ARTO IS NOW POPE

Elected This Morning and Selects Title of Leo X

Sixty Eight Years of Age and the Late Leo's Choice
as His Successor

Venice, Aug. 4.—The news of Sarto's election caused great popular excitement and delight; the city is illuminated tonight.

London, Aug. 4.—The Central News says Sarto was elected by 45 votes. The Rampolla party transferred its entire strength to him.

Sarto is the man Leo hoped would succeed him. More than a year ago he expressed the belief that Sarto would be the next Pope. One of his great characteristics is his modesty, coupled with his energy. In many quarters it is believed his reign is likely to see an agreement between the Vatican and Quirinal.

Years ago Sarto publicly announced his joy when it seemed such a union might be effected. He was Humbert's warm personal friend, and was greatly admired by King Emanuel. He was the only man in the church that Leo admired and called his friend. His election is hailed with joy throughout Rome, even the officials showing their relief.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The first news of Sarto's election was conveyed to Mr. Falconio this morning by the Scripps Association. He was much pleased at the choice for Pope, expressing great faith in his executive ability. Mr. Merry Delavel, recently elected secretary of the conclave, and former apostolic delegate to Canada, has been made a cardinal by Pope Pius X.

Rome, Aug. 4.—6:30—Some details of the election of Pius X leaked out this evening. Sarto had 35 votes last night, so his election this morning was generally expected by the sacred college. Even though he knew this, Sarto showed great emotion as the ballots were being tallied. As his name was again and again read he turned pale, while the surrounding cardinals commenced whispering congratulations. While the ballot was being verified he left the throne and knelt at the altar in prayer. He was in that position when Oresilia approached and asked: "Do you accept the election?" He remained silent for some time, his face buried in his hands, then raised his head, looked around, slowly rose to his feet, and gravely acquiesced.

Rome, Aug. 4.—Cardinal Joseph Sarto, patriarch of Venice, is elected Pope, and has decided on the name of Pius X. He was born June 2, 1835, at Belluno, and was created cardinal June 22, 1893.

He is one of the most learned of the cardinals, and is noted for his liberal views. His charities have gained for him the affection of the multitudes of his See. His election looks like a compromise, as Sarto has taken little part in the politics of the Vatican, but upon those few occasions he has opposed Rampolla's plans. It is probable that, as Pope, he will devote himself to religious affairs, paying small attention to politics, except to urge conciliation. Like Leo, he has promise of a long life, as his aged mother is still alive, and lives at Reise, where she is often visited at her humble home by Sarto. He had no expectation of the pontificate, and bought a round-trip ticket when he left Venice to attend the conclave. Details of the voting are not yet fully known, but it is learned, however, that Herrera, Cretini, Svampa, Azelex, Coullis and Mocerani were too ill to go to the voting chamber. The populace has been certain the election would take place today, this being St. Dominic's day, the saint whose shield bears the picture of a dog with a flaming torch in his mouth, and the inscription "Ignis Ardens." When Macehl announced the election, only those in the immediate vicinity understood the name. The crowd shouted "Who?" Macehl waved silence and repeated loudly "Cardinal Sarto, who calls himself Pius X." The crowd within the church murmured its approbation, while the throng outside repeatedly shouted the name. From all sides the crowd commenced to rapidly increase, jamming the doorways and windows to await his blessing.

The crowd at St. Peter's at 10:45 this morning watching the stovpipe was the largest that has gathered since the beginning of the conclave, and numbered about 12,000. When the government saw the enormous streams wending their way to St. Peter's, it increased the number of troops, in order to suppress promptly any disorder, such as whistling, cat-calls or sarcastic shouts, should the ballot fail to elect. This spirit was shown somewhat at last night's ballot. The first news was that Cardinal Herrera, of Spain, who was reported dying yesterday, had passed a fairly comfortable night, but his condition is grave. At 11:40 Cardinal Macehl, secretary of the Apostolic Briefs, appeared on the outside balcony of the Vatican. The silence was abruptly broken, when he announced in a clear voice that Sarto is the next Pope. Five minutes later the new pontiff appeared inside the balcony, and blessed the people. Sarto is from the Venetian provinces. He began his studies at his native place, passed to the college Castile Franco, where he was ordained priest, although young he was given the parish of Tombolo; but was transferred to a larger parish in 1867. Bishop Treviso, recognizing Sarto's great merit and ability, nominated him canon of the cathedral, where he became vicar-general.

In 1884 he was made bishop of Mantova. Here his real activity and cleverness and scope were not long in coming to the front. In 1892, at the age of 58, he was chosen Patriarch of Venice, but the government refused its permission, because of some political act of his. It was a long time before he obtained it, and when he was given the patriarchate he was made cardinal.

Lord Curzon Will Remain

Sila, India, Aug. 4.—Lord Curzon has announced his acceptance of the government's invitation to extend his term of office as viceroy.

