

For Some Lovely Rosy-Cheeked Lassies

There are some lovely rosy-cheeked lassies in this town for whom some of the most beautiful of our ladies rings are surely predestined. We do not, of course, know their names yet, but we feel sure that rings so exquisite cannot linger long in our cases. These rings include almost any kind of precious stones that anyone could wish for. Diamonds, Rubies, sapphires, opals, pearls, turquoise, amethysts and many others. As for prices, you can spend any amount from $1.75 up to $200.00 and feel very sure, whatever sum you pay, that your purchase could not be bettered at the price anywhere in the country.

CIRCUIT COURT TERM

Both Law and Equity Dockets are Unusually Light

Probably all but Twelve of the Jurors Will be Discharged Today

The first department of the circuit court convened for the regular October term at 9 o'clock this morning. Judge Burnett presiding. The case against Charles Hammond, better known as "Red" Hammond, was called up on the information filed last week.

Hammond was charged with robbing a drunken man on the river bank, near the flouring mill, about two months ago. Hammond plead not guilty when arraigned Friday, but this morning his attorney, J. A. Jeffrey, withdrew the plea, and entered one of guilty of petty larceny. Judge Burnett, after hearing a statement of the case, sentenced Hammond to three months in the county jail, and to pay the costs of the action.

The case against George Appleyard was also called. Appleyard appeared in court with his attorney, L. H. McMahon, and, by an arrangement with the district attorney, pleaded guilty to simple assault. District Attorney Hart made a brief statement of the case, and the attorney for the defense stated that Appleyard, who had worked for W. H. Burghardt's mining company had called on Burghardt, the prosecuting witness, for money alleged to be due him for work; that Appleyard had been ordered out of the office, and, in the quarrel which ensued, he drew a knife out of his pocket; that he had been arrested in the city for disturbing the peace, but had been released, and later, meeting Burghardt on the street, had asked that gentleman for a settlement, whereupon he had been arrested on the present charge, and bound over to the circuit court. It was stated that Appleyard had already been in the county jail 81 days, and that he was anxious to return to his mining claim. His attorney plead for a light sentence. The court imposed a fine of $10, or with the alternative of serving five days in the county jail.

The circuit court reconvened at 1 o'clock this afternoon, when George F. Witting, against whom an information had been filed, charging him with running a gambling device during the state fair, was arraigned. Witting took until 9 o'clock tomorrow to plead.

The jury was called, five of them being excused, and four failed to appear, the sheriff being unable to find them in the county. The jurors present were excused until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The following orders were made, when the court adjourned to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Theo. M. Barr vs. Cornelius L. Spore, et al., for money; non-suit by plaintiff.

Thomas Gibson vs. Mary F. Gibson, et al., for money; settlement as per stipulation.

M. Christensen vs. L. D. Kelly, replevin; settled.

Alba R. Morgan vs. Frank M. Neal, for money; default and judgment.

B. B. Colbath vs. Hofer & Zora, mandate; demurrer to separate amended answer argued.

PERSONALS.
District Attorney Hart is in the city, attending the sessions of the criminal department of the circuit court.

Judge M. L. Pipes and Col. S. C. Spencer and E. Mendenhall, all Portland attorneys, are in Salem for a short stay, having business in the supreme court.

In Recorder's Court.
R. F. Lewis and A. R. Logan, two men arrested by the police, charged with drunkenness, were this morning fined $10 each by City Recorder Judah. Lewis paid his fine, and was released, but Logan was committed to jail, in default of payment. Four men, James Rollins, George Russell, Wm. P. Smith and F. Hoffman, were given beds in the police station last night.
