HOLIDAY MAGAZINES AND BOOKS

New Edition of Stories About the Ancient Greeks.

The Kindergarten Magazine for December is a grand symposium of the best thought of child educators of the age. The papers by Earl Barnes, Prof. Dewey and other leaders are very fine in this number. If you would get fundamental matter on progressive thought in the line of teaching, this magazine is a good place to get it. Fine Arts Building, Chicago.

Out West, (edited by Chas. F. Lumis and published at Los Angeles) is making an extra bid for new subscribers this year, both by presenting some unusual features in its program for 1904 and by novel but very attractive premium offer. The latter consists of a portfolio containing portraits of sixteen of those living authors whose work counts for the most in western literature. These are artists' proof sheets from litho-tint engravings made from recent photographs, most of which have never before been reproduced. Each will carry the author's autograph signature in facsimile. They will be sent loose for framing, if desired, and will be very well worth the frame.

Parlor Plays.

There is a revival of light parlor plays, suited to from three to six characters, and in this line Small, Maynard & Company, Boston, have published a bright collection by M. G. E. M. Mason, a writer of acknowledged grace and ability. Four of the collection have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. This volume is called "A Bunch of Roses."

Animal Fables.

Wanderfolk in Wonderland is the name of a holiday quarterly written in a rather heavy style of humor that children consider something funny, but that an adult can hardly call sidesplitting. The illustrations are red-sousing and the whole is innocent, harmless reading that goes a long way to redeem dull hours for the children. Small Maynard & Co., publishers, Boston.

The House Beautiful.

Those who are building homes or those who have homes and desire to make them more beautiful should get acquainted with this magazine published by Herbert S. Stone, Eldredge Court, Chicago. There are twenty departments, illustrated many of them, and the whole purpose is to center in the home all that is sweet, bright, beautiful and charming. This

The Craftsman.

For December number of this monthly published at Syracuse, N. Y., has a rich variety that appeals to all lovers of beautiful and artistic handicrafts, architecture, coin collectors, silversmith work, oriental decorative art and many other departments are covered in reading and pictures. This number contains a special article from the pen of William Morris, not heretofore published.

The Christmas "American Boy".

The December number of The American Boy (Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.) comes to us this month in enlarged form and in number of pages. Seldom have we seen between the covers of a magazine a greater amount and variety of matter of special interest to boys than this number contains. The notable features of the number are the first chapters of a story by Kirk Munroe, who has just returned from a trip around the world and is writing for The American Boy, the story being entitled, "The Blue Dragon—a story of the Chinese people" there are a number of other good stories and illustrated articles. Whole pages are given to each of the following departments: The Order of the American Boy; Boys' Books Reviewed; With the Boys; Stamps, Coins and Curios; The Boy Photographer; Boys in the Home, Church and School; Boy Money Makers and Money Savers; The American Boy Lyceum, and Puzzles. Its pages are enlivened with seventy-one pictures. $1.00 a year. Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

Stories of the Ancient Greeks.

Ginn & Co., Publishers have issued a very attractive book for children called Stories of the Ancient Greeks by Chas. D. Shaw, price by mail 70c. This collection of stories of the ancient Greeks is intended for supplementary reading, and may be used profitably as early as the third year. It includes many of the charming tales of the Greek mythology retold in a manner suitable for young people. The second part of the volume deals more particularly with Greek history. The familiar stories are given in chronological order. Sufficient attention is everywhere paid to the matter of guarding the reader against implicit belief in tales which have been partially discredited by modern research. Yet it has been thought wise to keep in currency narratives which have so long added to the pleasure of the world, though they cannot be defended as actual history.

The style is picturesque, and vivacious. The twenty-five full-page illustrations, from original decorative pen drawings, are unusually attractive, and really help to explain the text. The special cream tinted paper, the attractive binding, and artistic arrangement of type and illustrations, give a pleasing and appropriate setting to the text.

CHILD LABOR LAW.

Will Not Interfere With Attractions On the Stage.

