

BRET HARTE'S STORY

"Tennessee's Pardner at the Opera House Wednesday Night

Weldoman's Big Show, an attraction well known to the theatre goers of the west, opens a four night engagement at the Grand Opera House commencing Wednesday, Dec. 9th. They carry 25 people and band and orchestra. The players are all new to our theatre goers. The opening bill is "Tennessee's Pardner," dramatized from Bret Harte's story. The secret of the wonderful success of this play seems to be in the naturalness of the characters, the picturesque environment, the witty dialogue and clever story, and above all the marks of the author, Bret Harte, the greatest historian of the West. The cast is strong in every particular and the scenic effects are ample.

A feature that will please is the High Class Vaudeville between acts, making a continuous performance. The offering for Wednesday night is Nellie Weldoman in an entirely new and startling Electric Dance, Ben Brown, the Baritone Vocalist with a melange of the latest successes, Pickett & Whipple, a team of clever dancers from the Orpheum Circuit, Frank Arthur, the interpreter of Coonism, and Cris Allen, in a few pertinent remarks in regard to the ladies and the Panama question. The prices for this engagement are 15c, 25c and 35c. The sale of seats opens at the box office on Wednesday. An entire change of play and vaudeville is made 8:15.

A LITTLE OUTCAST TONIGHT

Spectacular Effects in the Great Dock Fire Scene

One act in "A Little Outcast" which will be seen at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday requires a sixty (60) foot car to hold this one set alone. The stage is cleared of every bit of scenery to make room for this gigantic setting and when the curtain rises one of the finest stage pictures ever attempted is seen—a beautiful scene of New York Harbor.

The tall towerlike edifices and the great dome of the World building, which are visible from the Battery, are brilliant with hundreds of lights and stand out against the night sky in a golden glory. The fire which leaps out from the great buildings along the dock taxed the skill of the electricians to perfect it, and the result of their work is so effective that it is difficult to believe that one is not in the presence of the real thing, and as a spectacular feature it is unrivaled. Curtain rises at 8:15.

Popular Portland Theater.

Policemen in Portland, Oregon, are much dissatisfied with the new charter of that city, as it has prevented them from making "side" money. When George L. Baker, manager of the Baker Enterprise, produced "The King of the Oplum Ring," at the Empire Theater, he offered to place seven policemen on a salary during the run of that play, the officers being wanted to add realism in a Chinatown raid. The opportunity was such that the policemen, who were not on night duty, were eager to accept, as they would be making as much for five minutes work at each performance as they received from the city for a day's services. A question was raised as to the rights of officers in doing outside work, and as a result the policemen had to forego the opening to increase their bank account. There is a clause in the charter which explicitly declares that all rewards, gifts, and presents given to officers, other than their regular salary from the municipality, shall be contributed to the police relief fund. Under the circumstances, there was nothing for manager Baker to do but engage supers.

Bride Won Through Cartoons.

While Senator Thomas C. Platt, of New York, was enjoying his recent honeymoon he was approached by a certain Pennsylvania politician of note, an old personal political friend, who said: "See here, senator, you won't mind if I say confidentially that you're no raving beauty. Now, what I'd like to know is how your wife was ever attracted to such a plain person as you are?"

"I'm glad you asked me," returned the senator, smiling broadly, "and I'll tell you—in the strictest confidence, of course. She first fell in love with me through seeing the newspaper pictures which the cartoonists make of me. You Pennsylvania fellows made a mighty serious mistake when you abolished cartoons—you'll never any of you get married."—Philadelphia Post.

Worthy Tribute.

How dear to our hearts is the old yellow pumpkin, when orchards are barren of stuffing for pies; when peaches and apples have been a dead failure, and berries of no kind have greeted your eyes. How fondly we turn to the ten-acre corn field, that many are thoughtless enough to despise—the beautiful pumpkin, the mud-covered pumpkin, the big yellow pumpkin that makes the good pies.—Columbia City (Ind.) Mail.

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Glover Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary.

On the 17th of November Philip Glover and Delilah Glover celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, at their home, three-quarters of a mile north of Sublimity, Oregon.

Philip Glover and Delilah Edmanson were married near their present home by Rev. Thos. B. Small on November 17, 1853. They have continuously resided on their donation land claim ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Glover crossed the plains in 1848. They have eight children living. Mrs. Louisa Loomis, Ilwaco, Wash.; Mr. Henry Glover, formerly of Idaho, but now en route to the old home; Miss Amella Glover, Ilwaco, Wash.; John Glover, Sublimity, Or.; Arthur Glover, Salem, Or.; Frank Glover, Polk county; Ella Lambert, Stayton, Or.; Geo. Glover, Salem, Or.; besides quite a number of grandchildren. They are both enjoying reasonably good health, which their numerous friends in every section of the state will be pleased to hear, and who will heartily congratulate them upon their long and happy wedded life.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over 35 years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system, and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. At Dr. Stone's drug stores.

Circled the Globe.

John S. Flower, a Salem boy who left this city in April, 1900, for a trip abroad in the hope of restoring his shattered health, returned last Sunday, and will remain in this city for a time, staying with his father, John H. Flower. During his trip the young man visited many countries, and practically encircled the globe. Last Christmas he spent in South Africa, and during his stay he visited many of the important places in that country, and from Capetown he went to Sidney and Melbourne, Australia, spending some time in that colony, before starting on his trip home to Salem. The young man, before he left Salem, was an employe of the insane asylum. His health gave way, and his physicians told him that he was going into consumption, the disease to which his mother fell a victim, and the lad, hoping to restore his health by a change of climate, started on a trip around the world, working his way, and that way visiting many interesting countries. He enjoyed the trip very much, and returns with his health completely restored. He will remain in Salem for some time, and has already gone to work with his father, for idleness is an unknown vice with him.
