SALEM SOCIAL DOINGS

The beautiful family home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Byrd, at 207 Union street, was the scene of a family reunion on New Year's day, the occasion being the 50th wedding anniversary of the aged couple. The guests assembled before noon, and spent a delightful afternoon and evening. All the relatives and a few of their old neighbors from their former home at Fairfield were present. A bountiful dinner was served at noon, which was discussed with Oregon appetites, equally good young and old by all present. The afternoon was spent in a most pleasant way.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrd are old pioneers of Oregon. Lorenzo A. Byrd was born on a farm near Batesville, Independence county, Arkansas, December 10, 1822. He crossed the plains, starting April 15, 1846, in a party under the guidance of Rev. Josephus Cornwall, a noted missionary of those days, and located in the Waldo Hills, in Marion county, Oregon. He went to the California mines in 1848, and in 1852 he settled on a homestead on the French Prairie, 15 miles north of Salem, where he resided until he moved to Salem about 10 years ago. On January 1st he was united in marriage to Miss Martha C. Savage, who was born in Missouri, December 3, 1836. She crossed the plains with her parents in 1850, her father being Dr. John Savage, for many years a popular physician and farmer in Marion county. Eight children were born to them, all of whom are living and were present at the reunion. They are: Dr. W. H. Byrd, Roy D. Byrd and Bertha Byrd, of Salem, Oregon; J. C. Byrd and Edgar F. Byrd, of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. William Haggar and L. A. Byrd, of Fairfield, Ore., and Miss Virginia Byrd, of Roseburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrd are both in good health, and this event will linger long in the minds of those present, as it was one of the most enjoyable gatherings in the history of the family. It is not often that a family reunion can be so complete as this was, where all the children were present. Mr. and Mrs. Byrd have many friends in the Capital City who will join in wishing them many more years of happy married life, and the success that has always attended them.

Watch Night Service.
A watch night service was held at the First Methodist church on New Year's eve, and there was a good attendance of both the members of the church and the Epworth Leaguers. The services began at 9:30 and lasted until after the old year had departed, and the bright new year appeared, which means so much to all. There was quite an interesting program, which began with a song service led by Prof. Drew. From 10 to 11 was the social hour, in charge of the Epworth League, then there was a short talk by Professor Reynolds, Bible reading by Mr. Goode and the devotional service was led by Mr. Gilbert. At 11 to 11:40 Dr. Heppie preached on the theme: "The Hour Has Come."

Just before midnight the entire congregation joined in a consecration service, led by Dr. Watters. The meeting was closed with the doxology, benediction and congratulations.

Turner Sunday School Officers.
The Methodist Sunday School, of Turner, has elected the following officers for the coming year: Superintendent, G. A. G. Moore; assistant superintendent, Mrs. Ora H. A. Bear; secretary, Miss Alta Osborn; assistant secretary, Miss May Reese; treasurer, Miss Lydia Smith; librarian, Fred Moore; organist, Miss Ruby Crandall; assistant chorister, Miss Nellie Durfee; superintendent of the Cradle Roll, Mrs. Rogers; superintendent of Home Department, G. A. G. Moore.

Woodburn Girl to 'Frisco.
Miss Mable Whitney, who has been making her home at the Cottage Hotel, went to Woodburn yesterday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Whitney, and will leave Sunday for San Francisco, to spend the winter for the benefit of her health. She has resigned her position at Steusloff Bros' meat market.

At Labish Meadows.
A merry house party assembled for the Xmas dinner at the home of Hon. Mattie L. Jones at "Labish Meadows," six miles north of Salem. This was the first time that the hospitable doors of this spacious new residence had been thrown open. The reception hall was tastefully decorated with Oregon grapes and mistletoe, while in the parlor stood the traditional Xmas tree. The dining room, with its red finishings, presented a delightful scene, being a perfect bower of green, a tiny tree in the center adding to the effect, while the whole room was beautifully lighted by the soft glow of many red candles. Covers were laid for 20, and the guests who were of the family, enjoyed the first reunion for several years. The guests were: Mrs. S. Hovenden, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hovenden, Harold, Alfred and Wellington Gilbert and Grace Hovenden, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Kenady and Miss Dequis, of Woodburn; the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Misses Mabel, Ilda, Gertrude and Clare Jones, Ellis and Ronald Jones. The day and evening were very pleasantly spent by all. The Misses Jones are great social favorites at the Capital City.

Salemites at Chemawa.
The masquerade ball held in the armory at Chemawa on New Year's night was attended by the following Salem people, as the guests of Supt. T. W. Potter: Misses Luella and Jennie Good, Misses Nellie and Mollie Southwick, Misses Pearl and Ruby Goulet, Miss Ethel Calvert, Miss Margaret Parkhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Skiff, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Simpson, Mr. N. Keck, of Chicago, John and Louis Steinhilmer.

