The Weather.

For this afternoon, tonight and Saturday, fair.

PADRE IGNATIUS.

With cross in hand, the pious father goes
From camp to camp on Heaven's errand bent;
Soothing the wretched, overborn with woes,
And to the weary bringing sweet content.

Oh, gentle soul, too kind for this rude earth,
What virtues doth thy being comprehend;
Thou shouldst have lived in times of peaceful mirth,
When war was not, and man ne'er lacked a friend.

Of what avail those peaceful words of thine,
When for the battle armies are arrayed;
What use thy mission of good-will divine,
When to the foe war's standard is displayed.

The drums are beaten, trumpets shrill resound,
Two gifts alone thou canst bestow on all;
Salute with smiles all those with honor crowned,
And for the dead a single tear let fall.

A ONE-MAN POWER STATE.

The history of Oregon Journalism, read by Mr. Himes at the press association shows Oregon to have been a one-man power state.
For about twenty years editor Bush seems to have been the whole brain, political push and managing power.
The last twenty years Editor Scott has been the one-man power and presiding genius in the public affairs of this state.
Oregon has lagged behind California and Washington in development, from both natural and artificial causes.
But Oregon has been a one-man proposition, a one-lunged commonwealth, whether for good or bad, and that cannot be said of the other states.
When could it be said that one man dominated the whole public policy of California or of Washington?
Those states have had from five to ten men of great ability and prominence at all times, struggling for supremacy and progress.
Those states have from five to ten cities of commercial importance, while Oregon has but one. Oregon is a one-city state.
It is hard to say whether the state has produced the one-man-power or the one-man-power has produced the state.
It is a compliment to the power of the press that the one-man-influence has been wielded by a newspaper man.

A RATIONAL PROGRAM.

What would be a rational program for Oregon for the next campaign?
The registration law should be changed so that, instead of constantly diminishing the number of registered voters, they should be increased.
A Direct Nomination law should be given the people, without sweeping away the county, district and state conventions.
Every state, county, district and

What a grand family medicine it is, grand—Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

city official should be put on a flat salary, and all the earnings of his office put in the treasury.
Fourth, tax the intangible values of untaxed corporations.
These are three propositions that every honest man can understand, no matter what party he belongs to. They are reform propositions.

Of course, the cheap, prostitute style politician will say yes, yes, to these propositions, and promise them in the platform.
But men must be elected who will see that a few plain reforms like these are carried into effect.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Everybody's Magazine has sprung into sudden greatness, reaching the quarter million mark on a four-months' spurt of growing popular favor.
It started in to be true to its name, and is literally what its name implies in its program and the contents of its pages.

First it fired every questionable advertisement—the get-rich-quick, and the patent medicines and gift enterprises and lotteries.
Next it has a few leading articles illustrated, that are of the "burning bush" and "bete noir" order, so far as the public is concerned.
Then it has some real good stories—plenty of them—by the brightest writers of the King's English, who are snapped up by Everybody's.

There are eight pages of short editorials, quick-plate impressions of current events, fast-time exposures by the keenest perceptive minds.
Art, music and books have recognition from the same standpoint, that the readers of Everybody's shall be well-informed, au fait.
Then on top of all the compressed excellencies the price of this great big, cheerful, overflowing-with-good-things magazine is 10 cents.

OREGON'S DEMORALIZED POSTAL SERVICE.

Next to the rottenness and wholesale frauds in Oregon land administration, the Oregon postal service needs revolutionizing.
It takes about three days to get a letter to Portland and get it delivered to a house number in that city.
It takes about forty-eight hours to get letters delivered from one of the state institutions to business men in this city.

The railway mail service has long been in an atrophied, ossified, paralyzed, semi-indebriated condition.
For instance, the Portland Telegram gets into the mail at Salem the same evening—the Portland Journal the same mail the next day.
This is probably not the fault of the Salem postoffice, but if those papers leave Portland together, why is one a day late?