ELOPES WITH A CONVICT

Elliott Parkhursts Wife Skips out with Harry Riley

Met Him While He was in the Pen, and Report says She was also Mashed on Tracey

Portland, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Elliott Parkhurst, a young wife, aged 35, eloped with Harry Riley, an ex-convict, and is believed to be in Seattle. Mrs. Parkhurst is a daughter of ex-Warden James, of the Salem penitentiary. Her mother is a sister of ex-Governor Geer. Riley served two years in San Quentin, and was again sentenced to five years in Salem. While there he met young Mrs. Parkhurst, who often visited her parents. Both are said to have fallen in love. Last Saturday Riley came here from the penitentiary, released. He was met by Mr. Parkhurst, who married Miss James seven years ago and who did not know of the attachment. He felt a kindly interest in Riley, and took him home. Late Saturday night, while en route home, Riley assaulted Parkhurst and beat him almost to death. A hack drove up, and Mrs. Parkhurst appeared on the scene. The ex-convict and the woman got in, and that was the last seen of them. Riley had told friends that he intended going to Seattle for a few days, and then to his old home in Chicago. Parkhurst is well-to-do, an ex-deputy sheriff well-known at the Salem penitentiary.

Insane Man's Night Ride

A dispatch from Dayton, Or., last night says: A sorry sight presented itself here this morning. Judge Townsend, of Dallas, Or., who has been more or less insane for some time past, escaped his guard at Dallas about 10 o'clock Sunday night, and walked, in his night robes, across the country from Dallas to Dayton, a distance of 28 miles, arriving at 7 o'clock this morning. On his way Judge Townsend stopped at Wallace Goodrich's house, some distance from Dayton, where he found a bicycle, which he rode to the house of Mrs. Cain, near Dayton. There he was recognized, and taken to the court house at Dayton and cared for. He is in a pitiable condition of body and mind. His legs are so swollen as to make it hard to cover them with large-size overalls, and his feet are enlarged and bruised in a terrible manner. He is unable to stand, and cannot speak. Judge Townsend is a very heavy man, weighing upwards of 200 pounds, and it is thought that this terrible night's experience may prove fatal, especially as the night was cold. Judge Townsend was Bryan's right hand man and stump speaker for Oregon, and also Democratic delegate to the Chicago convention that nominated Bryan. He was one of the ablest lawyers in this state, and prosecuting attorney of Polk county. He will be taken home this evening by train.

Getting Balled up

Keuka Park, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Members of the Ball family are rounded up here from many parts of the United States and Canada for their third annual reunion. Several thousand persons have been enrolled as members of the family association, and among them are a number of men and women of note. As a perpetual memorial to the family, it has been decided to change the name of Keuka College to Ball College. The college was founded by the Rev. George H. Ball, D. D. It is proposed to have an archive in the college library, in which will be preserved all books, pamphlets, manuscripts and genealogical matter produced by or relating to any member of the Ball family.

Logs Rolled Over Him

Benjamin Stroup, a citizen of Aurora, but employed at Creswell on the Southern Pacific pile driver, operating at that place, this morning suffered an accident that will most likely cost him his life. In some manner he slipped and fell in front of a moving pile of logs. Four of the heavy, rolling timbers rolled over him, and he was picked up unconscious from where he lay. The accident happened at 11:30 o'clock, and Dr. Scarborough was summoned. He examined the injured man, and found that he could hardly recover from his injuries. He was treated as well as possible in Creswell, and put aboard the northbound passenger train this afternoon, bound for Portland. Dr. D. A. Paine was telephoned to accompany him, and he went as far as Irving. He could do nothing more for him, and returned on the next train. The injured man was taken to Portland, where he will be treated in the S. P. Hospital. When asked as to the nature of the injuries Dr. Paine replied that the blow received had been one of the worst kind of solar plexus blows, and that the man's life was in great danger.—Eugene Guard.

Gold in Clackamas

Oregon City, Or., Aug. 4.—Great excitement, not without cause, prevails in the southern part of Clackamas county, because of recent discoveries by local mining prospectors. Gold in immensely paying quantities has been located on claims that have been repeatedly worked and prospected for the last ten years, but the hidden wealth was never disclosed before. The discovery was made about 10 years ago by local and Portland people who recently acquired title to the land. Samples that will assay between $200 and $3000 to the ton have been brought to this city by the interested owners. Intense excitement exists and hundreds of fortune-hunters are making for the scene of the discovery. The claims are on Ogle creek, a tributary to the Molalla river, about 55 miles from this city. The discovery has caused no little excitement in this city and throughout the Molalla country, as that section will profit largely by the successful working of the claims.

Geodetic Conference

Copenhagen, Aug. 4.—The permanent international geodetic commission began its sessions today in the Parliament Building and will remain in session for two weeks. Delegates from nearly all the twenty-one countries composing the commission are present. The representative of the United States is Dr. O. H. Tittmann, superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic survey, and recognized as one of the ablest men of his profession in the entire world. The object of the commission is to secure international co-operation in the measurement of the figure of the earth. The commission exists by virtue of treaties between the various governments which are conducting geodetic operations.