Theatrical managers in Portland, Oregon, have effected a compromise with the Child Labor Commission and hereafter children under 16 years old will be permitted to appear in the first-class theatres of Oregon. George L. Baker, manager of the Baker Enterprises, had prepared to cancel his contract with the well-known Pollard Juvenile Opera Company because of the construction placed on the law by the commission. Legal advice, however, showed Mr. Baker that the treaty rights existing between the United States and England permitted the Pollards, who come from Australia, to play in Oregon, despite the child labor law. The inter-state laws also nullified the Oregon child labor law, respecting stage children, and upon this showing the commission withdrew all opposition. The managers however agreed to co-operate with the commission and prevent children from participating in any act that would be injurious to little people.

ANOTHER ROSEBURG HOLD-UP

Member of Wiedeman's Show Robbed of Wealth

On the corner occupied by the Presbyterian church in Roseburg, about 12 o'clock last night, just across the street from where G. C. Clayton was robbed last Tuesday night, and by a man whose description almost tallies with the one who committed that robbery, John King, leading man with the Wiedeman theatrical troupe, now playing in this city, was held up by a lone highwayman, and relieved of about $9 in cash. As Mr. King approached the church corner on his way to the company's car, to retire for the night, he was hailed by some man in the dark, coming from the direction of the Empire stables. Thinking it another member of the troupe, who was also going to the car, Mr. King stopped and waited for him. A moment later he was looking into the muzzle of a blackened Colt's revolver, held by the man for whom he had waited, and, complying with the demand to hold up his hands. With unsteady hands the robber kept Mr. King covered, and relieved him of his cash. Then placing the muzzle of the gun against Mr. King's head, the robber started to escort him toward the Empire stables. The robber's hands were still trembling, and Mr. King began to get nervous for fear of being shot.

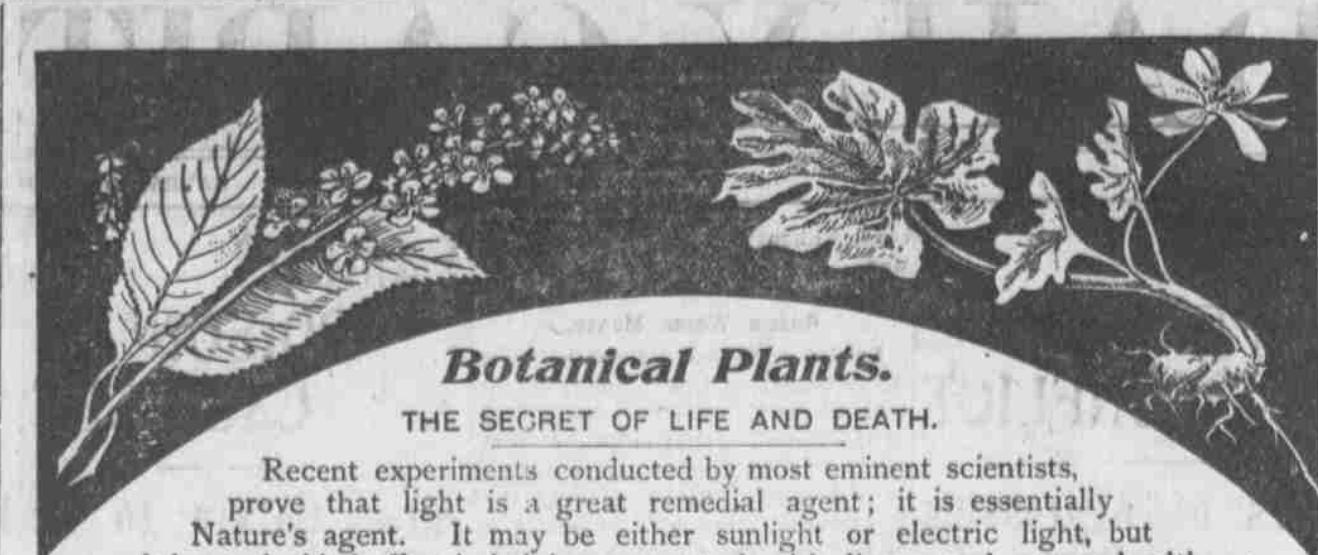

"Take that gun away, will you?" said King. "You've got my money, now let me go."

The gun was lowered a trifle, but the robber refused to leave his victim until the stables were reached. Here the robber prepared to leave King, and did something which showed that he was a green hand at the business.

