

SUBURBAN WARDS ACTING

Upon the Suggestions of the City Council

Begin by Making Demands for Improvements and Choosing Their Representatives

The people of the several wards are bestirring themselves to take all the steps necessary to become full-fledged citizens of Greater Salem. In response to the city council, that the residents of the respective wards meet and consider the proposed boundaries and elect two delegates, meetings were held Saturday night.

In North Salem.
About 40 assembled in the basement of the school house. J. F. Goode was put in the chair. A resolution was adopted asking for the establishment of one electric light at the North Salem school house. There was general discussion of the proposed ward boundaries, and no objection was raised thereto. On ballot being taken P. L. Fraser and J. R. Fairbank was chosen representatives for North Salem.

In South Salem.
There was a goodly attendance of taxpayers at the Geo. F. Mason box factory, and general discussion of the proposed boundaries, no objections being made. A resolution was adopted asking that the water company extend its mains on South Commercial street to the cemetery, and install hydrants for fire protection. A petition was signed, asking for two lights, one at Commercial and Bush streets, and one at Commercial and Lafell streets. On motion H. S. Jory and E. Hofer were chosen as representatives to go before the council with these propositions.

In East Salem.
Petitions have been framed and signed up asking for electric lights at Chemeketa and 21st streets, at 18th and Center and at 29th and Marion. The proposed ward is so long and scattering that it was not found practical to hold a ward meeting, but several citizens will be present and confer with the ordinance committee, and attend the regular council meeting Tuesday night.

Murder in Second Degree.
The jury in the Gibson murder case, tried at Grants Pass, rendered its verdict of murder in the second degree Saturday night, after having been out about four hours. This is Gibson's third trial for the murder of B. Schonbachelor, near Merlin, April 18, 1902. In the first trial the jury disagreed, in the second a verdict of murder in the first degree was rendered, but the case was appealed. The third trial was begun October 1st, but the jury was not secured until the afternoon of the 7th. The case went to the jury shortly before 8 o'clock, and a few minutes before midnight an agreement had been reached.

Judge Hanna, having retired for the night, was called, and opened court to receive the verdict and dismiss the jury.

They Want Our George.
Governor Chamberlain has received an invitation from Bishop O'Reilly to attend the dedicatory exercises at the opening of the new hospital at Pendleton November 1st. As the governor has gone to Washington, it is not known whether he will accept, as he may not return in time.

The governor has also been invited to address the State Irrigation Association at Pendleton, November 9 and 10. Governor Morrison, of Idaho, will also be in attendance, and address the association.

Not All Blown Off.
It has been reported in the Oregonian that all the apples had been blown off the trees around Albany. A gentleman, who has been through the county, says the statement is incorrect, that, as a rule, only the wormy apples have been blown off, except in the case of very large apples, that the sound fruit has remained on the trees and is in fine condition, well culled for picking. As a matter of fact, the blow possibly did as much good as harm, and it wasn't much of a blow, either.—Albany Democrat.

What's in a Name, Anyhow.
The public at large feels as though New Jersey should be taken up by the roots and thrown into the sea. With its records of trusts, mosquitoes, murders, etc., it has been tolerated as an integral part of the Union, but now that a judge in that state has ordered a father to spank his daughter in open court for stealing eggs, the limit of human endurance would seem to have been reached.—Eugene Guard.

The members of the two Christian associations connected with Willamette University gave a reception to the new students on Saturday evening. A short address of welcome was given by Prof. Drew, after which the reception was held in the society halls, ices were served, and a very good time was had by the hundred guests present.

THE GREAT SALE AT 149 STATE STREET

Has been a grand success. The people know that when they can get a good thing they should take it, and so they have. There is quite a number of articles left.

There are several fine overcoats. A fine line of coats for children, children's suits, and the prices on them will compel the customers to take them.

A few pairs of boys' and ladies' rubber boots left for 90 cents, which are worth $1.50. The long-leg gum boots, which were sold at $2.50, now go at $1.50 per pair.

Bicycle caps, only a few left. Our clothing stock is going down rapidly. You save 40 per cent by buying them now.

The ladies have found out where to buy their passmentry and jet trimming. Only about 75 of our corsets and corset waists left to sell at 15 cents each, which are worth from $1 to $2 each.

While we are closing out these lines mentioned at sacrifice prices, we also carry a side line of our own in gents' furnishing goods, notions, stationery, cutlery, etc., that defies competition.

This sale will continue until all the lines mentioned above are disposed of. Remember the place.

WHY DO WE DO IT?

LISTEN! They are shirts that are made in the finest manner, of the very best materials. The bosoms are of fancy linens, such as cords, embroidered styles and figured.

The only reason for our offering them at this remarkably low price is this. The bosoms are long instead of short—short bosoms being a little more desirable just now—but if you are not particular about the length of the bosom you will not miss this sale. There are most all sizes in these shirts. They will be on display in our window tomorrow. Take a peep at them in the morning. Come in and examine them and we'll wager that you will get a supply.

Supreme Court Doings.

In the supreme court this afternoon, the case of E. and E. R. Mendenhall, respondents, vs. Rush Mendenhall, executor, appellant, was argued. The case was brought to break the will of Esther Louise Mendenhall, and originated in the Multnomah county circuit court, where the will was set aside, after the case had been considered for 11 months. The respondents are the sons of the testator, and the executor is their father.

Minor orders were also made in cases pending, as follows:

Laura E. Froman, appellant, vs. Thomas Froman, respondent; ordered on stipulation that respondent have until November 9th to serve and file his brief.

The Union Street & Suburban A.R.T. way, respondent, vs. the First National Bank of Union, et al., appellants; ordered on motion that the original papers, exhibits and documents, including the judgment roll in Hutchinson vs. Phy, all the bonds, notes, papers and documents filed by either party, be returned to the circuit court for Union.

B. Brockway, respondent, vs. the City of Roseburg, et al., appellants; ordered on stipulation that the respondent have until November 15th to serve and file his brief.

Rich Strike in Montana.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 12.—A great discovery has been made on Owl creek, a few miles from Hamilton, Montana, and a stampede is on. It is claimed the ledge is 12 feet wide, and there is enough ore and placer in sight to keep a 50-stamp mill going for 10 years, without doing any underground mining. The assays run from $108 to $1600 a ton.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to the Modern Woodmen of America, and the friends and neighbors who so generously extended help and sympathy on the occasion of the death of our dear brother, Orson W. Dinsmore. J. D. Dinsmore and family.

Murderer Collapses.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Edmond Lohrouse, handcuffed, faced the coroner's jury to answer for the murder of Marie Jordan Sweek. He utterly collapsed, and sobbingly cried for the murdered girl. The verdict was murder.
