Seventy-eight Special Trains Ran Into Berlin Before Noon Today

Nuremberg, Germany, July 18.—The grand fête of the German gymnasts began this morning. Twenty-five thousand participated. There are 200 in the American contingent, and teams are here from London, St. Petersburg, Cape Town, Shanghai and Melbourne. Seventy-eight special trains of gymnasts arrived this morning. The fête lasts five days. The annual meeting of the League of German Gymnasts will be held in conjunction with the fête tonight. It has 700,000 members.

Speculation Closes Mills

Mr. G. M. McDowell, general manager of the Ladd Metals Company, arrived in the city yesterday from the Iron Dyke mine, accompanied by Manager Frank E. Pearce, of the Iron Dyke, on a short business trip to the metropolis. Mr. McDowell was asked by the Democrat as to the plans of his company, and the report published in various papers that he had bought the Iron Dyke mine or had leased it. The reply came short and sharp.

"We have not bought the Iron Dyke mine, we have not leased it, and we have not even definitely contracted for its output. We are building a smelter, however, at the Iron Dyke, and will be prepared to take care of its ore, as well as other ores in the Seven Devils district and the Cornucopia district.

"You can say this much. We have shut down the lower workings in our mines at Mineral City during good weather, and are stopping out ore in the upper levels of our three mines there, because this work can be better done now than in the winter season. We will 'blow in' our smelter furnaces at Mineral City August 1st. We now have 10,000 tons of high-grade ore ready to run. The furnaces will handle 80 tons per day. At this same time we will commence to open out the mines, or slash down the mountain. We will shortly erect a new reverberatory furnace on the river for the purpose of handling the large tonnage of low grade ores of the camp.

The machinery for the Iron Dyke plant will arrive at Huntington about the 20th of this month, and will be moved down the river to Ballard's Landing. That plant will have a capacity of 75 tons of ore per day, and will be prepared, as I said before, to treat the ores of the Iron Dyke mine, the Seven Devils camp and the Cornucopia district. We will have that smelter in operation about October 1st, but we will be prepared by August 1st to contract for, accept and sample ore as it is delivered.

"Mr. W. H. Adams, the managing director of our company, accompanied me on the trip to the Iron Dyke mine. We are well pleased with the prospect for business in that territory—Baker City Democrat.

It has no wick to bother with, like the old-fashioned, yellow flame, smoking and smelling Oil Stove.

The "Quick Meal" Wickless" was invented to enable ladies to do their cooking quickly and comfortably in a cool kitchen, and to prepare a "Quick Meal" and eat it in comfort.

The "Quick Meal" drives drudgery from the kitchen and worry from the house; it sweetens temper and it lengthens sleep. "Quick Meal" Stoves make happy homes.

burg Myrtle Point stage, en route west, was starting to descend Moore hill, just the other side of Camas valley. Driver Duncan's foot slipped as he attempted to apply the brake, and the four horses attached to the vehicle were precipitated into a dead run down the incline. Dunes, in missing the brake, was thrown forward off of his seat, in front of the stage, which passed over him. The vehicle was a buckboard, containing four passengers, one of whom, an elderly gentleman, was hurt in a manner not yet learned, as full details of the affair have not been received at the local agency here. The horses were not hurt but one of the harness when discovered a half-mile from the scene by the driver coming from Myrtle Point to Camas valley. The injured driver and passengers are now at Camas valley.

Concerning City Licenses

City Recorder Judah has arranged for a meeting, to be held this evening in the city recorder's office, with the express and baggage transfer men of the city, to discuss that part of the new license ordinance relating to express licenses. The express men are anxious to have the provisions of the new law explained to them, and they want to know how far they will be protected in their business from outside men coming into the city to do teaming for hire, for a day at a time, without paying the licenses to which they are subjected. The various licenses, now in course of collection by the recorder, are as follows:

Was Soon Rebuilt

The quickest restoration work on record in the state of Oregon in the way of rebuilding a machinery plant entirely consumed by fire was completed yesterday by the Baker Gas & Electric Company.

May 30th, or just 45 days ago, the entire plant of the company was burned, and the city thrown into darkness. With characteristic energy and executive ability President J. J. Henry and Manager A. Welch went to work by telegraph ordering new machinery, and before the cinders of the old plant had stopped smoking had begun the work of replacing it with a modern steel structure. At 1 o'clock Tuesday night last the lights were turned on in Baker City again, and the people today have a better service than they ever had.—Baker City Democrat.

