How About Your Wagon?

The old reliable Studebaker is not as low in price as some, but it is the cheapest wagon on the market, measured by its intrinsic worth. The Studebaker lumber yards alone cover 60 acres, where are stored for years, during the process of seasoning, millions of feet of the best timber that money can buy, awaiting the proper time to be fitted into the wagons.

NEW ENGLAND BLACK BIRCH HUBS in every Studebaker wagon. Slope shouldered second growth white oak spokes that never loosen in a hub that is guaranteed not to check, these with the careful inspection and best of workmanship in every detail combine to produce a wagon that has no superior at any price.

The life of your wagon is in the wheels. The life of your wheel is in your spokes, fellos and hubs.

Studebaker wheels are the best that money can buy or skill produce. Drop in and see them on our floor, or if you can't come send for catalogue.

All sorts of farm hacks, buggies, surries, rubber tired rigs, etc., constantly on hand.

The Man With Bicycle Trouble

Would have a lot of solid comfort for once in his life if he got a Tribune. Tribune riders have genuine pleasure and satisfaction in their wheels. Such perfect bearings, such strong frames, such strong forks, such strong cranks, such easy running, due to their perfect cyclodial sprockets and correct bearings, such things as these are the traits of a Tribune. You don't find all these combinations on other wheels, sometimes one, sometimes another, but never all of them.

Old wheels taken in trade. Wheels sold on installments. All sorts of sundries.

MORE SHOWERS TONIGHT

Of the Kind That Have not Been Coming Down

Cherry Shipments Will Begin Next Monday Through the Union

The government weather forecast, sent out today, says showers Saturday night and Sunday fair. These forecasts are very important for the fruit growers in this section, but, instead of showers, they have been clouds. But even clouds and cool nights have been appreciated.

The showers promised by the weather forecaster at Portland have not appeared—except one drizzle Thursday afternoon. These rains were badly needed to help the strawberry crop, but, in spite of the scorch last Saturday, Sunday and Monday, there will be a large product of the Wilson and other berries, that are coming on later.

The cannery has so far only received half as many as were expected, but the in-take will be large next week. The quality of the Wilson berry is high, and the cannery will have a very fine product.

The first cherries are expected in for shipment Monday. The Royal Anne cherries are not coming into ripeness very fast, and will not be ready before the first of July.

Saturday's shipment of Strawberries will be the largest of the season, so far. Some pickers will be obliged to bring in berries Sunday, and they will go to Portland for distribution Monday morning. The pack and shipments next week will be very large. The Union is handling all the finest berries that are coming in for the local market, and the public begin to call for the blue label products.

Hood River Berries Hurt.

The Hood River Glacier, of June 11th says: The Hood River strawberry harvest is now at its height, and Wednesday night were shipped 6534 crates. The crop, though, has been greatly damaged by the five days of hot weather, which began last Saturday. H. F. Davidson, of the Davidson Fruit Company, says the crop has been cut at least 25 per cent, while G. J. Gualing, of the Fruit Growers' Union, declares the loss to Hood River by the exceedingly hot weather will amount to over $50,000. The season in the lower valley has not only been materially shortened, but the patches, in many places, were almost cooked. Consequently a large number of the berries are small. Fancy fruit will sell any time, but small berries can't stand the competition of the Eastern home-grown product.

The later berry patch, and those with plenty of water, are uninjured, and, with the present cool weather, large berries are again expected, and prices will make a slight advance. The fact that prices early in the season were high, and with the late berries to fall back on, the general average returns will not fall over 15 or 20 cents below the $1.90 average of last year.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL

Osteopathy Assists Nature, to Make Her Cures

Investigate for knowledge is power, and the want of knowledge is disappointment, disaster and destruction.

The science of Osteopathy will bear investigation of the most rigid degree, and the more it is searched the better will it be, not only for Osteopathy itself but for all concerned.

The progress of a nation depends on the health of its people. Health is Wealth and Power.

Investigation leads to knowledge and knowledge is the key to success.

Many of the ills of life have appeared to be utterly incurable, defying the best talent the world could produce, not because they were necessarily such, but for the reason that either the wrong thing was done, or the right thing left undone.

In many cases the efforts put forth for the relief of the sick have been nothing more than a leap in the dark, a striking at an unseen and apparently unseeable foe which appeared to be undermining the health of its victim. To succeed in battling this foe we must work, not against nature, but in perfect harmony with her laws. That is exactly what the true Osteopath does. He assists Nature in overcoming derangements and abnormal structures of various kinds.

Osteopathy is Truth and Truth is a mighty power. To know the truth and to work in harmony with it, is to succeed. There is where an investigation of our science proves the substantial basis of our claims. In all nations, science and original ideas have always met with opposition from the ignorant. There are some people who think they know it all, but the rule is that the man who knows it all, really knows very little. We as graduate Osteopaths, of the best known school of Osteopathy, do not desire to know it all, nor do we claim to cure all cases that come to us for treatment, as we know full well, that our knowledge is limited, but we do claim to cure many diseases which were hitherto known as incurable, and which shall continue to be so by all other methods of treatment. This will prove that our methods are far ahead of those of other schools. Since we can cure many cases that were otherwise incurable it goes without saying that we can also cure those cases which are curable by other methods, and not only that in the same length of time, but in a much shorter space of time. What more could you wish for, or expect from any physician?

Killed by Slipping Wall

Redding, Cal., June 13.—The face of the sub-stope in the Bear's Den tunnel, of the Iron Mountain mine, caved in this morning, crushing to death P. Severson, a Swede, and Kubis, an Australian, miners. It is believed one more body is in the debris. A strata of rock gave suddenly away, and the men had no time to escape.

The Chicago Strike.

Chicago, June 13.—The police have issued an order prohibiting the pickets of the Walters' Union from taking their places within two and one-half blocks of the affected hotels. Ten were arrested this morning for its violation. Rector, one of the largest caterers in the city, this morning signed the union scale.
