

Time and Tide Wait for No Man.

But time seems to wait (and to one's great inconvenience) when a sluggish watch manages to "lose a little time" every day. This is a most inconvenient and disadvantageous habit for any watch to acquire, and if your watch is one of the many that has gotten into it, we advise you to break it of the habit at once. We will undertake the task of reforming its idiosyncrasies and making it a perfect time keeper once more—and our charges will not be at all exorbitant. Thoroughly competent men are at your command here for watch clock or jewelry repairing of any kind.

Probably Three New Wards.

Recorder Judah has been ordered to draw up an ordinance creating new wards for the territory that will be covered part of the city on October 1st. He will have the new ordinance ready for the first session of the city council in October, when the new charter goes into effect.

A canvass of members of the city council shows that most of the aldermen favor a division of the new territory into about three wards, as follows:

North Salem into a ward comprising all north of the present city limits and west of the Southern Pacific railroad. South Salem into a ward all south of the city and west of the railroad East Salem, all east of the city limits not included in the above wards. This would have the effect to give Greater Salem fourteen aldermen, six in the new territory and eight in the older part of the city.

The Boys in Camp

The First Regiment of the Oregon National Guard went into camp at Gearhart Park Thursday afternoon and will remain there for 10 days. A special train of 13 coaches brought the soldiers down while the horses for the officers came down on the Hassalo this morning and were ridden down to the encampment. Immediately upon reaching the camp the men will be put under United States army regulations, and the strictest rules of army life will be observed. The usual maneuvers of the militia will be indulged in, and the boys given a taste of real hard work. The morning drill will be one of the features of early hours, and then the day will begin, which consists of every movement laid down in the catalogue of military life. All the plans for the encampment have not been fully arranged, and the orders will not be issued until the men get into camp. There will be an inspection of the troops by General Summers, and it is reported that this event will take place next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.—Astoria Budget.

Shields Park Closes Sunday

Shields' Park was well attended last night, and that the audience was highly entertained, the hearty laughter and continued applause attested. Cooke Patton added to the pleasure of the amateur performance by giving a slight of hand performance that was thoroughly appreciated. Weather permitting, the usual program will be given tonight, and there will also be one more performance tomorrow night, and for this big closing event Manager Shields will send up from his Portland park two new acts—the Brownsons, who will be seen in a new comedy. This clever team are now the top-liners on the Portland bill and have scored an immense success.

The LaMaynes, a musical team of unusual excellence, will also appear, while another lot of special views on the polyscope is promised. If it rains the park will remain closed indefinitely. Those who have failed to witness the current attraction will have an opportunity to do so tonight.

Looney-Huffman Wedding.

At the home of the bride's parents, at high noon Wednesday, September 2, Miss Addie B. Looney and Edward J. Huffman were united in marriage. Rev. P. S. Knight officiating. The large farm residence was handsomely decorated, the parlors in white and green, the bridal couple standing under a basket of flowers. The wedding march was played by Miss Ruby Cornell. The ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride. They were the recipients of many handsome presents. A splendid wedding banquet was served after which the bride and groom drove to this city and took the 4 p. m. train for Portland, followed by showers of rice and good wishes. The bride is a daughter of Hon. D. H. Looney and is a deservedly popular young lady. The groom is a resident of Salem. The best wishes of all our people follow the happy couple to their temporary home at Mt. Angel.—Jefferson Review.

Wittsachen-Griswold.

The handsome home of Street Commissioner George Griswold, at Fourteenth and Lee streets, in this city, was the scene of fulfillment of one of Fate's happiest edicts on Wednesday afternoon, September 2, 1903, when, at the hour of 4 o'clock, Rev.

P. S. Knight, the veteran welder of human hearts and lives, said the words that united and blessed the destinies of Miss Cora E. Griswold and Mr. Royal B. Wittsachen. The wedding was witnessed by the families of the high contracting parties only.

The house was decorated with ferns and cut flowers, and the happy couple gave their life pledges beneath a lovely creation of maidenhair fern and sweet peas. The bride was habited in a traveling suit of dark brown, with picture hat to match.

Mrs. Wittsachen is thoroughly, and most happily, known in Salem, which has been her home for years, and her departure for newer fields will be keenly felt by a concourse of friends who must be content with the knowledge of her future happiness and prosperity. Her husband is a young and successful business man of Oregon City, and at that place the young people will begin their career of home-building, after a short tour of the Sound cities. While congratulations are fitting broadcast, Oregon City is entitled to a share of felicitations, which are gratefully extended.

School Girls
Young girls at this period of life, or their mothers, are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; all such letters are strictly confidential; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; and her advice is freely and cheerfully given.

School days are danger days for American girls. Often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality. Sometimes it is never recovered. Perhaps they are not over-careful about keeping their feet dry; through carelessness in this respect the monthly sickness is usually rendered very severe. Then begin ailments which should be removed at once, or they will produce constant suffering. Headache, faintness, slight vertigo, pains in the back and loins, irregularity, loss of sleep and appetite, a tendency to avoid the society of others, are symptoms all indicating that woman's arch-enemy is at hand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many a young girl over this critical period. With its proper use the young girl is safe from the peculiar dangers of school years and prepared for hearty womanhood.

A Young Chicago Girl "Studied Too Hard."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more. — LILLIS E. SINGLAIN, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill."

"Miss Pratt Unable to Attend School."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months. I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness." — MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life. $5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.
