Canadians Call on us to Settle Their Troubles

American Militia Called Over the Line to Quiet a Gang of Enraged Finns

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Sept. 28.—Fifteen hundred Finns, enraged at their inability to cash their checks on the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, started a riot and attacked the company's office this morning, on the Canadian side. The police were unable to quell it alone, and secured the assistance of a company of militia from the American side, and dispersed the crowd. All the saloon and hotel bars were ordered closed. The streets are crowded, and a renewal of the trouble is feared tonight.

The riot precipitated when the Finns were informed there was no money in sight. The company issued a notice saying that, although without funds, it was believed the stockholders had a plan whereby funds would be raised, and work resumed within 30 days. It advised the men to get work elsewhere, and, if possible to get money, to leave the town. The Finns threatened to wreck the company's buildings.

The authorities this afternoon telegraphed to Toronto for regular troops to preserve order. This afternoon the officers and the mob clashed; two policemen were clubbed and stoned into unconsciousness, and were removed to the hospital. Two Frenchmen were shot, one through the neck and the other in the leg. Ball cartridges have been issued to the militia, with orders to shoot, if necessary. The ferry boats are now tied up, to prevent the rioters coming over and attacking the Michigan Soo.

Food for Thought

When buying merchandise, every thing being equal--price included, why not buy the BEST of a house you are absolutely sure of as being free from tricks, of a house that makes a study of good store-keeping, and are tireless in their efforts to please you, and win your permanent trade? Isn't it better to buy a thing of an establishment of such character and reputation as this, where goods are absolutely guaranteed to give satisfaction, rather than of a house you must have a "Oh-I wonder if it will prove all right?" kind of feeling about the time you leave its threshold?
