

Spend Your Money And Earn a Dividend

The usual way in which money can earn a dividend is by being placed in a savings bank or in some other dividend-bearing investment. But the BARR STORE has a plan whereby spenders receive a dividend—provided, of course, they spend the money here. Our new Cash Register automatically prints a rebate check showing the amount of your purchase is registered by the salesman. And this rebate check is given to you. When you have accumulated $25 worth of them, bring them to us and they are exchanged for $1.00 worth of goods, chosen any where from our stock. This is equivalent to a 4 per cent dividend on every dollar you spend here—quite a little extra inducement is it not?

A Glee Club.

Friday evening, in one of the rooms in Administration Hall, several of the men of the college met for the purpose of forming a glee club. It is several years since such an organization has existed in the college, and it was thought that uniting men from the successful quartets of last year it would be possible to form an organization which would be strong, and, at the same time, representative of the college vocal spirit. Accordingly an organization known as the Oregon Agricultural College Glee Club was formed, under the directorship of Otto F. L. Hearse. Work is to begin in a few days, and Mr. Hearse expresses the hope that one or two pleasing entertainments may be offered during the season.—Corvallis Gazette.

Artisans Celebrate.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. George, on State street, was the scene of merriment on last Monday evening, September 28th, in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary.

Early in the evening some 50 Artisans were seen wending their way down the street, and when in front of the White House restaurant, called a halt. Mr. George was captured and led up to their rooms, seated by his wife, when the celebration began.

This was their tin wedding and that metal was found in abundance, in the shape of egg beaters, scoop shovels, tin pans, waiters, etc., which were presented to the bride and groom of a tenth of a century by Rev. Kantner in his usual pleasant manner. In the presentation Brother Kantner made many humorous remarks which brought hearty laughter, and applause, from all parts of the room. He said he wanted to hear no one cast a slurring remark on even the cheapest tin present, for he was a tinner by trade and he would not permit anyone to slur the business he followed.

Master Artisan then read the following program, which was responded to readily:

Instrumental solo, Miss Stone. Piano solo, Miss Stone. Recitation, Blanche Kantner. Vocal solo, Ivan Martin, accompanied on piano by Miss Laura Sharp. Recitation, "The Raggedy Man" Constance Kantner.

Mrs. Watt read an original poem on "Wooing and Winning," which was appropriately fitted up for the occasion.

Ivan Martin then gave several selections on the harmonica, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Rev. Kantner made a speech in behalf of Capital Assembly No. 84, and presented to Mr. and Mrs. George a large mirror purchased by the members, to show their love and esteem for the happy married couple, and also a remembrance of their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Anderson, a prominent society woman of Jacksonville, Fla., daughter of Recorder of Deeds, West, says:

"There are but few wives and mothers who have not at times endured agonies and such pain as only women know of. I wish such women knew the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a remarkable medicine, different in action from any other I ever knew and thoroughly reliable.

"I have seen cases where women doctored for years without permanent benefit who were cured in less than three months after taking your Vegetable Compound, while others who were chronic and incurable came out cured, happy, and in perfect health after a thorough treatment with this medicine. I have never used it myself without gaining great benefit. A few doses restores my strength and appetite, and tones up the entire system. Your medicine has been tried and found true, hence I fully endorse it."—Mrs. R. A. ANDERSON, 235 Washington St., Jacksonville, Fla.—$5000 (Forfeit if original of above testimonial proving genuineness cannot be produced.)

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove, beyond a question, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such trouble at once by removing the cause, and restoring the organs to a healthy and normal condition.

The evening's entertainment terminated in a banquet, which was enjoyed, for the Artisans believe in having good things to eat.

It was a late hour when the guests bade Mr. and Mrs. George good night, wishing them many returns of the happy day.

New Football Captain.

Last evening the members of the football team elected Will Crabtree captain for the season. Mr. Crabtree plays at left end, and is a very superior player. His head work is good, and he has a knowledge of running a team. The boys are practicing every night under Coach Bryson, and are developing good speed. They will play their first game next Saturday, when they will meet the 'varsity scrubs. This will be a good game, and lots of interest is being taken, as this game will show the strength of the team to a certain degree. The football benefit will not be given this week, on account of so many other social events, but will be given some time in the near future.—Eugene Guard.