As for the Salem papers getting anywhere on time, it is out of the question. There is but one paper in the state that can get anywhere on time.
The wonderful civil service is putting things to sleep right smart in the postal service.
It takes Eugene, Albany and valley papers several days to reach Salem. Don't know as they ever reach Portland.

If anyone complains, the red-tape and the civil service methods explain it all away, and then everybody takes another nap.

THE LIFE SPIRITUAL.

Association makes character. To be with God is to become godly. The effect is primarily a moral upward movement in ourselves. The effort to know the good gives power to be good. The moral effect of divine communications opens a whole inner world to us, so that it seems to be but a poor life that deals only with material facts. The voluntary personal relation thus established with the divine power opens a channel into our souls, through which God can radiate His Love and His strength.
The simple fact is that we have been learning to give up the idea of going into another world to find God. The realm in which to find Him is the inner realm of today. His home, His kingdom, His presence, is within us. There is no mystery or artificial supernaturalism about it. Nothing is more plain than the road of good wishing and holy seeking. The sublimest fact made known by the most profound investigations of nature is this, that the soul of the universe is open to the simplest desire of the simplest good wisher. We have never got beyond, nor shall we ever get away from, the simple aspiration, "Our Father who art in heaven."—The Christian Register.

The reformatory work of Christian Science must be emphasized. One cannot theorize his way into the kingdom of God. One cannot work out his own salvation by simply learning what he ought to do. One reaches heaven by actually taking the steps which Truth points out, and it is certainly well that we should take time to consider how much of right enters into our conduct as well as to seek new ideas. We should grieve more when we are not using the understanding we already have than because of a lack of it. A daily study of our text-book, Science and Health by Mrs. Eddy, will furnish most students with enough understanding for daily use.—Alfred Farlow in Boston Times.

THE LIMERICK UP-TO-DATE BOOK

It has been quite two generations since Lear's "Nonsense Book" delighted the hearts of young and old. In the intermediate years we have had but few and scanty limericks, so that it is rather a renaissance that we find in Mrs. Mumford's volume of collected and original rhymes. Needless to say that the same clever touch shown in this latest offering to the lighter moments. The limericks are each attached to an appropriate moral admonition, such as "Good Resolutions," "Beware of Rash Judgment" and "Speak Kindly."
She's so homely you'd think she would smother,
And her back view is just like her brother.
Her eyes are both bent,
And her nose is a dent;
But then, "She's so good to her mother!"
Then we read of "Intemperance," "Truth," "Popularity" and "Perseverance."
There was an old person named Tate,
Who out fishing went early and late.
When a fish gave a tug,
Then he pulled on the jug,
And the thing that he caught was a skate.
Space forbids our quoting at greater length, but we can assure our readers, that were we to do so, we would not spoil the pleasure in the volume itself, as the full gaiety of the nonsense rhymes is only experienced when read in connection with their accompanying designs.

The publisher announces that already the second edition of 20,000 copies is on the press, so that its record is rapidly approaching that of the "Cynic's Calendar," the edition for 1904 now numbering 40,000.

JOURNAL X-RAYS.

Dowie now says he is going to convert the pope.
The big checks Dowie boasted of receiving have turned out to be like Dowie—worthless.
Two hundred Zionists have concluded that New York is not worth converting, anyhow, and will start for home.

Nordica is going to sing in Portland, but nobody can tell when from the press notices. The only thing her press agent seems to want to impress on the public, is the time and place where their money can be dropped in.

Good Roads Convention.

The Good Roads Convention in Portland this week is attracting considerable attention, and especially in Marion county, where the building of permanent roads is a matter receiving the earnest thought and consideration of the authorities and the citizens generally. County Judge Scott, who is president of the State Good Roads Association, went down yesterday, and this morning a strong delegation followed him to attend the sessions. Among those going from this city were: I. C. Needham, county commissioner; M. A. McCorkle, county road master; J. Sutter, A. D. Pettyjohn, E. T. Malvin, W. J. Culver, road engineer, and H. B. Thielson, president of the Greater Salem Commercial Club.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschae's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures.
Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. You can get this reliable remedy at Dr. Stone's drug stores. Price 25c and 75c.

