

A CURSORY GLANCE

Take even a cursory glance at the contents of the Barr Store, and you will have no difficulty in recognizing the choice and exquisite nature of the bulk of its offerings. This is no vending place for common place things, but a storehouse of all that is newest, most voguel and most deliciously tasty in jewelry and kindred lines, including cut glass and silverware. We take pride in up-to-dateness and the styles we show in all kinds of goods that we handle are as correct as would be found in the very best jewelry stores in the largest eastern cities. As for prices, they are always at the lowest point to which we can consistently afford to put them.

Fought only One Round

Two young men from the country engaged in a one-round mill in front of the Savage & Reid feed store, on North Commercial street this afternoon, and quite a lively time was had for a few minutes, to the great amusement of the spectators. The round was a splendid exhibition of waving arms and dodging heads, and when the two would-be pugilists stopped the violent exercise they were blowing like porpoises and it was a full minute before they could continue the battle royal—with their mouths. Honors were given when both contestants withdrew from the ring, and there was no gore, nor were the services of a surgeon required.

AMATEUR NIGHT AT SHIELDS

Some Wonderful Attractions Provided for Tonights Entertainment

It is safe to say that the large seating capacity of Shields' Park will be taxed tonight when the array of "amateur" talent appears in connection with the regular professional program. The performance is scheduled to begin promptly at 8 o'clock, and it is requested that all be in their seats by that time. A very ludicrous program has been arranged, and the way the crowd will laugh at the various amateur stunts will be a caution. Hans Hockenstein, the funny fellow who does an acrobatic German act, will possibly appear again.

Frank Truckee, the favorite black-face comedian, will be seen in an entire new make-up after the style of "Weary Willie."

Jeffie New, who sings all the latest ballads with the greatest ease, will be heard again.

J. W. Myers will introduce a beautiful illustrated song, entitled "The Little Place I Call Home."

Rube Landon, who holds the championship for slack wire walking in the rural districts, announces that he will do a stunt on his mother's clothes line.

Cooke Patton will in all probability appear in a hypnotic demonstration and will introduce some startling tests, among them will be "Human Statuary," "Mishaps of the Photographer," "Human Chain" and others.

There are other amateurs who expect to appear in buck and wing dancing, etc., but they wish their identity withheld for the time being.

Those who witnessed last week's "amateur bill" pronounced it a corking good one, but tonight it will be better and more laughable, and from the interest now being taken it looks as though standing room will be at a premium.

Give Them A Surprise

Thursday being the 63d anniversary of Mrs. C. E. Sherwood's birthday, and also the 25th anniversary of Mrs. Matheny's marriage, the ladies of the W. C. T. U. gave them a pleasant surprise. Both ladies are members of the organization. Mrs. Matheny being its honored president. Early in the afternoon, a wagon with a big hay rack, on which were two cushioned seats running its whole length, was backed up in front of the hall, next to the Journal office; the ladies to the number of 20 piled on, chattering like so many school girls bound for a picnic, and were driven to Mrs. Matheny's home, the other side of the river. With congratulations, luncheon, talk, and more congratulations, the afternoon passed swiftly, the party returning shortly before 6, delighted with their visit.

London, Aug. 21.—Although no authoritative announcement has been made it is learned from intimate friends of Lady Constance Mackenzie that her wedding to Captain Fitzgerald of the Eleventh Hussars will take place early in October. It is expected that the event will be attended by a number of persons prominent in American society as Lady Mackenzie is popular with the American contingent in London and is also personally known in the United States having spent the winter two years ago in Florida and New York.

Death of John S. Walton.

John Spencer Walton, for many years a resident of Salem, died suddenly last evening at his home, No. 395 Center street, of heart disease, aged 79 years and four months.

Deceased had been ailing for about a year, but was not considered in any danger, and last evening was in his usual good spirits. At a little before 9 o'clock he prepared to retire and on reaching his bed, fell over, dead.

Deceased was a native of Yorkshire, England, and came to the United States in 1855, coming direct to Oregon, where he joined his brother, Judge James Walton, and the two engaged in the sheep business. About 30 years ago the Waltons came to Salem and have resided here since that time. Deceased served in the state land office for a time, and since leaving the office had lived in retirement.

Deceased leaves a widow, one brother, Judge James Walton, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Cannon, of Liverpool and Mrs. Harriett Badger, of Bolton, England. He was married in 1883 to Mrs. Mary Banget, who survives him.

Mr. Walton was a devout and faithful member of the Episcopal church, and the highest type of a Christian gentleman; and throughout his life was noted for his sterling qualities and benevolent actions. The funeral will be held from the residence, No. 395 Center street, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Wm. Coney, rector of St. Paul's, officiating, and interment will be had in the Rural cemetery.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

A SURSICAL OPERATION
is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.
