SCHOOL
HOUSESGiven a General Over-Hauling This SummerProf. Traver Tireless in His Efforts to Better Both the Schools and BuildingsExtensive improvements are under way in the several school houses in the Salem district, and these are due in a large measure to the energy and good taste of Prof. L. R. Traver, the city superintendent, who is untiring in his efforts to better the schools under his charge in every way possible.Last spring the board of directors decided to complete the two unfinished rooms in the Park school as a measure of economy, the unfinished rooms requiring far more than their proportion of heat, owing to the warmth escaping through the unplastered walls. This set the ball rolling, and when the contract for the work was let Professor Traver took up the matter of improving all of the school buildings so far as it was in his power, and he has succeeded admirably.The North school has been also improved throughout, and the walls of the rooms in the structure appear as though newly plastered.The blackboards in all of the schools have been replaced, the old slate having become badly worn in many places. A radical change was made in doing this work, the color being changed, and green substituted for the old black. This is a great improvement on the former boards, and one that will be duly appreciated by the pupils who are compelled to do blackboard work.All the rooms in the Salem school buildings are now completed and ready for use, except two in the Lincoln school, and these will, in all likelihood be finished next summer. The two rooms finished this year in the Park school will not be used this coming school year, unless it is found necessary by reason of crowding, when they may be put to use during the coming winter months. In that case an additional teacher, or possibly two of them, will have to be employed. In the North school there are eight rooms, but only seven have been in use in the past. The eighth will this year be put to use, and the directors, at the annual election of teachers provided for this by electing an extra instructor.The remodeling and repairing of the school buildings was done by the several janitors, under the direction and with the help of Professor Traver, who put his vacation time in on improving the school rooms for the coming year.The new course of study for the Salem schools will be issued in a short time. It was in preparation last year, and this fall will be placed in the hands of the teachers and the patrons in printed form.Prof. E. W. Emmett, the new principal of the East school, has arrived, and will make his home with his parents, on Oak street. He is a graduate of Stanford University, and a teacher of wide experience. He is an athlete, and while at Stanford played football with a vengeance. When the Spanish-American war broke out he enlisted in the First California Volunteers, and served 17 months in the Philippines.Prof. Traver, the superintendent, recently received a very flattering offer from Portland. Prof. J. O. Hall, principal of the Mount Tabor schools, has resigned and the position was offered to Mr. Traver, the place paying $1150 a year as against $1000 received by him as superintendent here. However, he turned down the offer, and will remain with the Salem schools.The school will open Monday, September 29th, for the fall term.WILL THEY REVIVEPopulists Meet at Denver and Bury DifferencesIssue an Address to the Public Stating the Aims and Objects of the PartyThe conference of populists which has been in session for two days at Denver adjourned sine die Tuesday night. The resolutions committee reported an address to the public which was adopted, declaring that all differences between the two factions of the party have been settled. It is expected that the two national committees which meet here tomorrow will ratify this action. The committee appointed to select the members of a committee of one from each state on organization to work in connection with the national committees was unable to complete its work, and it was, by resolution, empowered to complete the committee at its leisure. The gentlemen to whom this important work is delegated are J. A. Edgerton, of Colorado; Milton Park, of Texas; J. H. Calderhead, of Montana, and C. Q. Du France, of Nebraska. They are to be members of the larger committee when it is completed.Address to the Public.
At the afternoon session the following address was reported by the committee on resolutions and was adopted:The manifest political unrest which everywhere appears in the nation demonstrates the dissatisfaction of the American people with the present management of the government and argues the necessity of the reform forces coming together in united action at the ballot box to obtain proper legislation whereby the right of the people to self-government may be had for themselves and their posterity. Therefore, we, the populists of the United States, having this day at the city of Denver, Colorado, united our forces, with the distinct understanding that all past differences as to policy shall be and now are permanently settled, and experience having demonstrated the futility of any attempt to secure the enactment of our principles through either the republican or democratic parties, we believe the time is now at hand when the united people's party should declare itself emphatically opposed to any affiliation with either of these parties and unqualifiedly in favor of independent national political action."Our fundamental principles are known of all populists and are no where better stated than in that immortal document enunciated at Omaha July 14, 1892. However, for the benefit of the uninformed, we declare our unyielding adherence to the demands for: (A) A money, whether stamped on gold, silver or paper, to be coined and used exclusively by the government and made a full legal tender for all debts both public and private; (B) A system of transportation and the transmission of intelligence, owned by the public and operated by the government at the cost of service; (C) Land for use rather than for speculation, and abolition of alien ownership of lands; (D) American ships for American foreign commerce, without a cent of subsidy. And as an open door for all economic reforms, we urge the rule of the people through the optional referendum and initiative and the recall of delinquent officials."Confidence in the justice of the principles here set forth impel us to be firmly convinced that their triumph in government would be for the best interest of all the people, and we call upon the patriotic citizens of this country to join with us in bringing about their enactment into law. With these principles firmly established, equal justice would prevail, special privileges would be eliminated, and ours would be, as patriots everywhere desire, a government of the people, for the people, and by the people."WILLIAM VAN ALLEN,

