The Weather.

Fair tonight and Wednesday.

The Long Letter.

Edith M. Thomas in Harper's Bazaar. Now while you sleep, Beyond yon star-kissed mountain land, Mine eyes and heart a vigil keep, And love directs my hand;— Directs my hand and prompts my pen; The minutes fly and night grows old; Whene'er I pause, love whispers then, "The half has not been told!"

Oh, swifter far

Than pen of fire the words could trace, My thoughts like birds unprisoned are, And wing dividing space! They seek you with impatient speed— They move among your dreams, perchance: And when between these lines you read They'll meet your spirit's glance!

Good night, good night!

But when you read this letter through, May then your eyes of morning-light A moment shine with dew; And may your lips of morning-rose, A moment touched to trembling fine— Kiss then this letter's trembling close— Ah, would those lips kissed mine!

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO ACT.

The Salem Commercial Club is to meet tonight and take up the matter of slandering and misrepresenting this city's water supply.

There will probably be a large attendance and some decisive action, for if ever a community had a right to feel outraged, it is Salem.

But whether our citizens take any steps to defend their city's reputation remains to be seen. It is doubtful.

People are inclined to be indifferent and neglect their feelings, and take what-aver ignorance and injustice showers upon them.

Public spirit and public reputation of the community are everybody's business, and it will get little attention.

That Salem has got a black eye from the Portland papers no one can deny. What an individual might suffer in silence, a city should not.

It is the question of the right to immunity from attack and misrepresentation from official bodies and irresponsible newspaper writers.

The city could bring an action against the state board of health, or its individual members, if they were possessed of means to satisfy a judgment.

The city could bring a suit against a newspaper that willfully and maliciously defames its water supply, its public credit, or sanitation.

What action the Commercial Club will take remains to be seen. It is not likely that it will do more than talk and pass resolutions.

THE FIRST CONFERENCE.

Monday night there was held at the city hall the first conference between representatives of the new wards and members of the city council.

The meeting was characterized by harmony and good will, and a perfect understanding was reached between the two sections as to the ward lines.

The representatives from the outlying wards expressed the opinion freely that they had no fears of robberies or grafting at the hands of their more experienced city brethren of the city. All the representatives expressed the opinion that their neighbors and friends were all in favor of being taken into the city at once, and opposed to spending money on litigation to keep out.

They reported that many who had signed the remonstrance against being taken into the city were now in favor of coming in, and that all opposition to Greater Salem was dying away.

At the meeting of the council to-night representatives of the new wards will appear and submit petitions for lights and other improvements, not for immediate action, but to show what is expected.

A very liberal spirit was manifested by the city council toward the suburban wards at the conference Monday night, and this feeling will be characteristic of both sides.

The new wards will be the gainers by their connection with the city, as all the county road tax and the county poll tax that has hitherto been expended by country road supervisors will now be spent on the streets of these new wards.

It was shown that for the bulk of the city debt the suburbs have had some benefit, as the debt was for the county bridge over the Willamette and the city hall, and fire engines.

There was no disposition shown to saddle any of this debt on the suburban wards, but they will get almost the entire proceeds of their taxes for their own improvement.

THE TEMPERANCE WOMAN'S UNION.

The oldest woman's club is the Women's Christian Temperance Union, that holds a state convention at Salem, October 20th.

The work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is largely educational, it being against their custom to carry on litigations.

The work of these women's clubs is entirely in the direction of creating public sentiment in favor of temperance and sobriety, and by confining themselves to these lines they exert an ever-widening influence.

The state convention will be a well-attended body of the best women leaders of these temperance clubs all over the state, and they expect to have some of their national workers here.

Their work extends through many departments of educational effort, and is felt in the administration of the courts and the enactment of laws, both state and national.

JOURNAL X-RAYS.

The Albany Democrat commends the Flora Journal for its modesty, the latter paper having noted the "breaking of the right lower limb" of a young lady of Flora.

We do not quite understand why the Salem Journal should lay special stress on the fact that the Oregon Press Association, which convenes in Salem October 22, 23 and 24, is to be shown through the penitentiary. It is a place where fewer newspaper men than most any other profession are found.—Eugene Register.

That's the idea, exactly, the brothers will not only be taken in, but also out.

Salem people ought to take a thousand Oregonians. The Commercial Club, ought to buy 10,000 to advertise the town, and bring immigration here. Of course, they will do it.

Malheur's Contribution.

Sheriff Lawrence, of Malheur county, was in Salem this morning, having brought two prisoners to the penitentiary. They were Peter Smith, convicted of larceny by baillee, and J. Sigmore, found guilty of stealing a horse, saddle and bridle. Each of them will serve one year in the prison.

CHEAP SUNDAY RATES

Low round trip rates have been placed in effect between Portland and Willamette Valley points, in either direction. Tickets will be sold Saturdays and Sundays, and limited to return on or before the following Monday. Call on Southern Pacific Co.'s agents for particulars; 220 round trip Salem to Portland and return. 10-11t W. E. COMAN, G.P.A.

Could Laugh Like Sarah.

Mrs. John Beam, of Mitchellville, New York, 65 years old, gave birth to twins the other day. Her daughter, who lived in the neighboring township, presented her husband with twins about the same time. Before congratulations were finished, Mrs. Beam's granddaughter sent word that she had just become the mother of two healthy children. The public is waiting to hear from the rest of the adult female part of the family, if there any.—Baker City Democrat.

They Want Doach.

Governor Chamberlain is in receipt of a recommendation for the appointment of H. E. Doach as a member of the State Board of Agriculture, vice one of the two members resigned.

