Police Force at Oyster Bay Talks About Costumes

Objects to Bathing Suits Being Worn on Streets or on the People

(Chicago Inter-Ocean.) In its normal condition, Oyster Bay, L. I. could not be regarded, by any stretch of the imagination,

When Oyster Bay is in a state of excitement—when the resident population is aroused for any reason to unusual commotion—there is nothing it so much resembles as a Sunday afternoon in Oak park or midnight on Davis street, Evanston.

No possible objection could be raised to this, however, if the people who are fond of being near the chief magistrate would only observe the conventionalities as they are understood in Oyster Bay.

On Saturday last the police department of Oyster Bay, which consists of Constable James McQuade, issued an order to guests at the Octagon house,

"I come," said Constable McQuade, "to say a few words. There's been a lot of indecent exposure going on in Oyster Bay since the president got here.

This would be sufficient warning for most persons, but it is doubtful if it will have the effect of restraining the New York visitors from their favorite pastime.

We fear Mr. McQuade does not realize the tremendous odds against him in this case.

"I come," said Constable McQuade, "to say a few words. There's been a lot of indecent exposure going on in Oyster Bay since the president got here.

If Other Lands Are Worth Such a Price

Who is, and Why are They Robbing the Coming Generations of Oregons School Children

That there will be a boom in the timber lands of Southern Oregon sooner or later seems to be no doubt. This section has recently been visited by several intending purchasers—whether for themselves or lumber syndicates we have no information—whose number is increasing.

Parties having timber land in a body should organize and pool their interests. Those who are selling their timber holdings for $10 to $15 per acre will see the day they will regret this action.