FRANK W. POWERS."Members of the Committee." The afternoon session was largely taken up in short addresses. The committee to nominate an organization committee reported its inability to complete its work at this time, and its members were made the organization committee, with power to add to its membership one man from each state and territory in the union. This committee is to carry on the work of organization until the meeting of the next national convention, when it is expected that formal organization of the two populist parties will occur.The conference adjourned this evening.Trib for sale at the Palace Phar-cently furnished the builders, that is,

The CanneryAccording to a dispatch from Washington, war is brewing among the salmon packing interests on the Pacific coast. It says: "An order issued by the secretary of the treasury today directing collectors of customs to allow a rebate of 95 per cent of the duty collected on all salmon imported from British Columbia for canning and export is expected to foreshadow a protracted war between the salmon canners of the North Pacific coast and of British Columbia. Complaint has been made repeatedly to the treasury department, particularly by salmon canners of Puget sound, that their trade is being materially interfered with by Canadian canners. They allege that under tariff concessions allowed by the Canadian government the British Columbian canners have not only been exporting their own salmon to the United States in large quantities, but have been able to buy American salmon on Puget sound at a less price than they could procure fish at home, and by taking advantage of the drawback have been able to can this salmon in Canadian canneries and then enter it in the American trade, where it comes in competition with the salmon of the Columbia river and of Puget sound. The Puget sound canners maintain that they are greatly injured in this way, and asked for the rebate in order that they might not only meet the British Columbia packers in this country, but could retaliate by canning British Columbia salmon, and, as they believe, they can put it on the Canadian market at a cost as low as can be afforded by the Canadian packers. The treasury department admits that there is an inconsistency in the claims set up by the Puget sound packers, yet it is willing to grant the rebate if it will assist the Northwestern salmon packers to meet those across the border. The order issued today is subject to modifications, a special agent having been instructed to visit these canneries and take advantage of the rebate and determine what percentage of imported salmon is not returned to Canada after packing."For a Miners ConventionThe call for a congress of mining men of the state to be held in Portland September 7th is meeting with popular favor. A miners' association will be formed. J. H. Fisk, who was one of the instigators of the movement to have a big convention of all the diverse mining interests in Portland, states that the names of those who will attend are coming in by mail from all parts of the state. Calls are being circulated and signed in numerous places.The call states the object of the meeting and proposed organization as follows:"We, the undersigned mining men of Oregon, realizing that the important and highly remunerative industry of mining in the state of Oregon has, during the past few years, been prostrated with greatly renewed energy and vigor, and that the mining industry of the state is rapidly becoming one of paramount importance, engaging the attention of a large number of our people, and calling for the employment of a large amount of professional skill and knowledge, and believing further that the time has now arrived when the mining industry of the state of Oregon demands the formation of an association of mining men of the state, to better protect, develop and foster the mineral wealth and resources of Oregon, together with water rights and privileges pertaining thereto, and in view of the constant and increasing demand for information relative to the investment of capital in Oregon mines, and also in view of the fact that nearly all lines and branches of business are organized for mutual protection and benefit, hereby call a convention of mining men of the state of Oregon, and respectfully request that representatives of the mining interests in each county of the state of Oregon assemble at Portland, Or., September 7, 1903, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce building, for the purpose of organizing a Miners' Association of the State of Oregon, adopting a constitution and by-laws, and transacting such other business as may be deemed desirable to promote the best interests of the mines and mining industry of the state."

High Honors for Lipton.