THROWS LIGHT ON ATTACK

Portland Journal Correspondent Makes Suggestions

It May be For Revenge, Originating in the "Rule or Ruin" Department of the Oregonian

(Salem Special to Portland Journal.) Salem, Or., Oct. 12.—There is considerable indignation among the citizens of Salem at the persistent and groundless—and at times most childish—attacks made by the Portland Oregonian on this city, in connection with the recent water discussion, and this feeling is growing. This is but an incident in the war the Oregonian is waging against Salem, and has waged since Mt. Hood was a hole in the ground, and the impression is gradually gaining ground here that it is not the Salem water that has incurred the enmity of Mr. Scott and his cohorts, but that the cause can be found in the fact that the ambition of the Oregonian editor has never found supporters in the Capital City, and he is, therefore, venting his spite on the community. Mr. Scott's ambition to become a United States senator has always been treated with considerable levity here, and Salem, along with "Dear George," of Oregon City, have consequently fallen in the ranks of those who must be punished.

The premature publication of the preliminary tests of Salem's water supply by the health board of the state, made before the tests were completed, were taken advantage of by that paper to flay this city alive in its columns, and the people here are gradually being aroused to the fact that the water is but an excuse for the action of the Oregonian in persistently injuring this city.

Only last week a test was made by physicians, some representing the state health board, and others this city, together with representatives of the city health board. The test was made to ascertain the source of the water supply, as it had been charged that the water pipes in crossing the slough above the city were taking in water from that stagnant pool, and it was proven beyond a doubt that the water came from the crib in the Willamette river, and this crib, the officers all acknowledge, furnishes a pure supply of water. It is located on a gravel island, and the main channel of the river strikes it. The crib is deep under the gravel, and water filters through fully 20 feet of gravel before reaching the end of the suction pipe, thus furnishing a pure supply of water, second only in purity to the water which Portland is blessed, and the first analysis made of it showed less organic matter than did the Bull Run water.

Salem has had typhoid fever, but no have all the other Oregon towns, and scores of the cases in this city are directly traceable to other cities, while many of those credited to this city were brought here for treatment, originating in other towns or in the country, and still others, and the greater proportion of those rightly credited to Salem, come from the suburbs, where city water is not used at all, and where there is no sewerage system, where, as in the rural districts, the cesspools are not far removed from the wells that supply the drinking water.

Dowie Ready for Invasion.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Zion City is in a fever of excitement today, for tomorrow is the time appointed for the departure of Dowie's "Restoration Host" to begin his campaign for the salvation of New York. Everyone of the several thousand inhabitants of the town is actively interested in the crusade. Hundreds were at work today completing the final arrangements for the trip. Besides their personal belongings, including the 500 white robes of the "celestial choir," the "crusaders" are to take with them to the metropolis many cases of dishes and cooking utensils with which their food will be prepared during their sojourn in Madison Square garden. "Elijah II" was a very busy man today, sitting hither and thither, in company with his lieutenants, seeing to it personally that everything was being put in ship-shape for the start.

Ten special trains are to carry the host to New York. Two of the trains are routed over the Baltimore & Ohio by way of Washington and Philadelphia. The other eight trains are scheduled to pass by Niagara Falls, where it is purposed to hold a tremendous meeting, at the gate of the enemy's country, so to speak. Dowie himself, with his wife, son and body-guard, will travel on the train which leaves Zion City last. It will be solidly composed of vested cars of the most luxurious type, and will reach New York in advance of the whole procession.

The strength of the self-appointed apostle and the wide ramifications of his peculiar creed are evidenced by the fact that for several days past scores of his followers from Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and other states of the West have been pouring into Zion City to join the crusade. Besides the 2000 or more residents of Zion City and Chicago it seems probable that an equal number of his followers from other points will join in the invasion of New York. The movement will be the largest of its kind to take place in a single day in the history of railroads, and will tax their ability to the utmost. They have greatly aided the plans of Dowie by granting special rates of one fare from nearly all the Western states to Chicago, and from contiguous territory to all of the large cities between Chicago and New York.

Indianapolis Election Today. Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 13.—The election in this city today ends probably one of the hardest-fought municipal campaigns ever witnessed in Indianapolis. The election is for a mayor, police judge and minor city officials. For the mayoralty the Republicans have renominated Mayor Bookwalter, while the Democrats have named John M. Holtzman, formerly prosecuting attorney. The situation is rather complicated by the candidacy of George M. Hitz, who is running independently and has the support of the prohibition element. A clean city is the chief issue of the campaign, the Democrats waging warfare on Mayor Bookwater on the ground that he is responsible for much alleged corruption in city offices and for the prevalence of gambling in the city. Despite the vigorous campaign of the Democrats and their confidence in the result it appears probable, from an unbiased standpoint that the election will result in a Republican victory.

The Latest Yarn.

A Pittsburg drummer tells this new yarn: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily, and a few doses of the Balsam always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do, when I take cold. At druggists, 25 and 50 cents.

News from the Klondike.

Seattle, Oct. 13.—A special from Dawson, Y. T., to the Post-Intelligencer says that Charles Hilty killed a man named Massey at Fort Gibbon Wednesday in a drunken quarrel. Hilty is in jail, and claims self-defense.

The freight congestion on the Yukon grows worse. Navigation in places on the lower river is now dangerous. Several loaded boats may not be able to get through. A large quantity of freight will be left at White Horse for the winter. Independent boats are reaping a harvest, charging immense prices for transportation.

New York Bankers Start West.

New York, Oct. 13.—Eminent bankers of New York, representing among them an aggregate capital reaching into nine figures, left the city today for San Francisco to attend the annual convention in that city of the American Bankers' association. The party travels in a special train and stops will be made en route at Chicago, Denver, Salt Lake City and one or two other points of interest. After five days spent in San Francisco the bankers will return to New York by way of the Southern Pacific.