Paid An Ancient Bet.

An odd bet was paid at the reunion of the Eighty-eighth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers in Reading, Pa., by Captain Samuel G. Boone. Forty years ago, while the regiment was at Sangster's Station, Maryland, he made a bet with Henry J. Reiff of this city. The men were cutting trees, and nearly every tree contained a gray squirrel. A tree was about falling when Boone made the remark that there was no squirrel on that tree. Reiff bet a dollar there was. The bet was lost sight of until a few days ago. At this reunion Boone handed Reiff a $1 bill in satisfaction of the bet.—Philadelphia Ledger.

MEMORIES.

(Edith Turner Newcomb, in Harper's Bazar.)
An empty room, and yet how full
Of her since she has gone;
No trifle but becomes a thing
For thought to dwell upon.

The very silence misses her,
And moves on noiseless feet,
Fearing to wake some memory
The brave heart could not meet.

Irrevocable fate is felt
In every place, and look!
How firm its iron hand has grasped
That open half-read book.

To Manufacture Radium.

A company has been formed in Buffalo to extract the rare metal radium, which today is the astonishment of the scientific world, from uranium ores obtained from Utah beds owned by the company. The Buffalo company proposes to make it a marketable commodity, producing it as a commercial article. A few years ago Stephen T. Lockwood, of Buffalo while in the West met two prospectors, who in searching for gold and silver, had met peculiar ore deposits in Grant county, Utah. They sent the ore to an assayer, who reported not a trace of the precious metals. There was much uranium, however, and Mr. Lockwood, knowing its commercial value, urged the importance of the discovery upon the prospectors with whom he had become associated, and claims were staked out upon the whole deposit. The Utah bed was carnotite, a combination of uranium, vanadium, iron, copper and barium, and, as later researches showed, radium and polonium. After establishing a title to the claim Mr. Lockwood had returned East, and subsequently became interested in the discovery of Professor and Madame Curie and Professor Becquerel's announcement of the radio-activity of uranium, followed as it was by the discovery of the radium. This suggested to Mr. Lockwood that the uranium from Utah would yield radium as well as the uranium extracted from the flinty pitchblende, and a plant to manufacture this remarkable substance will soon be in operation.

SO DIFFERENT.

Lots of Claims Like This But so Different—Local Proof is What Salem People Want.
There are a great many of them. Every paper has its share. Statements hard to believe, harder to prove.
Statements from far-away places. What people say in Florida. Public expression from California. Ofttimes good endorsement there. But of little service here, at home Salem people want local proof. The sayings of neighbors, friends and citizens.
Home indorsement counts:
It disarms the skeptic beyond dispute.
This is the backing that stands behind every box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a case of it:
James A. Tanner, farmer, corner Thirteenth and Lewis sts., says: "So many suffer from kidney complaint that for a time I was alarmed about myself for I was troubled with my back aching in the region of my kidneys. I think it was caused first by a strain from heavy lifting I did two years ago. I kept getting worse instead of better and finally consulted a doctor. He told me I had gall stone in the bladder, but trouble with kidney secretions existed their too frequent action disturbed my rest from fifteen to twenty times a night. This was very annoying and I was in a bad way when I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at Dr. Stone's drug store. To say I was surprised at the speedy effect of their use is putting it mildly. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to others and will always have a good word for them."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Pilgrims From Mecca.

During the year 1902 altogether 19,535 pilgrims passed through the Suez canal, bound for Mecca. They included nearly 6000 Egyptians, 4500 Turks and Syrians, 2000 Persians and many Tunisians and Indians.
