Marines Land From the Nashville on Account of Threats Made By Chocolate Colored Soldiers

Panama, Nov. 5.—The situation on the isthmus this morning is most serious. General Torres, commanding the Colombian troops at Colon, refused to follow the example of Panama, and sent word to Colombia, and has threatened to send troops from Colon to Panama, in case the latter city does not surrender. It is reported Colombian soldiers at Colon threatened to burn the city and murder all sympathizers with the revolution, as well as the American residents. The latter have appealed for protection to the cruiser Nashville, which is in Colon harbor.

The presence of the American cruiser at Colon is undoubtedly the only cause of the avoidance of bloodshed. Should Torres carry out his threat to send troops to Panama, they would be compelled to walk the distance. The gunboats Padilla and Chucote left here today to search for the Colombian gunboat Bogota.

isthmus. The squadron includes the Wyoming, Marblehead, Concord and Boston. The latter ship is already on the way. Secretary Hay and Admiral Walker, chairman of the canal commission had a long conference with Roosevelt today. Nothing was made public, but it was understood that Hay and Walker agreed that the revolution will result in benefit to the United States.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The state department today received formal notice from the republic of Panama that a provisional government had been established, which was capable of maintaining order. The notification is signed by three consuls, selected by the revolutionists to conduct the affairs of the new government temporarily. Boyd, Arang and Aras.

Panama, Nov. 5.—Advices from Colon this morning state the day passed without striking developments. Soldiers, without officers, are camped outside the city, and they will soon be without food or money, and probably won't attempt a 45-mile march to attack the insurgents. The consular corps here has been officially notified that Panama has withdrawn from the Colombian government, and formed a republic. Consuls have been asked to acknowledge the receipt of this notice.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Officials state the navy department is more concerned than ever over the situation on the isthmus, advices from the commander of the Nashville this afternoon showing a serious condition at Colon, where the marines have remained ashore. A conference is being held at the headquarters of the marine corps by high ranking officers, which, it is believed, looks to the sending of a large additional force of marines to the isthmus.

A Malodorous Gang.
New York, Nov. 5.—Dixon was again on the stand today in the United States shipbuilding case, and was closely questioned regarding the cash on hand when the Crescent Shipbuilding Company was taken into the combine. He claimed the books showed the figures. Attorney Guthrie claimed that, while the books showed a surplus of $215,000, there was an actual deficit of $500,000. Dixon denied any such knowledge.

Dixon was asked a question on the expert's advice regarding the various plants. Guthrie wanted to know, sarcastically, what eminent expert appraised the Union Iron Works, of San Francisco, at $10,000,000? Dixon replied that he had a letter to that effect from Mr. Folger, and accountant in the employ of the Union Company.

Pope Will Send Commissioner.
Rome, Nov. 5.—The pope today received William Curtis, representative of the St. Louis Exposition, and informed him that he would send a commissioner to the fair. It will probably be Martinelli.

More Strikes Threatened

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The first of a series of strikes that may involve 40,000 Chicago workmen, was inaugurated this morning, when 1100 tanners and curriers struck at the American Hide & Leather Company's works. They demand $10 a week, and 10 hours a day. A second and more serious movement began at 4 o'clock this morning, when 2500 employes of the Chicago City Railway began balloting. A strike is expected that will tie up every road on the south side of the city. The packing trades' council this morning began a conference relative to a general strike in the stock yards.

The stock yards conference ended today in a compromise by which 1500 laborers in the canning departments, who struck for an increase of 2½ cents an hour accept one cent an hour, and will return to work. They have been out a week. There is a possibility the sausage-makers and packers may come to an agreement before night, thereby averting a general strike.

Sounds Like Old Times

Washington, Nov. 5.—The Indian office this morning received a dispatch from Agent Brannan, at Hot Springs, in which he urges that orders be issued to the governor of Wyoming to use all means to protect the Indians under arrest, as mob violence is threatened. Indian Commissioner Jones is indignant over the killing of the Indians, which he characterizes as murder, and an unpardonable outrage. He says that to defend themselves from attack by the sheriff's posse was not unreasonable. The governor of Wyoming has been appealed to protect the prisoners.

BOAT WITH LIGHT DRAFT.

Start Made on Vessel to Run Between Salem and Independence.

Independence, Or., Nov. 5.—Captain Skinner states that he will have the boat running between Salem and Independence within about three months from the present time. It will be built at this place. He is now getting out the timbers.

The intention is to make the boat of a large enough size to carry from 50 to 60 persons, and will make from two to three trips a day from Independence to Salem. Captain Skinner's boat will be able to run the year around and give passengers accommodation to Salem, which it is impossible to have from Independence, except by stage, during the summer months, at the present time.