More Land Withdrawn

Oregon City, Or., Aug. 4.—Nine townships of land in Clackamas, Marion and Linn counties were withdrawn from settlement Monday afternoon, upon telegraphic orders from Acting Commissioner of the Land Office Fimble. The townships are: from 5 to 12, inclusive, in range 4 east, immediately adjoining the Cascade forest reserve on the east. Each township contains 36,000 acres, and the whole number of acres in the nine townships withdrawn is 324,000. All of township 11 and two-thirds of township 12 are unsurveyed land. Of the whole area withdrawn from settlement $1,320,000 acres are vacated land, of which 24,400 acres are unsurveyed. The action of the general land office is construed to mean that the interior department is desirous of extending the reserve.

To Protect The Wireless

Berlin, Aug. 3.—At the international wireless telegraphy conference which began its sessions in Berlin today the United States is ably represented by Brigadier-General A. W. Greely. Other countries represented are Great Britain, France, Holland, Germany, Belgium, Austria, Russia and Italy. The purpose of the conference is to discuss international regulations, to make recommendations for the adoption of the various governments and to secure the enactment of uniform laws regarding wireless telegraphy. It is not expected that the conference will go further than take up general principles.

For Standard Wage Scale

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The conductors' and trainmen's union of the Rock Island, presented a demand for a standard wage scale. There are many points of difference, and the conference will probably be extended over several days.

YOUNG GIRL KILLED

Mabel, the Daughter of Sheriff Richards of Assotin Co.

Assaulted While on Her Way to Sunday School and Then Struck With a Club

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 4.—The body of Mabel Richards, the 13-year-old daughter of Sheriff Richards, of Assotin county, was found in a thicket near Anatone Monday by a party of searchers. The girl had been killed by a blow with a heavy club, which was lying near her body. She lay in a pool of blood, while all around were traces of a terrific struggle, showing that the girl had fought for her honor. The girl had started for Sunday school Sunday morning, leaving other children to take a shorter route. When she did not appear at Sunday school an alarm was given and search followed all day Sunday and until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when searchers came across the body in a clump of trees. The girl had been outraged and most of her clothing had been torn from her body. Her brains were oozing from the wound in her head. Philip Hamilton, a farmer, living near Anatone, is suspected, and was placed under arrest. He denies all knowledge of the affair. The coroner is still investigating. There is much lynch talk in the air, and the sheriff may be called upon to protect the life of the man who assaulted and killed his daughter, if the right man is apprehended.

A Great Barley Sale

The largest sale of barley ever made in the Pacific Northwest was consummated at Dayton, Wash., yesterday, when Henry Weinhard, of Portland, purchased 200,000 sacks of No. 1 brewing barley from a number of Columbia county farmers, who had pooled their crops for the purpose of securing a higher figure than was obtainable for small lots. Not only is this the largest transaction in barley ever recorded in Oregon or Washington, but the price paid is well up toward the record. The lot was secured at $1 per cental in Dayton, which is equivalent to about $24 per ton in Portland. News of the transaction was first received from the Dayton end of the line, all of the Portland exporters having representatives at Dayton at the time endeavoring to buy the barley for export. Thus far they have purchased but little, the competition being so fierce that the farmers have played one buyer against another so successfully that the price has steadily advanced.

They Will Play Tennis

Boston, Mass., Aug. 2.—The International tennis matches for the Dwight L. Davis challenge trophy, which opened today on the grounds of the Longwood Cricket Club, promises to be a record-breaker both in point of attendance and in the matter of exciting contests. The American team that is defending the trophy is composed of W. A. Larned, R. D. Wrenn and G. L. Wrenn, Jr. The players representing Great Britain are R. F. Doherty, H. F. Doherty and H. S. Mahoney. Today was devoted to the first match in singles, and tomorrow the doubles will be played.

Murdered The Innocent

Lowisburg, Tenn., Aug. 4.—Needmore, colored settlement, east of the city, was invaded by white-caps last night, after midnight. Two negro men were called from their houses, and, when they attempted to escape by the back doors, were riddled with bullets and buckshot. The cause of the shooting is not known, as neither had committed any crime. The white-caps were mostly mounted, the others in buggies. The coroner's jury this morning found a verdict of death by an unknown mob.

Inspecting Water Mains

The Salem Water Company is making its annual inspection of the water main between the crib in the Willamette river and the pumping station to see if any leaks exist in the pipe where it crosses the slough. Wm. Bennett is making the investigation, for which purpose he dons a diver's suit, and investigates the condition of the pipe on the bottom of the slough. The work of inspection is in progress this afternoon, and will be continued until every inch of the big water main has been subjected to a careful examination. If any leaks should be discovered the pipe will be thoroughly overhauled and repaired, to prevent the slough water from entering the main.

New York, Aug. 4.—On the steamer Segurica, which arrived here today from Panama was Cashier Sherwood, charged with embezzling hundreds of thousands of dollars from the Southport, Conn., National bank. He came voluntarily with the detectives, and says that when he fled he crossed the continent to San Francisco, and took the steamer to Panama. He is penniless.
