Wm. Jennings Bryan Will go to Europe

This Fall After He Has Stormed the Enemy's Country in Ohio

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 3.—After his daughter Ruth is married tonight, Wm. J. Bryan will take a late train for Ohio, where he will stump for the Democrats ticket. It is strongly probable that he will then go to Europe for his long planned trip, accompanied by his son, William, Jr.

In New York the Seth Low fusion has removed Furness and Grout from the union city ticket, because they have accepted Tammany nominations. Roosevelt refuses to abandon his determination to have a special session of congress in November, for financial and tariff legislation.

WHISKEY DISTILLERY EXPLOSION

At Peoria Causes the Death of Many Laborers.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 3.—It is now known that in the distillery explosion here this morning seven men were instantly killed, and 50 others injured. The dead are James McManus, Charles Powell, James O'Keefe, George Shaffer, G. George, John Wilson and Guy Brenham.

Dragged-Down Feeling

To the loins.
Nervousness, unrefreshing sleep, despondency.
It is time you were doing something.
The kidneys were anciently called the reins—in your case they are holding the reins and drying you into serious trouble.
Hood's Sarsaparilla
Acts with the most direct, beneficial effect on the kidneys. It contains the best and safest substances for correcting and toning these organs.

The fatally injured are George Fink and James Walsh. The correct name of the institution was the Corning distillery. A copper boiler, eight feet in diameter and 20 feet long, under 400 great pressure, was blown clear through the boiler room and fell into a field 250 feet away, cutting down a large oak tree in its flight. The men killed were frightfully scalded by the boiling mass. Three men were identified only by the stripe of clothing. The bodies of Wilson and Brenham are still under the ruins. The damage exceeds $100,000, as three buildings, each five stories high were blown to pieces. The debris is piled so high that it will take many days to recover the bodies of the two named.

THREE YOUNG BRUTES.

Murder and Outrage an Innocent Bohemian Girl.

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 3.—Three white boys, Morris, Malloy and Quiness, aged 15 to 17, were arrested near Day outraging and murdering a 13-year-old Bohemian girl, Mary Prekoah. All are of prominent families. Morris confessed to the outrage, of the girl. He was caught passing through woods repeatedly and abused. After releasing her the boys were afraid she would inform some one on them and they decided to murder her, and ran and overtook her and cut her throat with a pocket knife from ear to ear. The dead body was found by her father within an hour, covered with grass and weeds. The people are so aroused that the boys have been brought to Guthrie for fear of lynching.

Linemen's Strike Settled.

President McNulty, of the Linemen's committee and President Sabin, of the Telephone Company, were in conference at San Francisco today, and the strike, which has been on since June 22d, was settled.

The terms of settlement are not made public, but are stated to be satisfactory to both sides. Special meetings will now be held by the locals ratifying the agreement made by the Western conference of electrical workers with the telephone company. The fight has been a bitter one, and there is scarcely a town or city on the coast but what has felt the disturbance. There is great local rejoicing, and the relief felt is unusual.

Mount McKinley Remains so Far Unscaled

Party Had to Return Without Reaching the Coveted Granite Peak

New York, Oct. 3.—According to a dispatch dated Valdez, Alaska, yesterday an attempt was made by Doctor Cook of Brooklyn and a party to scale Mount McKinley. The attempt failed. They reached an altitude of 11,000 feet but were unable to surmount the granite slope, stretching 5000 feet higher. On September 4 they started on the return, fearing the rapidly advancing season. They rode, packed and rafted down the Chitina to Tyonek, and will return to Seattle immediately.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Resumes Services With a New Pastor From Texas.

The First Christian church, of Salem, will resume regular services tomorrow with the new pastor installed, Dr. David Errett, of Texas, and formerly of Missouri, where he ran an un-reconstructed Republican paper in a hot-bed of Democracy. Mr. Errett was educated for the bar, and, at one time, enjoyed a large criminal practice. He is a gentleman of pleasing and forcible address, and has all the qualities of a pulpit orator of the natural type of eloquence.

The Sunday announcements are as follows: Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Bible school at 12 m. Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Morning theme: "Christianity and Christians." LABOR UNION NEWS

Illinois Miners Ordered to Drop Strike

Fort an Insufficient Cause or be Expelled From The Unions

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 3.—Although 1500 of the 7000 miners of this vicinity left work yesterday, because the operators didn't comply with the state law requiring wash rooms, a general strike in Illinois is not imminent. The men who went out yesterday have been ordered to return or suffer expulsion from the unions. The United Mine Workers refuse to sanction the strike. They say the contract with the operators has not been violated, hence it becomes a matter for action of the state authorities only.

Plot to Blow Up Mine.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 3.—Sheriff Gilbert received a telephone message from the head officials of the Western Federation of Miners at Denver, advising him that a plot has been formulated to blow up an unused part of the Mill at Colorado City, owned by the United States Refining & Reduction Company.