A Pleasant Evening.
One of the most pleasant events of the social realm this week was a delightful evening party given by Mrs. D. J. Fry last night in honor of the Misses Leda and Agnes Rice, of Portland, who were her guests during the holidays. Finch was the ruling pastime of the evening, and an original game, which caused much merriment among the guests was an "auction" of misrepresented articles. Music and bright conversation, together with these games, made the evening pass all too quickly. Refreshments were served which did credit to the hostess.

Those invited were: Misses Lena and Mary Payne, Grace and Mayme Babcock, Blanche and LaVerne Kautner, Beatrice Shelton, Marie Stone, Grace Damon, Hortense Eppey, Emily Jeffries, Gladys Farrar, Eunane Craig, Lena Simpson, Elvina Schoenfeldt, Lena and Agnes Rice; Messrs Ellis Purvine, Charles Fuller, Frank Douglas, H. H. Markle, Will Kautner, Sydney Morrison, Charles Roth, John Graber, James, Lloyd and Will Mott, Charles Eppey, Russell Farrar and Earl Sperry.

Woodmen Dance.
The New Year's dance given by Salem Camp No. 118, Woodmen of the World, last night, was one of the most successful functions of the season, and gave enjoyment to a large and select company of the members and friends of the order, and the ladies of the Women of Woodcraft. The dance was given in Tioga hall, and the excellent floor, the best of music and good company made the event one long to be remembered. A large crowd was present, and not only was the affair a social success, but financially as well. The committee arranging for the dance consisted of J. J. Lincor, A. L. Fraser and A. J. Basey, and the floor managers were J. L. Freeland and Frank Delany. So successful was this committee that it is planned to repeat the dance in a short time, when they will doubtless repeat their excellent work.

Will Play Football.
Monday afternoon, the Reliance football team, of California, and the first team from Chemawa will meet for a game on the Willamette field, and this promises to be the best game of the season. The Reliance team is one of the strongest on the coast, composed of the best players produced by the state of California, and they have been touring the Northwest, playing against the leading teams here. The game next Monday promises to be an excellent one, for the Indians from the Chemawa school are in perfect trim, and have the strongest team they ever put out. This will probably be the last game of the season, and it will be the best, for no such aggregations have met on Willamette field this season.

Our Record

Two years have passed since we entered our present quarters, and without thought of boasting we can say that our success has far exceeded our expectations.

Of the eleven years spent in old store our last year was the record-breaker, but 1902 left that year far behind. And now comes 1903, forging away ahead of all previous records. In fact,

Our total sales the past year were more than double our average sales for ten years in the old store

We do not ascribe our success entirely to the fact that we carry the largest stock of its kind in the valley, nor yet to the fact that we have one of the most convenient and well-lighted stores in Oregon, but more largely do we believe it is due to our business methods.

More than one has left our store without buying, because we had told him that the suit he was considering was not all wool. Yes, the truth has occasionally lost us a sale, but after all our patrons have learned that our word can at all times be relied upon, that no man ever takes cotton or shoddy goods from our store without knowing what he's getting, and that an unsatisfactory purchase is always gladly rectified.

As we enter upon the new year we shall redouble our efforts to merit your confidence, and we wish you one and all because they are pure coffees of highest grade. Years of experience in growing coffee; years of selecting and improving; years of testing and proving, are behind every ounce.

Value does not depend on price, but the price is based upon value. Chase & Sanborn's Coffees are far more economical than cheap brands whose sole merit lies in lowness of price, because they go further, to say nothing of the healthful enjoyment of drinking the world's best coffee.

We solicit the first order—your own satisfaction will bring the continual use.

Put up in one and two pound tin cans, under seal and name of Chase & Sanborn. Put up also in parchment lined, richly colored, imported fibre bags thus retaining the strength and freshness of the coffee until the last bean is used.

We have just added Chase & Sanborn's Coffees to our carefully selected stock, knowing that you would be more than pleased with them. If you have any doubt as to the quality, come and we will give you a sample free.

Probably a Misunderstanding.

Miss Neva Morley, who for the past six weeks filled the position of housekeeper for the family of T. J. Cronise, was yesterday placed under arrest at Stayton, on a warrant sworn out of Justice Horgan's court, and brought to this city, on a charge of stealing a gold ring from Miss Louise, the little daughter of Mrs. Cronise. Miss Morley recently left the Cronise home, and the ring having disappeared, the girl was suspected, and on a warrant being sworn out, Justice Horgan telephoned to Justice Queener, of Stayton, asking that official to have the girl taken in custody and searched. This was done, and she was found wearing the ring. The result is she was brought to Salem. She was released on her own recognizance until this morning, when she was arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and her trial was fixed for Monday.

Miss Morley declares her innocence, alleging that she traded rings with Miss Cronise, but this is denied by the latter. The ring in question of gold, set with rubies, garnets and pearls.