The regular boats have not yet commenced to run, but it is thought that the water will be in a stationary condition from now on, and that there will be a sufficient supply to put the boats on their regular runs within a few weeks at latest.

Prof. Mommsen Buried.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Professor Mommsen was buried today. The funeral oration was delivered by Professor Herck, the closest friend of the deceased. A number of prominent persons attended, including Crown Prince Frederick, who represented the Kaiser. The latter went to Wolsinagren this morning, to return the visit of the

Charged With Grand Larceny In New York

President of the Citizens Light and Power Company--Nine Charges Against Him

Seattle, Nov. 5.—Frank B. Poor, president of the Citizens' Light & Power Company, was arrested this morning on a telegraphic communication from New York, charging him with grand larceny on nine counts. Poor is being held on a fugitive warrant. The New York authorities have been notified, and asked for more details. Poor came here last summer to organize the above named gas company, to fight the old company of the same name. He is a member of the famous Poor family, of New York, connected for more than 30 years with the stock exchange and was a member of the Marquand & Trank Company, of Wall street, brokers, which failed in the crash two years ago. There are six charges of grand larceny against Poor, one for taking $9000 in bonds of the St. Louis & Iron Mountain railroad.

Hanna's Advice Not Heeded

Washington, Nov. 5.—The President has received the resignation of Judge Shiras, of the federal court for the northern district of Iowa. He also today appointed Judge Daniel Wright, of Cincinnati, to be judge of the supreme court of the District of Columbia. It is understood the appointment was made in spite of the opposition of George Cox, Republican boss of Cincinnati, and against the advice of Hanna. Wright has been identified with the independent wing of the Republican party.

Two More Banks Go.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Nov. 5.—The Bi-metallic bank failed to open its doors this morning, and indirectly involved the failure of the First National at Victor; capitalized at $100,000, with nearly $250,000 deposits.

Took a Swear, Themselves.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—The state rested its case in the Farris bribery trial this morning. Senator Farris then took the stand, and denied every allegation made by ex-Lieutenant-Governor Lee. He denied having any conversation with Lee regarding the alum bill. Senator Haynes testified along the same line.

Nine May Be Dead.

Peckskill, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The Iona island death list, from the explosion yesterday, may reach nine. Three workmen are still missing, and may be in the debris.

Hill Reappointed.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The President today reappointed James G. Hill federal judge of Indian Territory.

Gompers Is Pessimistic

Washington, Nov. 5.—Gompers, at next Monday's meeting of the Federation of Labor, will sound a note of warning in addresses containing 20,000 words. He believes industrial reaction has set in, and that labor must face a depression, rather than fight for a further increase. The prospect of Gompers' re-election are growing brighter. Vice-President Duncan, who has been brought forward to head the Mitchell faction, is said to have announced to his friends that he won't seek the presidency, unless Gompers withdraws from the contest. Gompers won't consent to this.

They Failed In Africa

New York, Nov. 5.—On the majestic which arrived today, were 12 American negroes, who went to Liberia to experiment in cotton culture, with a view to future colonization from the United States. The experiment was a failure, and they had barely enough money to return home.

Another Bank Fails.

Pueblo, Col., Nov. 5.—The Pueblo Title Trust Co., one of the largest banking institutions in the city, failed to open its doors this morning. It is capitalized at a quarter of a million, and was recently purchased by the Woods Investment Co., of Cripple Creek, owners of the First National bank of Victor, which failed yesterday.

Pretty Restaurant Girl May Become Sister-in-Law to His Nibs the Duke of Roxburgh

New York, Nov. 5.—It is reported that Robert Golet, Jr., brother of May, will be married this evening to the daughter of a chop house keeper, Ella Anderson. She is a striking blonde, well educated, but without means. Golet fell heir to half a million in cash, and in two years more comes into full possession of an enormous fortune.

Four Lawyers to Stir the Fog

In the justice court this afternoon the case of Edward Eberhardt, plaintiff, vs. M. A. and Clarence Bunce, defendants, a case of forcible entry and detainer, is on trial. This is the suit that grew out of the criminal charge against Mr. Bunce, tried last week. Mr. Eberhardt alleges that he had a lease on the Bunce farm; that the place was taken away from him, and that his household goods were thrown into the yard. The Bunces allege that the lease has expired, and they have taken possession of their own. The case is being tried before Justice Morgan, and there is a cloud of witnesses to testify before the court. W. H. and Webster Holmes are plaintiff's attorneys, and W. M. Kaiser and John Bayne appear for defendants.