A Peoria Merchant Knows a Specific for Rheumatism

He Speaks From Experience for He Tried the Remedy Himself in a Case of Several Years Standing

In Peoria, Ill., everybody knows Mr. A. Strumpf whose fur store is located at No. 419 Main street. Mr. Strumpf's business takes him to New York city frequently and on one of these trips he learned of a specific for the cure of rheumatism which he tried with such unexpectedly good results that he is anxious that others should know of it. He says:

"Nearly everybody can tell you of a remedy for rheumatism but during the long years that I have suffered from this disease I never heard of but one thing that would cure it. I tried it myself and haven't had a touch of rheumatism since. In my case the disease did not trouble me all the time but at intervals the pain was very severe and medicine did not seem to have the least effect on it. On one of my visits to New York a friend who had been cured of rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advised me to try them. He was so enthusiastic that I did so and the result surprised me, for I had almost despaired of a permanent cure. The pains began to disappear before I had finished the first box and three boxes completely cured me. That was nearly two years ago so you see my cure was permanent. I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills every chance I get and know of many people whom the pills have benefited."

Rheumatism is always painful but few people know how really dangerous it is on account of the liability that it may attack the heart. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are especially well adapted for the treatment of this trouble through the blood (the only correct way) and their power in all disorders of the blood and nerves makes them of the greatest value in such stubborn diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, nervous headache, after-effects of the grip, of fevers, and of other acute diseases, palpitation of the heart, anaemia, pale and sallow complexions, and all forms of weakness. At all druggists, or direct from Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., fifty cents per box; six boxes for two dollars and a half.

The Peacock Case.

William P. Peacock, the man awaiting execution at the penitentiary for the murder of Alex. S. Kerr, at Parkers, Polk county, on May 18th, is well known to a large number of Salem people, who are very much interested in his fate, and are anxious to see his life saved. Peacock is about 35 years old, and was raised in the family of John Kerr, in North Salem, and attended the North Salem school when a boy, among his schoolmates being his foster brother, Alex. S. Kerr, later the victim of Peacock's rifle. The boy at that time manifested an aversion to his fellows, being very sensitive on account of his deformity. He was always known as a good boy, attending strictly to his own affairs, and troubling no one.

When John Kerr, the lad's benefactor died, it was found that he had provided for the welfare of the cripple, by leaving the latter $1500, with which to begin the battle of life. pity for the poor hunchback having evidently been the motive for this generous provision for Peacock's future. It is said, by those familiar with the facts in the case, that Alex. Kerr, the foster brother, was dissatisfied with the gift of this sum to the hunchback, and he came to dislike Peacock from that time, holding that the money left by his father should have rightfully come to him, instead of being given to one not rightfully a member of the family of the deceased. Bad blood between the two grew out of this legacy, and, Peacock, brooding over the matter, became impressed with the fact, (for fact he thought it was) that Alex. Kerr, his foster brother, was seeking an opportunity to do him bodily harm, and this grew into the belief, in his partially diseased mind, that Kerr was the head of an organized conspiracy against his life.

These facts will be brought before the governor next week, when the petition for the commutation of Peacock's sentence will come on for hearing, at a date to be fixed by the governor Monday or Tuesday, when that gentleman returns from Portland. The evidence of Peacock's mother and grandmother, given at the trial in Dallas, and showing that the condemned had always appeared as being mentally irresponsible, was filed in the governor's office this morning, and will be considered at the hearing of the petition.

When Peacock attended the North Salem school he was known as Willie Kerr, and his schoolmates did not know that his name differed from that of his foster father, and it was not until a few days ago that the identity of the man occupying the murderer's cell at the penitentiary, was he who was known in his boyhood days as Willie Kerr. After residing in North Salem for a number of years the family moved to Polk county, and the friends of the family give it as their belief that John Kerr died in Polk county after the removal of the family from Salem.

Chinese May Buy Arms. Peking, July 18.—The prohibition of the importation of arms and ammunition into China, as provided by the protocol, expires in August without protest.

The ministers have decided that the prohibition is useless and ineffective, and that the Chinese are capable of regulating the importation of war munitions. It also is admitted that they need arms in order to restore order in the disturbed provinces.