"Have you got a gun on you?" asked the robber, and King was actually allowed to put both of his hands in his rear pockets and pull out a handkerchief from each to show Mr. King he had no gun.

"You can go now," said the highwayman, but as King turned to comply the robber stopped him.

"Let me see if you have a watch." Fortunately King had none on his person, and was allowed to go. His description of the robber is as follows: About six feet tall and slender build; had on a soft, light-colored hat, light-colored coat and bib overalls, blue with stripes. The robber wore a bandana handkerchief over the lower part of his face. About the only way in which the man differs from the description of the man who held up Clayton, is that the robber of last night had a blackened revolver and Botanical Plants.

THE SECRET OF LIFE AND DEATH.

Recent experiments conducted by most eminent scientists prove that light is a great remedial agent; it is essentially Nature's agent. It may be either sunlight or electric light, but it has a decided effect in helping nature to banish disease and restore health. Other scientific men have proved that oxygen electrifies the heart and can prolong life.

The people on this earth are susceptible to some laws which govern plant life. A plant cannot be successfully grown in the dark. A man is seldom healthy and strong who lives in the dark or in sunless rooms. After all, Nature's ways are found to be the best. A man who lives close to nature in God's free air, in the woods or fields, is usually a healthier man than the one confined in factory or workshop. Nature's remedies are always best for eradicating disease, and by this we mean a medicine made of plants and herbs. The American Indians have known for centuries of certain roots and herbs that were useful in curing disease.

Get as near to Nature's way as you can. There's a reason. Vegetable foods are the best for the body in health. The human economy digests and assimilates them best. In disease, remedies made entirely of botanical plants and roots are best and safest for the system. They are assimilated in the stomach and taken up by the blood and are, therefore, the most potent means which can be employed for the regaining of lost health. Dr. R. V. Pierce, consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., in many years of extensive practice, found that he could pin his faith to an alternative extract of certain plants and roots for the cure of all blood diseases. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Containing no alcohol nor narcotics, entirely vegetable, this "Discovery" makes rich red blood and is a powerful tissue-builder, gives the tired business man or woman renewed strength and health. Rapidly growing school-girls and boys often show impoverished blood by the pimples or boils which appear on face or neck. To eradicate the poisons from the blood, and feed the heart, lungs and stomach on pure blood, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Nothing spoils the red corpuscles of the blood and causes such paleness of the face as malaria, this is also true of the grip. If you "put your house in order" by making the blood pure you will not be subject to such troubles. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce is just the thing for those who are recovering from attacks of the grip, malaria, or typhoid. It is a reconstructive tonic whose effect is to increase the blood cells rapidly—increasing the red blood corpuscles, bringing back color to the face—restoring appetite and strength. In the case of aged men and women it is a tonic which prolongs life and vitality.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signatures of the individuals volunteering the testimonials below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"Some time has elapsed since I have written you in regard to the treatment I have been taking under your instructions," says Mr. E. F. Gingmars, of 533 Penn Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn. "When first I commenced taking your remedies I had been for four months under treatment of a well-known specialist in this city for catarrh and stomach trouble, rapidly getting worse. Got so bad that I could not eat anything that did not distress me terribly and I was obliged to quit taking the doctor's treatment entirely. I was greatly reduced in flesh. As a last resort I wrote to you and stated my case, and after receiving your instructions I followed them closely. After taking five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets' I commenced to improve, and decided to continue the medicines and observe your instructions regarding hygienic treatment. It is now nearly six months since I commenced your treatment and I can say that I am well and never felt better in my life. Am very grateful to you for what your medicine has done for me."

"It has been about two months since I stopped using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes J. M. Venters, Esq., of Regina, Pike Co., Ky. "I stayed down in Texas last year and contracted chills and fever while there. I came back to Kentucky and was about shaking my boots off my feet when I commenced using it. I only weighed 149 pounds. Had been suffering with chills and fever for twelve months. Took treatment from my doctor and tried many kinds of patent medicines, and all seemed to do no good. Since I have used four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and one vial of his 'Pellets', I feel well in every respect and weigh 186 pounds instead of only 149, my weight when I began its use. I advise the whole South to keep it in their homes all the time, and I will guarantee they will have no more chills and fever if used as directed."
