Automobile drivers who are exceeding the speed limit pay scant attention, as a rule, to bicycle policemen who order them to stop, so one of the wheel squad has mastered the unique and hazardous feat of swinging from his wheel to an automobile while it is going at full speed. For several weeks the bicycle policeman has practiced this feat, using autos whose drivers assisted in the test. In the future, it is safe to say, that autoists while driving over his particular route, at least will comply with the law's demands regarding speed.

POPULAR LOAN IS DEMANDED

The People Should Have First Right to Buy

Proposition to Refund 30,000 Dollars of Old City Bonds Drawing Five Percent Into Four Percents

A few words of information, in relation to the proposed bond issue of $30,000 are due the voters and taxpayers of the city of Salem, in order that they may go to the polls on December 7th with a correct understanding of the matter they are expected to vote upon.

The charter of Salem forbids the creation of any bonded debt by its common council without having first obtained the assent of the majority of the taxpayers of said city paying taxes upon property within the city, and as no exceptions are made in the provisions referred to for bonding to redeem a debt already existing, it is imperative that the vote be taken upon ALL propositions to issue bonds in any sum; hence, the call for a popular vote at the coming election on this matter.

This request for permission to issue a new series of bonds is made by the council for the purpose of paying off an old obligation of the city, negotiated in 1886, for the payment of the city's share of the cost of building the steel bridge over the Willamette river, or, rather the first installment thereof, the sum of $20,000 being represented by another and later issue of bonds, not yet due. The $30,000 is now two years overdue, as the redemption, having fallen due on October 1, 1901.

Now it becomes the bounden duty of the city to take care of the loan, and the people are asked to vote the necessary authority for her officers to negotiate a redemption loan in the sum of $30,000 to pay off the old and overdue obligation. It is no new debt. The city is not in funds to pay it off in cash, nor will she be for a long while to come, hence the alternative of extending the loan under new provisions, as supplied by the existing charter.

This charter provides for issuing bonds, upon authority voted by the people, at 4 per cent interest per annum, and no more, for a term of ten years, and no more, and this to be optional with the city.

An affirmative vote on this matter is absolutely essential. It is not a question for hanging any obstructive theories upon; the debt must be provided for under charter law, or the discreditable alternative of compelling owners of the bonds to go to the courts for payment.

When the people have given the council the requisite mandate for proceeding with this important piece of business, the work should be done along the lines of the previous popular home loan made by this city. This should become the fixed policy of the city administration and should be respected, whatever the personnel or political prejudices of the incoming council. This is the only system by which the money of the city can be kept at home; by which the principal and interest can be distributed among the people paying the taxes; by which the popular interest and solicitude for good government can be created and maintained; by which the predatory Eastern banker and broker can be kept at bay, and the money of the community made to do duty for the stockholders of the corporation.

MARRIED.

WILSON-TIBBITTS.—At the home of the bride, No. 100 South Commercial street, South Salem, Oregon, Thursday, November 26, 1903, at 2 o'clock p. m. Rebecca D. Tibbitts to Mr. Marcellus D. Wilson, Rev. Gordon, of the Leslie M. B. church, officiating.

The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate relatives and a couple of friends being in attendance. The bride is an old-time resident of South Salem, and the groom came here a few years ago, and is in the real estate business. Both are well along in years, and have a host of friends, who wish them all the happiness incident to married life. The newly wedded couple is residing at the home of the bride.

Secession Movement is Serious.

Panama, Nov. 28.—An American traveling man, who has just arrived here from Buena Ventura, on the steamer Manani, after a stay of 20 days in the Department of Cauca, reported that the feeling of unrest in Cauca and Antioquia continues. He says the secession movement there has the support of many prominent men, including a number of high officials. An outbreak was recently started in Cali, the business center of the Cauca department, but the authorities quickly suppressed it, and arrested the ringleaders, who suffered no harm, probably because of the sympathies of the officials with the movement.

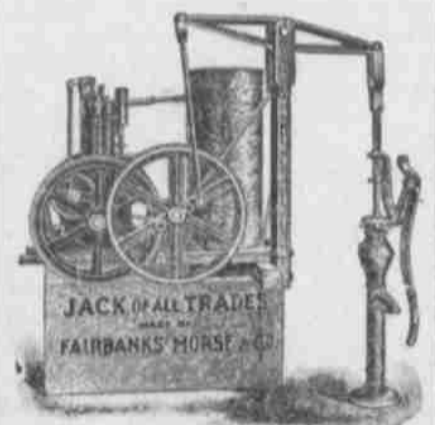

The secession movement, this man says, is serious, but it is impossible to foretell what will be done, or when any steps will be undertaken. He also says there is no evidence of any warlike or aggressive movements against Panama; there is plenty of threatening talk, but no action.

The Americans at Cali have not been molested. The authorities at Buena Ventura, the traveler says, were inclined to be annoying when he left there, but nothing serious had happened.

'FRISCO MERCHANT SUICIDES.

A Remarkable Case That is Completely Surrounded by Mystery.

New York, Nov. 28.—Victor Banner, a retired San Francisco merchant, killed himself in a fashionable boarding house here today, by shooting. Mystery surrounds the suicide. Banner left a note to his brother, Simon B. Banner, a merchant of this city. He appeared to have plenty of money. No cause is known.

Gasoline Engines For Spraying

The above cut represents a Jack of All Trades mounted to pump from a well. We sell them for most every purpose under the sun, chief among which is for spraying orchards or hop yards. The season for orchards will soon be on, and we have just received a "Jack" complete with pump and apparatus to complete the spray outfit. Will be glad to have you call and see this outfit in a few days when it is ready for inspection. Orchard men especially should look it over.
