

Salem Responds Very Liberally

Thousand Dollars Raised

For the Relief of the Heppner Flood Sufferers

SALEM PEOPLE RESPOND WITH GREAT LIBERALITY

Subscriptions are Still Coming in and Another Thousand Can be Raised if Needed

Everyone spoke highly of The Journal's effort Wednesday in starting a movement for a relief expedition for the Heppner flood sufferers, and the response in men, money and subscriptions was immediate and generous. Fifty men offered themselves, and before night the committee had raised a thousand dollars. Tons of provisions were ready to go forward if it could have been learned that they were needed, but the telegrams at a late hour from General Passenger Agent Coman, of the S. P. Co., indicated that money alone was needed, and that more men were on the ground than could well be employed.

The prompt response of the S. P. Co. and the Oregon Railway & Navigation Co. was very creditable to these corporations and their public-spirited management, and created much favorable comment at Salem. The finance committee, composed of J. N. Brown, R. J. Fleming and H. D. Patton, did splendid work, and raised nearly the entire sum by personal canvass, but a steady stream of contributions came pouring in over the telephone all day, and especially in the evening, after The Journal was out, and the full need of the situation was impressed on the public. Double the sum could be raised if necessary.

Money Men and Provisions

Are Still Wanted by the Eastern Oregon Flood Victims

RAILROAD OFFICIALS ARE ACTIVE AND WILLING

Reports Differ as to Advisability of Sending a Force of Men From Salem

The Journal received a telegram late Wednesday night from W. E. Coman, general passenger agent of the S. P. Co., that company was still ready to carry men and provisions to the scene of the great flood disaster in Eastern Oregon. A wire was sent to Mr. Coman this morning that, in The Journal's opinion, an expedition should go forward from Salem and other towns at once, as a whole lot of men are needed badly for a few days to clean up the wreck, and prevent the spread of any epidemic which usually follows such a disaster. Hundreds of men on the grounds promptly, and fully equipped, should be able to check typhoid from spreading and bury the remains of any victims not yet cared for, and the dead bodies that still to be unearthed from the debris.

right spirit, and his services there will be very much appreciated.

Money and Provisions.
The Journal has been urging to the utmost that more men be sent to Heppner, upon its advices from Salem men who are there, but it seems that the railroad men have other informa-

ATTACK COREAN PRINCE

Farmer Stout Thumps Some Asiatic Royalty

Korean Delegation Takes the Matter up and Will Have the Assailant Prosecuted

Delaware, Ohio, June 18.—That the unprovoked assault upon Prince Yee, the young Korean nobleman, attending the Wesleyan University, by Joe Stout, a farmer, has been taken up by the Korean officials at Washington, is now an assured fact. This morning Charles Nedham, counsel for the Korean legation, arrived here, and made a thorough investigation. He visited the city officials and the county prosecutor. He declines to state what steps will be taken, but says the affair won't be lightly passed over.

MORENCI MINERS SULLEN

Nearly all the Miners are Still Well Armed

"Three Fingers Jack" Who Boasts he Knew in Advance of Garfield's Murder Their Leader

Tucson, Ariz., June 18.—The situation in Morenci, where the miners' strike is on, is most alarming. The governor has been requested to station troops permanently at Clifton. It is thought the strikers have held out dynamite and giant powder, and may blow up the town. Only 25 of the 3500 strikers have been disarmed, and all are sullen. "Three-fingers Jack," who boasts that he had advance news of Garfield's assassination, is the leader of the strikers.

Peterkin to Peter King

Geneva, Switzerland, June 18.—The mission sent by the Serbian government to notify Peter of his election as king arrived today.

Cordinal is Dying

London, June 18.—Cardinal Vaughn, who is ill with heart affection, grows worse, and is gradually sinking; death is not far distant.

Reliance to be Ready Building Collapses

New York, June 18.—The new top-mast for the Reliance arrived this morning, and will be ready to be set on end today. The riggers are ready to go to work. Iselin announces that the sloop will be ready for tomorrow's race.

Maximum Wins Ascot

London, June 18.—The Hold cup, valued at 1000 sovereigns, with 3000 sovereigns additional, at Ascot, was today won by Maxim second, McIntire up. Isinglass was second, Elba third; there were four entries. Despite the threatening weather, the King and Queen, Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Victoria and scores of others of the royalty rode in semi-state to attend.

Elevators Destroyed

Arkansas City, Kan., June 18.—The Kansas City Milling Company's elevators were destroyed by fire last night. One employe was burned to death. Loss, $100,000.

In the Hands of the Jury

Jackson, Ky., June 18.—The White-Jett case was given to the jury at noon. Prosecuting Attorney Byrd gave a powerful arraignment of Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan, charging them with being law violators, instead of law enforcers. A verdict is expected this afternoon.

Building Collapses

New York, June 18.—Four are missing and seven injured by the collapse of a factory building in Newark at 11 o'clock this morning. The second and third floors were occupied by a paper box concern. Fifty employes were carried into the cellar, and buried under the mass of debris. Overloading the third floor caused the collapse and carried the other floors in its fall.

Owner is Arrested

New York, June 18.—Maurice Albert, owner of the building that collapsed this morning, has been arrested for negligence. Two more of the injured have been removed.

Relief Expedition Should Go.

In spite of telegrams and reports that men are not needed, The Journal believes that a relief expedition should go forward and assist the people of Heppner, and the other stricken towns along Willow creek. It would have added immeasurably to the reputation of Salem if we could have sent forward Wednesday 25 men, and the following telegram from the local secretary of the K. P. lodge shows that good men are needed:

Heppner, Ore., June 18.
What we need is laundry men, under pay, and money to pay them, to clean up, to prevent an epidemic and typhoid. It is awful.
W. W. SREARD.

Workers Badly Needed.

Heppner, Ore., June 18.
C. P. Bishop, Mayor of Salem, Ore.:
Send quick, able workers with tools, blankets and provisions. Workers here giving out. ED. C. HERREN.

Mayor Bishop Replies.

Salem, June 18, 1903.
Mayor Gilliam, Heppner, Or.:
Will wire you money today. A dispatch from Ed. C. Herren this morning says: "Send men and provisions and tools." Shall we send them, and how many?
C. P. BISHOP, Mayor.

Journal Relief Corps.

Salem Man Goes Forward.

Geo. W. Johnson, Jr., a sturdy young business man, who has seen the hardships of Alaska, left for Heppner Wednesday morning to render any possible assistance. He is prepared to stay for some time, having taken blankets and provisions for himself and others who may be in want of necessities. Mr. Johnson showed the
