Funeral This Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Agnes Kurtz was conducted from the First M. E. church, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, by Rev. John Parsons, and the remains were laid to rest in Rural cemetery. The pallbearers were Paul H. Sroat, U. J. Lehman, John W. Reynolds, W. P. George, F. A. Wiggins and J. E. Godfrey.

The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket. It was a dove-colored divan, open the full length, elegantly lined with pink and white silk, with a heavy silk fringe, and on this couch the remains recline in a perfectly natural position. Undertaker A. M. Clough furnished the casket and had charge of the funeral arrangements.

An Englewood Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Marsh, of Englewood, was the scene of a very pretty wedding last evening, when their only daughter, Myrtle Kathryn, became the bride of Mr. J. P. Kinder, of New York City. Dr. Parsons, of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony, using the beautiful Episcopal service.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white crepe de chine, and carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

Mrs. Kinder is one of Salem's most charming and accomplished young ladies, being prominent in social and educational circles. She is a graduate of Willamette, and was for several years a successful teacher in the city public schools. Later she went to Cornell University, graduating with high honors in 1902. Mrs. Kinder leaves a host of friends, who regret her departure, but join in wishing her a long life of wedded happiness.

Mr. Kinder is a business man of New York, being connected with the Liberty National bank, of that city.

They leave on this afternoon's train for the East, going via the Canadian Pacific, and stopping at the various points of interest.

After October 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Kinder will be at home in Ridgewood, New Jersey, a suburb of New York City.

Owing to the recent severe illness of the bride, the wedding was only attended by a few intimate friends.

When the New Scalp Antiseptic is Used.

A good head of hair is as much a "crown of glory" for man as it is for woman, notwithstanding all the poetry on the subject applied to the female sex exclusively. In the season when flies bite, the bald-headed man can sympathize with the Egyptians who were so sorely plagued on account of the children of Israel. Why not try Newbro's Herpicide? Others have been benefited and are loud in its praise. It cleanses the scalp, kills the germ at the root of the hair and by keeping the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, regardless of the temperature. Try it and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Daniel J. Fry, Special Agent, Salem.

Off for the Mountains

A merry party of pleasure seekers left Chemawa this morning for a two weeks' camping trip in the Cascade mountains; it consists of Mrs. F. French, Miss Etta M. French, Miss Bertha Hubbard, of Salem; Miss B.

Installed Officers

The officers of Centralia Temple, No. 14, Rathbone Sisters, the ladies' auxiliary of the Knights of Pythias, installed the officers for the term ending December 31st, next, at a meeting held in the hall of the lodge, in the Holman block, last evening. The new officers are:

Mrs. Emma Murphy-Brown, past chief; Mrs. Zella Gardner, most excellent chief; Mrs. Anna Culbertson, excellent senior; Mrs. Augusta Wiprut, excellent junior; Mrs. Lillian Olmsted, manager; Mrs. Elizabeth Stinson, mistress of records and correspondence; Mrs. Althea Pogue, mistress of finance; Mrs. Maggie Will, protector; Mrs. Clara Steusloff, guard of the outer temple; Mrs. Elizabeth Stinson, delegate to the grand lodge.

Engine Overhauled.

The old Slaby engine, belonging to the fire department has been overhauled and fitted with a new Fox water-tube boiler, and the repairs made will place the engine in better condition than it has been in years. The work will be completed tomorrow evening, when the engine will be turned over to the fire department, and will be installed for use as of yore.

Some Royal Cherries.

A Verciler brought to The Journal office a box of Lambert cherries which are finest sample thus far brought in. The Lambert is a cherry very much like the Royal Ann and the Bing, but is darker in color than the former, and lighter than the latter, but a fruit verily fit for a king, nine of the cherries laid on a yard-stick measuring over ten inches.

Some Choice Fruits.

C. F. Lansing, the Quaker nurseryman, that fellow who looks like Wm. Penn, and acts like him, has left a box of mulberries and another of ripe gooseberries for ye editor, and they are a wonder to even an Oregonian. Such fruit would be a surprise to the world at large.

The coolest, cleanest place in town for meals, or any kind of bread, cakes, pies, etc., is at Strong's restaurant.

Jim Dumps, at Buffalo, went through large mills, and more delighted grew at every step. "How clean!" said he. He saw them mingle skilfully Malt, wheat and sunshine—strength for him. "And that makes 'Force,'" nods "Sunny Jim."

crisp cleanliness and purity.

Cleanliness the Characteristic.

"I have thoroughly inspected the mills and the method of manufacturing the product called 'Force.' I find that the sole ingredients—wheat and extract of malt—are of the highest possible quality and of absolute purity, and that every step in the process of manufacture is characterized by perfect cleanliness. The final drying, or roasting, thoroughly sterilizes the product, and from the time the grain is delivered at the mill until the final sealing of the packages, the food is handled entirely by machinery."
