

The Firm That Treats All Mankind Alike
Stockton & Co.
 The Salem Store

A Sudden Realization Coupled With
 .....Proof.....

The merchants of Salem certainly realize the superiority of Holverson & Co.'s goods. They know we got a good thing when we bought this big stock, they admit it every time they speak. The fact that they make a big spread over a little case of goods that we did not want is proof enough. Every dollar's worth of goods that Holverson & Co. owned was sold to us at a great sacrifice, so we have the big pie while others have crumbs.

Holverson's Immense Stock of Wraps and Ready to Wear Goods

Was sold to us alone, and to prove what we say we will make a big display of them in windows as well as our store showing big reductions which we are making. The public is wise enough to know right from wrong and will not be duped by drummers' tricks. Every day our great sales grow in popularity. The people have confidence in us and are coming our way.

Drowned in Idaho

The sad news of the drowning in Coeur d'Alene lake of Ezra and Winifred Smith, former residents of Oak Grove, Polk county, was received in this city last night, and the remains of the two young men arrived here this morning, and were at once taken to Oak Grove, where the funeral is being held this afternoon.

The two young men were sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smith, for many years well-known residents of Polk county. About a year ago the family moved to Washtucena, Wash., where they made their home. Last Saturday the two young men, aged 26 and 20 years, respectively, went duck hunting on the Coeur d'Alene lake, at Harrison, Idaho, and both were drowned. There were no eye-witnesses to the sad occurrence, but, from the position in which the bodies were found, it is thought that the older one, while standing in the boat shooting, was knocked overboard by the recoil of his gun, and the younger one, aiming to assist his brother, tied the painter of the boat to his arm, and jumped into the lake, but both were drowned. The bodies were discovered by some parties crossing the lake, and were at once taken out and sent to the home of the family at Washtucena, Wash., whence they were sent here for burial.

Ezra M. Smith, the older brother, was a member of Rickreall Lodge, No. 110, A. F. and A. M., as is also his father, and the funeral this afternoon is being conducted by that lodge, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Oak Grove cemetery. H. B. Thielson, a member of the lodge, came up from Portland this morning, escorting the remains, and he has charge of the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have the deep sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement, and all who knew the sterling worth of the two young men will grieve at the sad news of their sudden and untimely taking off.

Worked Salem People Too

J. H. Burke, the desperado, who was on Saturday arrested near Vancouver, Wash., as a fugitive from justice, and who is wanted for forgery in Washington county, is also sought by the Marion county officers, a warrant for his arrest, charging him with attempting to pass a forged note in this city having been issued here some time in August. A few days before Burke was arrested in Forest Grove on the charge of attempting to pass forged paper, he appeared in the bank of Ladd & Bush, in this city, and offered for sale a note for $300, bearing the signature of Marion Townsend, a prominent farmer of the Spring Valley neighborhood, in Polk county, a dozen miles from this city. He was informed that the note was good, but that Mr. Townsend would be consulted before the note was purchased, and he was told to return later, when the note would be taken up.

J. Baumgartner, note teller of the bank, immediately after the man left the bank, went to the justice court and swore to a complaint charging Burke with attempting to pass a forged note. The warrant was at once placed in the hands of Constable Lewis, but all efforts to find the fugitive were futile, for he had promptly disappeared. For several days the officers quietly searched for the man, until the story of his arrest came from Forest Grove, and showed that further search for the fellow was useless. Since Burke's escape from the Washington county jail the officers have kept a close watch of the fellow's record, and now that he is again in the hands of the Oregon officers it is likely that, after he has been tried in Washington county, an effort will be made to try him here for the crime committed in this county, and thus add a trifle to the sentence he will receive at Hillsboro.

Giant Race Coming.

The age of the race of giants is about to be ushered in again. Henceforth there will be no pygmies, for a wonderful food substance has been discovered that makes men and animals grow—grow fast and large.

The myths that have come down from ancient days tell of races of giants which inhabited the earth or dwelt in the islands of the sea. History, as constructed from old records and folk lore, is filled with stories of Goliaths and Sampsons, to say nothing of Hercules. Science has proved that the animals of the earth were once far larger than at present.

Leclithin the New Food.

The giant races may all return as the result of the newly discovered food substance which stimulates growth so rapidly. The new food is leclithin. Its wonderful qualities have just been demonstrated by a series of experiments conducted by Dr. Shinkishi Hatal, professor of neurology at the University of Chicago. Dr. Hatal experimented with white rats, and by feeding them leclithin made them grow 60 per cent faster than rats grow ordinarily. And this under conditions of atmosphere and general surroundings that were unfavorable. The scientists say that leclithin will have a similar effect on human beings.

Leclithin is an organic phosphorus-containing body found in various animal tissues. It is a brown butter like substance, with an odor like that of rancid fat.

Results Summed Up.

The results of Dr. Hatal's experiments, which he puts forth through the American Journal of Physiology, are in part as follows:

The white rats that received leclithin, either by intramuscular injection or by the mouth, gained in body weight more rapidly than those which did not receive this food, the average gain being 60 per cent greater than was noted in the rats fed on plain grain diets.

The relative weight of the central nervous systems of the rats treated with leclithin was normal.

The nervous systems of the rats treated with leclithin contained the same proportion of water and solids as those of other rats.

The professor's experiments show, therefore, that the growth induced by leclithin is normal and healthy. It stimulates all parts and organs of the body exactly alike, thus acting unlike other stimulants, which affect different organs of the body in different ways.—Inter-Ocean.

ICE Consumers please take notice ICE

Desiring to serve our customers to the best possible advantage, we have decided to adopt the COUPON system for ice sales. This is in use by practically all of the progressive dealers, and has been found most satisfactory for both dealers and customers.

Commencing on October 1st, these COUPON books will be for sale, and all family customers purchasing in quantities of less than 100 pounds must secure one of them, or make cash payment.

The books contain COUPONS of the denominations of 5, 10, 25 and 50 pounds, and are good for 200, 300, 500, 1000 and 2000 pounds. They can be obtained from the drivers or at our office, and if paid for in cash a discount of FIVE per cent is allowed. Credit will be extended to approved parties, but books will be charged at face value. No deliveries made for less than 10 pounds.

We thank the public for the patronage extended to us in the past, and it shall be our endeavor to treat our customers in such a manner as to merit their patronage in the future.

Any complaints should be referred to the office at once, and they will receive prompt attention.
