LOOKING FOR A WIFEY

If You Have Ever Engaged In That Pastime

You will Enjoy the Dramatic Presentation of That Delightful Occupation.

One of the best attractions that will visit Salem will be the big farce comedy "Looking for a Wifey." With a company of twenty-five people and elaborate special scenery and effects it is said to be one of the best of this class of attractions traveling. The comedy is in three acts and deals with the troubles of an Irishman, Howe Green by name and nature. Greene went directly from Ireland to the Klondyke when the gold fever first broke out, and, being one of the lucky ones, has made more money than he knows what to do with; therefore he is investing it in everything and everybody. Incidentally, he is looking for a wife, and around his efforts in this direction whirrs the plot of the play, and many of the funniest situations are brought about by his desire to secure a wife. The principal parts are in the hands of capable and competent people who have been selected by the management for their adaptability to portray the different parts for which they are cast. They are assisted by a chorus of clever and pretty girls, and the latest musical numbers are introduced, catchy songs and dances being scattered throughout the entire production. Special scenery and effects are used for the whole piece and costumes are novel and beautiful. The date of the engagement in our city is Saturday, Nov. 28. Seats on sale at box-office Saturday at 9 a. m. Curtains at 8:15.

Humors of the Blood

Cause many troubles,—pimples, boils and other eruptions, besides loss of appetite, that tired feeling, fits of biliousness, indigestion and headache.