Highlands, N. J., July 30.—On his return to New York harbor yesterday, Sir Thomas Lipton was for the first time recognized as of equal rank to an admiral. When the Erin passed the New York City police boat Patrol the latter ran the Shamrock, Sir Thomas private flag to her forepeak, and saluted Sir Thomas with 13 guns, an admiral's salute.Sir Thomas Lipton said today that there was no truth whatever in the report of a change of captains of the two Shamrocks. It had been asserted that Captain Bevis, of Shamrock I, would be shifted to the challenger, Sir Thomas said today he had heard nothing as to any race between the Columbia and the Shamrock I.The Pope ParagraphedHe never tolerated gossip.
His palace has 10,000 rooms.
He contemplated labor unions.
He was an expert chess player.
He called himself "the little old man."
He was a reverential admirer of nature.
He was a diligent reader of newspapers.
Dante and Virgil were his favorite poets.
His favorite relaxation was writing poetry.
His table expenses did not exceed 20 cents a day.
He was owner and landlord of a dwelling in Paris.
His brother, Cardinal Joseph, lived to the age of 84.
He kept his private account with the Bank of England.
His private safe was in his own apartment. He carried the key himself.
He wrote better Latin than any other living writer in the Church of Rome.
He never recognized the Italian king as anything more than the king of Sardinia.
He never forgot a face and remembered every Catholic who ever did the church a service.
He was a habitual snuff user, the tobacco being prepared in Baltimore especially for him.

wonderful carrying power.
In the Vatican he had a fixed rule for the dress of all inmates to be worn at every hour of the day.
It is said that his attendant used to pick him up and carry him about the Vatican as if he were a child.
So regular were his habits that his servants could tell by glancing at the clock what he was doing at that moment.It is estimated that during his pontificate he amassed a fortune of $30, 000,000, half of which was in gifts of gold, silver and precious stones.Patiently and without apparent prejudice, he examined the doctrines of the socialists.His handwriting was as beautiful and as legible as print, which it resembled more nearly than script.He was economical, almost parsimonious, in his personal expenditures, but prodigal in founding schools and missions.Paul Kruger is said to have presented the pope with the largest diamond in the world, valued at $4,000,000.Throughout his career he cordially welcomed every improvement and invention, from the railroad to the automobile.In his youth he acquired a practical knowledge of vine culture and put it to good use in the Vatican vineyard.On fine summer days he spent nearly all his time in the Vatican garden, transacting business and granting audiences in the pavilion.—Pittsburg Dis-

WHO KNOWS

When His Kidney Trouble Has Fastened and Reached the Chronic Stage? If It Has It Is Incurable by Anything Known Except the Fulton Compounds.
We Are The Sole Agents.As an evidence of the unusual character of the Fulton Compounds that company does not publish or invite testimonials except those reporting recoveries in kidney diseases that have reached the chronic stage, alleged to be incurable. Here is another recovery in a case incurable till the advent of the Fulton Compounds, reported by John A. Johnson, the agent of the Fulton Compounds in Los Gatos:W. H. Fridley, a resident of Los Gatos, having chronic kidney disease (Bright's Disease) had, like everybody else, found all treatment futile. He commenced on Fulton's Kidney Compound in February, 1903, and on December 10 of the same year reported the total disappearance of the disease. He writes that he has gained fifteen pounds in weight and is again able to do a good hard day's work. John A.
Johnson, the Los Gatos druggist, confirms this recovery and knows of several other recoveries in similar cases of chronic kidney disease in Los Gatos, all of which were incurable by anything else known to druggists. S. A. Palmer, the leading druggist of Santa Cruz, H. H. Maynard, the Peabody druggist, the Perry Drug Company of No. 8 Market street, San Francisco, W.
R. Bond, the Berkeley druggist, Dr. Markley, the Cleveland druggist, Willis A. Martin, the Sacramento druggist, and scores of other California druggists all report specific recoveries in chronic kidney diseases that were positively incurable by anything known except the Fulton Compounds.Droopy, rheumatism from uric acid, gout and bladder troubles are proofs that the kidneys are not performing their functions. The chronic stage of kidney trouble is Bright's Disease. If you feel languid or miserable, if your kidney trouble hangs on send for Pamphlet. Percentage of recoveries nearly 90 per cent among purely chronic cases. Fulton's Kidney Compound

New Way to Pick Berries.

On the headwaters of Buffalo creek, in Natural Bridge district, Rockbridge county, resides a farmer of considerable means, who owns many broad acres. Blackberries are abundant in his fields this year, and it is said the farmer declared he would marry the first woman found gathering berries in his fields on Monday morning.That morning thirteen women were in the field gathering berries, and strange to relate, ten of them had not been seen engaged in that occupation.
Each of the women claimed, it is said, to have been first on the ground at work, according to the word "passed around" by the owner of the land. The people of the community await the result with interest.—Baltimore Sun.If you want to feel good just about
