

YOU WILL BE ALL SMILES AGAIN

Forget your stomach and You'll Have a Santa Claus Face.

HOW TO DO IT.

If there is one thing more than all others that will give a man a forlorn and friendless appearance and make him morbid and "cranky" and disagreeable, that thing is dyspepsia. It makes one forget his friends and become morose and irritable. He is wrapped up in his own misery that he is inconsiderate of every one else. Believed of this terrible and depressing ailment, he again becomes a good fellow and a man among men.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are beyond question the most effective and regular remedy ever offered to the sufferers of this terrible disease. The thousands and thousands of cures they have brought about; and the enormous increase of their sales fully attest the truth of this statement.

They are, above all, a natural remedy. They possess exactly the same properties that the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach possess and they actually do the digestive work of the stomach and enable that organ to rest and recuperate and become sound and well. They act in a mild, natural manner and cause no disturbance in the digestive organs. They prevent any fermentation of the food which causes sour stomach. In fact, under their influence the subject forgets that he has a stomach and his resulting cheerfulness presents a great contrast to his former dejection.

Millions of boxes of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold annually and they are but in the dawn of their popularity. Every mail brings letters of thanksgiving from grateful ones who have been cured of this terrible disease. The following is one of hundreds received each week:

Rev. J. R. Hoag of Wymore, Neb., writes: "For six years I have been troubled with dyspepsia. Last fall I became very much alarmed at some symptoms of heart trouble and came to believe there was a sympathetic relation between these two diseases, or rather, that the stomach trouble was the cause of the heart disturbance. I hit upon Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for a remedy and invested a dollar and a half for three boxes which lasted me three months and I can eat any kind of food I want and have a good, vigorous appetite. Although I am 77 years old, I now feel perfectly well and without being requested by anyone I make this statement as a compliment to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

CHILD LABOR.

What Its Effect Will Be in Theatrical Matters.

Children are not permitted to participate in any theatrical entertainment in Oregon, owing to the Child Labor Law, which was enacted at the legislative session last winter and but recently became operative. The attention of local managers was brought to the law when they received notice to discharge their program boys and the boys who distributed water. This was complied with by the managers of the Marquam Grand, the Baker Empire and Cordray's theatres. But the commissioners did not stop at that. When "Ben Hur" arrived the commissioners ordered the discharge of a dozen youngsters who were assisting in the making of a stage picture. The next step was the removal of juvenile performers from the van deville houses. What the next move will be remains a matter of speculation and the managers would like an explanation. It will affect a number of shows coming into Portland, and throughout the State for that matter, if the commissioners are correct in their stand and refuse to make concessions.

The Pollard Juvenile Opera Company, of Australia, which filled several engagements during the past three years, will be affected seriously, unless some loophole is discovered. This company has been booked by manager George L. Baker, of the Baker Enterprises, for Portland, the company coming to that city after completing a tour in California, where the organization is at present. In less degree, it will interfere with Mr. Stoddard in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," at the Marquam Grand, to say nothing of several rural dramas on the road to the Pacific coast, and the numberless "Uncle Tom" shows. The latter may escape, however, as "little Eva" is generally supposed to be somewhere near fifty years old.

The case of the Pollards, however, is particularly interesting as it may involve international law and treaty rights to some extent. Manager Baker says that he does not know what he will do yet in the premises. He is willing to obey the law, and if the playgoers of Portland do not want to see the Australian children, then he is willing to cancel the contract, but in the event of a demand, the manager will probably have the rights of the Pollards investigated by law. While the question involved is very hazy at the present time, the public appears to believe that the Pollards are protected by treaty, and as for Eastern companies, the labor commissioners cannot interfere with them without violating interstate laws.

It was not the intention of the legislature to have the law annoy the theatrical business, but under the construction of the law given by the labor commissioners, the theatres are about the only place where the commissioners are seeking for violations. Should the labor commission be correct in their stand, it will necessitate scores of theatrical companies avoiding any town in Oregon and will cause such companies to jump from California to Washington without a break.

Alcohol and Its Effects.

(From Harper's Weekly.) The committee of fifty scientists which has for ten years been studying the liquor question has issued its fourth preliminary report in two volumes. The following are the main conclusions drawn: Effects of moderate or occasional use of alcoholic drinks differ with individuals, age, occupation and climate. With the majority of occasional and moderate drinkers no special effect upon health seems to be observed by themselves or their physicians, in some such

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vipers may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate dandruff and stop the falling hair? No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life. Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use." It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Daniel J. Fry, Special Agent.

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

"I am so thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. John T. Smith, of Slocan, B. C., Box 50. "It cured me of a disease which was taking away all my strength, helped me through the long months before baby came and I have a big strong baby girl, the most healthy and happy of all my three."

MAKES THE DIFFERENCE.

cases drinking is harmful; in a few it is thought to be beneficial. Eighty per cent of the leading brain-workers of the United States use alcoholic drinks occasionally or regularly or in moderation. The use of such drinks to stimulate mental effort gives on the whole, bad results. Even occasional or moderate use is likely to be harmful to young persons, mainly because of the danger of its leading to excess. Among diseased or infirm persons over fifty years of age, alcoholic beverages, while sometimes useful, should be taken, if at all, with the last meal of the day. "Fine old whiskies" and "fine old brandies" are as likely to produce injurious effects as are the cheaper sorts, if taken in the same quantities. In moderate quantities, wine and diluted whiskey have a certain food value, but they are seldom used for food purposes—rather for their effects on the brain. In large quantities, and for some persons even in moderate quantities, they are a poison. Alcoholic drinks in moderate quantities may be useful as restoratives in fatigue after work is done, but they often produce depression and harmful results, when used just before and during labor, physical or mental.

BAN ON CORSETS.

Englishwomen Waging a Crusade Against Time Honored Article.

Perhaps it is too much to say that the "new woman" has inaugurated a campaign against feminine traditions but it is certain that from Leeds and Birmingham blasts have been sounded upon the trumpets of the anticorset crusade, while in London and the suburbs the new rainy day skirt, which within the last few months has been seen in large numbers, is already working a reform in teaching women to be careful how they walk, says the New York Herald.

Leagues have been formed for the suppression of that first mentioned article, which has so long been regarded as essential to feminine dress, and men are being enrolled among the members.

That women are bad walkers—many being pigeon-toed—is declared to be one revelation of the new skirt. Physical culturists, discussing the question say the greatest offender is the "mannish girl," whose attempt to assume man's ease and freedom is an absurd mimicry. Watch a woman going up stairs at a railway station. In nine cases out of ten they will plod laboriously up, their feet coming down at either side of the stairs, toes turned in. In sitting, too, women are guilty of

We do what We Claim

We kill and remove cancers and tumors without the aid of a knife.

Read the testimony of a prominent Salem man: TO THE PUBLIC. In justice to Dr. Cook, and that the world may know what great work he is doing, I wish to inform them that I have been taking treatment from him for the past fifteen months and in that time he has removed from my alimentary canal three tumors of cancerous growths, as large as a man's hand, all from the larger intestine. Also another cancerous growth from off my right right foot and another from my right thumb. This has all been accomplished through medicines alone, they killing the growth and the spider like roots and nature itself casting them off, without the aid of knife or surgery. I do not believe I could have found equally successful treatment anywhere in the world and cheerfully recommend Dr. J. F. Cook, the Botanical Doctor, to all who read this testimonial. R. J. Spencer. We can do as much for you or more if you need it.