DISTRESS AFTER EATING CURED. Judge W. T. Holland, of Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating great distress would invariably result, lasting for an hour or so and my nights were restless. I concluded to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect." Sold by F. G. Haas, 96 State street.

DIED.

BEATTY.—At the family home, near Chemawa, Oregon, Tuesday, September 29, 1903, at 11 a. m., Mrs. Josephine Pugh-Beatty, wife of F. J. Beatty, aged 44 years.

Deceased has been ill for some little time, and, though receiving every attention, gradually sank, until she passed away yesterday, as indicated above. Mrs. Beatty leaves to mourn her untimely death, a husband and three sons, Carl, aged 23; George, at present serving an enlistment in the navy, aged 21, and Otto, aged about 15. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Pugh, and a sister of Linn Pugh, well-known residents of this county. Mrs. Beatty was a good woman, a faithful wife and a devoted mother, and stood high in the esteem of all who knew her. Her deeply religious character endeared her to all, and her taking off will be mourned by a large circle of friends. The funeral procession will leave the home at Chemawa at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the funeral will be held at the Claggett cemetery, north of this city, at 4 o'clock, and the remains will be laid to rest there.

A PURGATIVE PLEASURE. If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Bitters for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell, of Houston, Tex., says "No better pill can be used than Little Early Bitters for constipation, sick headache, etc." Sold by F. G. Haas, 96 State street.

An Employee of the State Accused of Stealing Supplies

His Wife Brings Divorce Suit and Springs a Sen-sation at Asylum

A divorce suit was yesterday afternoon filed in the circuit court by Julia M. Parsons, against E. C. Parsons, charging him with numerous offenses, among others with cohabitating with lewd women, neglect to provide for his family, and stealing goods from the state of Oregon. The plaintiff alleges that she was married to defendant in Independence, January 17, 1901, and since that time they have lived in this city, the defendant having a position at the insane asylum. She further alleges that he has at different times stolen blankets and other property from the asylum, and brought them to the house, and, when remonstrated with, threatened to kill his wife if she ever told of his peculations. The value of the goods stolen by him, she alleges, is $35. There is one child, a girl 14 months old, and the plaintiff asks for the annulment of the marriage contract, the custody of the child, $75 to be paid into court for her expenses, alimony of $20 per month for the support of plaintiff and child, and an order restraining the defendant from selling the household goods of the family, valued at $210. Bonham & Martin are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Yesterday, before the suit was filed, the asylum authorities were notified of the conditions alleged to exist, and an officer of the institution was sent to the Parsons home. He identified the property there found as that of the asylum, finding the laundry marks had been destroyed, for the purpose of preventing identification. The property was at once taken in charge, and Parsons was confronted with the proofs of the crime, but he stoutly denied the truth of the accusation. He was at once suspended, pending an investigation by the asylum authorities.

Mr. Parsons, as stated above, denies the stealing of the supplies, asserting that some party or parties, who are anxious to injure him, have stolen the goods and placed them in his home, in order to throw suspicion on him, and to thus injure him. Superintendent Calbreath stated this morning that he had suspended Parsons, and was making an investigation of the case, with a view to getting at the facts. The value of the goods found, Dr. Calbreath says, is only about $8 or $10, consisting of a pair of blankets, a number of sheets and pillow cases, and some goods of that description.

acres had numerous poles dislodged. For several hours large numbers of pickers were engaged in clearing the gardens, but only a small proportion of the fallen hops could be picked at all.

The lot of the pickers during the night was very unhappy, and many a graphic tale was told of tents overturned, beds being scattered by the wind, effects blown hither and thither in the air, and pickers miserably drenched. Several camps, containing several hundred persons, were totally demoralized, quite a quarter of the erections being rendered uninhabitable, and their residents being driven to seek the hospitality of their neighbor, or take refuge in the farm buildings, thoroughly dejected and disheartened. Many trees had huge limbs torn from their trunks, and considerable devastation resulted in orchards, bushels of apples and Damsons being rudely dashed to the ground, and rendered valueless.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J.