The dynamiting, it is alleged by the Federation leaders, was to be done by agents employed by the interests who are seeking to disrupt the Federation of Miners. In case the plot was successful, reports were to have been sent broadcast that the dynamiters and firebugs were members of the Federation, or members hired by that organization.

Sheriff Gilbert gave his personal pledge to the Federation leaders to investigate the report, and protect the abandoned mill.

FOURTH DAY OF CONFERENCE.

Sessions Have Been Extended, by Resolution, to Monday Evening.

The fourth day of the Methodist conference opened as usual by the address of Dr. S. W. Gamble. At 9 o'clock Bishop Hamilton called for the reading of the minutes. Bishop Cranston came forward and was introduced by Bishop Hamilton, and made a short address.

The result of the ballot for reserve delegates to the general conference was announced as M. C. Wire and D. T. Sommerville.

The sale of a church building at Gresham was authorized.

Rev. P. S. Knight was introduced, and presented greetings from the Congregational Association. Bishop Hamilton responded in a few words to Mr. Knight's address.

At this juncture the lay electoral conference entered, and were introduced by Rev. M. C. Wire. The president of that body, B. F. Sackett, of Co. burg, was introduced from the platform, and presented greetings. By request of Bishop Hamilton, Bishop Cranston responded.

The secretary of the lay electoral conference then read resolutions adopted by that body, among which was one asking Bishop Hamilton to change the number of districts in this conference from four to three. Resolutions to the same effect were then introduced by Rev. G. H. Bennett, and unanimously adopted.

A resolution was adopted extending the time for the closing of the conference to Monday evening, if it was found that so much time was required to complete the work on hand.

After the annual committee announcements, the conference took a recess to Monday morning, the bishop announcing the usual afternoon session for the presiding elders.

Many families now have the family Osteopath who examine the anatomies of the children periodically just as the dentist looks after their teeth. What a wise custom! It will save many invalids in later life by correcting small disabilities such as those of the spine as soon as they develop. Drs. Schoettie, Barr & Barr, Osteopaths, Grand Opera House, Salem, Or.

SALEM POLICE COURT.

Three Cases Handled by Chief of Police Gibson.

Lee Smith, a stranger who hails from Arizona, was last evening arrested for being intoxicated, and locked up. He had $50 in his pockets, and was this morning fined $10, which he paid and went on his way rejoicing.

B. Mattison, a laboring man, was arrested for carrying concealed weapons, he having a revolver in his pocket. This morning he explained to the city recorder that he had bought the pistol some time ago for the purpose of suiciding, because he had been crossed in love. He had changed his mind, however, and had spared his own life. He presented the pistol to Chief Gibson, as he wanted no more trouble about it. Mattison was allowed to go his way, promising not to offend again. The pistol is a prize-package concern, and Chief Gibson scarcely knows what to do with it.

H. Halverson, a wood-hauler, was arrested for being drunk and letting his team run away. The team, while on the rampage last evening, ran into a farm hack on Commercial street, and damaged it considerably. Halverson was fined $25 for his offense, which he paid, and he also agreed to reimburse A. G. Woodworth, the owner of the damaged hack, for the loss sustained. Mr. Woodruff and his child narrowly escaped serious physical injury.

SMITH CALLS IT ROT.

Says John Albert's Offer to Make Good is Buncombe.

Dr. Andrew C. Smith, who, in the state senate, helped legislate himself into office as president of the State Board of Health, says John Albert's challenge, offering to give $500 to the Salem Hospital if there can be found and fever germs in the Salem water, is rot. As Mr. Albert has already given that institution $2000, there is more substance to it than there would appear to be to the State Board of Health's attack on Salem water. But Smith has good lungs, and it will probably be better to offer him wind than hard cash, to test the truth of his statements. His attack on the Salem water is about on a par with his first official act in sending an expert to California to ascertain whether there was any bubonic plague in that state or not.

BULGARIA VERSUS TURKEY

Opinions of the Czar and German Emperor

Favorable to Restoration of Peace and Adoption of Macedonian Reforms

Vienna, Oct. 3.—The Neue Freie Presse today publishes an inspired article from the Czar and Emperor, who believe the recent Turkish successes indicate that the insurrection in the Balkans is now on its last legs, while a war between Bulgaria and Turkey will not be permitted. They believe it will soon be possible to peacefully execute the proposed reforms in Macedonia, which will not in any wise be abandoned.

The Bulgarian insurgents under Yanoff attacked and destroyed Belzta, in northeastern Macedonia, losing four killed, but inflicting a heavy loss on the Turks.

When there is trouble in the system the wise plan is to remove the cause of trouble—not drug the nerves into insensibility.
