rockford.

Willamette University

The year's work of the literary societies of the University was brought to a successful close last evening by a joint literary program in the chapel and a reception in the society halls after the program. The platform was adorned by the 30-foot Willamette pennant and a large national flag. The program rendered was as follows:
Piano solo—Mary Warfield.
Oration—Walter Koyes.
Vocal solo—Blanche Lewis.
Society paper—Sophia Townsend.
Recitation—John Reichen.
Vocal duet—Nellie Parson and Beulah Cornelius.

An enjoyable social hour was spent at the informal reception given by the societies to their friends.

Miss Julia Field, '04, who has been filling the position of professor of mathematics at the Ashland Normal School, is home again, after a successful season of work.

The friends of the University are beginning to gather in for the commencement exercises next week. Among the number are: J. O. Van Winkle, Mrs. Blanchard and daughter, Carrie, Gervais; Miss Kerr, Portland; Mrs. Richmond, Woodburn; Miss Ricks and Miss King, Oregon City; Mrs. Jones, ex '05, Brooks; Miss Carter, sister of Prof. Carter, Portland.

The human skeleton used in anatomical study in the science department escaped from the laboratory Thursday night, and was discovered yesterday morning attentively reading the Bible on the chapel platform.

The fact that Bishop Hamilton will be unable to be in the city to preach the baccalaureate sermon at the M. E. church tomorrow is not an entire disappointment, as President Coleman will deliver the sermon. The students and faculty will assemble in the lecture room, and march in a body. The choir will have special music for the occasion from Gaul's "Holy City."

DR. J. F. COOK
Has come to the conclusion that all profession of the healing art of the vegetable kingdom is a failure. When your system is run without pure blood. You will only find vitality in the vegetable kingdom. Poisonous drugs nor doctors' knives nor thunder and lightning will not remove the cause, but lay the foundation for all kinds of disease. Those poisons go into your bones, and kill the life of the and create all kinds of diseases, cancerous tumors, consumption, dropsy, bone diseases, etc. You must bear in mind that his medicine is not a poisonous tonic, nor a stimulant, nor temporary relief which you get from poisonous drugs, where the results are sure death sooner or later. Do not blame the medicine, when it takes an effect and stirs up the poison of disease in the system. You must not expect to be cured in a few days if your sickness or disease has been a long time coming on, and it will take a long time to get it out of your system. It will take months or years to build a new body from the bones up. This is what the people do not understand. They are used to being humbugged. His medicines are composed of Nature's Herbs—what the human system requires. When we mammals get sick they will help themselves to those herbs, for they have an instinct, and the people have not, so we have to make a study of it. It has been a life study with Dr. Cook. Do not get weary; this life is too short and too sweet to worry out of this world.
