

READY TO SANDBAG ROOSEVELT

The Hanna Cabal and Some of Those Who Compose It.

The "Hanna cabal" says the Washington correspondent of the New York Press, is still secretly plotting against Roosevelt, but the latter's friends are on the alert and purpose to "kill it dead" the very first time it shows its head.

Hanna's determination not to accede to the president's desire to have him retain the chairmanship of the national committee has been followed by a report that Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia declines to serve in the next campaign as chairman of the national executive committee.

With Hanna, Payne, Scott and Perry Heath out of the management of the coming campaign, friends of the president profess to see a prospect of indifferent work on the part of the interests which these men represent in the success of President Roosevelt's candidacy if they find themselves unable to prevent his nomination.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it to-day. Try a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No soaking! Add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package of your grocers to-day, so cts.

From Indiana, as from Ohio, come further reports of opposition under the surface engineered by certain Republicans not in agreement with the president, and to many Republican indications point to "something doing."

"Ohio has been canvassed by the President's friends, and they give to Hanna only eight safe districts out of the 21 in the event of an open Hanna-Roosevelt break.

"It is known that in Indiana a certain element represented by political adherents of Senator Fairbanks, including former Solicitor Wisward, are waiting for a word from the Hanna camp to organize a Hanna movement in the Hoosier state.

"New York, too, presents an interesting situation to the president's friends. Senator Platt's evasive replies when he is asked if the New York delegation will be instructed for the president lead some to suspect that Platt, too, may be in the Hanna pact to prevent the president's nomination if circumstances at the time of the convention should point to a possibility of such a movement being successful."

How to Prolong Life.

Speaking before the Royal College of Physicians recently, Sir Hermann Weber said that the best way of prolonging life was keeping every organ as far as possible in constant working order, and counteracting the tendencies to premature death, inherited as well as acquired. Moderation in eating, drinking and physical indulgence was recommended, as well as pure air, regular exercise every day in all weathers, supplemented by breathing exercises, walking and climbing tours, going to bed early and rising early and restricting the hours of sleep to six or seven. Daily baths, cold or warm, or warm followed by cold, according to the individual conditions, also tended to prolong life.

"As I obtain a good part of my income by keeping people alive who really ought to have died years before," said a London doctor recently, "perhaps I may be allowed to express an opinion. He who would live long must eat heartily. The stress of a long life entails a tremendous strain upon one's vital energy, and this must be provided for. I invariably recommend for the aged a diet largely consisting of minced beef, which is about the most nourishing food I know. So long as one is not a glutton there should be no limit to the appetite of the man who would live long. We should make older bones if, as a nation, we had better appetites and more to feed them with."—London Mail.

Fossil Coal Mines.

Lewis Walker, the man who bought Charles Miller's interest in the Fossil coal mines, situated about 14 miles south of town, says he has a better prospect than that near Heppner, of which so much is heard lately. He has had two men at work developing the prospect during the past week, and they have got out a fine looking lot of coal. Mr. Walker and his associates have recently got control of 1100 acres of coal land in the vicinity of where they are working, and are fully confident that they have the best coal fields in the West. They are going to put in an increased force and a big drill during the coming spring.—Fossil Journal.

$150 TIFFANY DIAMOND RING FREE $150

JOURNAL DIAMOND UNKNOWN NUMBER GUESSING CONTEST

EVERY SUBSCRIBER TO HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO GUESS ON A $150 DIAMOND RING

Beautiful First Water Stone Set in a Tiffany Gold Ring Given Away as An Expression of Good Will Toward Subscribers

Your Choice of 975 Numbers, Any One of Which May Be the Unknown Number That Gets the Glittering Diamond ---No Possibility of Any Crooked Work.

The Journal has placed an order through the C. H. Hingee jewelry house for a $150 diamond of the finest water, to be given away to subscribers to Daily or Weekly Journal—for each dollar paid the subscriber is to have one guess at an unknown number of three figures, that will be placed in a sealed envelope. This is not a drawing, lottery, or gift enterprise of any kind—but a mere innocent, harmless guessing contest that will make some one richer by a present of a fine $150 diamond set in a Tiffany gold ring.

How to Participate.

For each receipt of one dollar for the Daily or Weekly Journal, to any address, the person to whom the receipt is issued, will be given an opportunity, absolutely without cost, to have a guess at the unknown number, and the person or persons guessing nearest that number will receive as a present and without any compensation whatever, and merely as an expression of good will on the part of The Journal toward its subscribers, the $150 diamond Tiffany ring advertised in this paper and on exhibition at the jewelry store of C. H. Hingee, 88 State street, Salem, Oregon. The party paying one dollar or more shall receive a receipt for each dollar paid, and have the opportunity to guess a different number for each such receipt sold. No commission is allowed to any agent or solicitor for securing subscribers, and the person so subscribing does it with the understanding that the Daily or Weekly Journal is accepted as payment in full for the money paid.

Unknown Number—How Prepared.

The unknown number that is to be guessed will be made up in the following manner. The ten numbers from sought to nine will be put on separate slips of paper and folded so as to be unseen, and a committee of subscribers will be asked to conduct the assembling of the unknown number. This unknown number will be formed at The Journal office on Monday, January 11, 1904, in the following manner: The ten numbers from naught to nine, inclusive, on separate slips of paper, in small sealed envelopes, will be placed in a box, shaken, and a blindfolded person in the presence of the committee will draw out three of those ten numbers, marking the first one, the second two and the third three in figures, and they will then be placed in a large envelope, sealed up and placed with the diamond on exhibition in the jewelry store show window each day during the guessing contest, and will not be opened until the contest is closed, when the diamond will be given to the nearest guesser. The unknown number will be formed by putting together the three numbers in the order as marked, one, two, three, on the envelopes in which they are contained. The unknown number will not be assembled until the guessing contest is completed, and publicly announced to subscribers.

Limited Competition.

The number of receipts issued in this contest will be limited to the number of guesses possible in the range of the numbers between 012 and 987, as the unknown number must be composed of a figure within those limits. The unknown number cannot be less than 012 nor more than 987. To be a perfectly harmless and innocent and amusing guessing contest the number to be guessed at must be and remain absolutely unknown. There must be no chance for any crooked work on the part of The Journal publishers, of the jeweler furnishing the diamond, nor on the part of any subscriber. The receipts for this guessing contest will be numbered in duplicate, but the stub will be only for the purpose of identifying the subscriber who is the successful guesser—each subscriber writing the guess number on the back of his receipt—each one making his or her own guess at the unknown number. As soon as the receipts are all sold the guessing contest will be over and the nearest number awarded the diamond.

How the Guesses Are Made.

On securing a receipt for one dollar or more, the person wishing to guess will write his guess between the above numbers on the back of the receipt in ink or indelible pencil, writing only one guess on each receipt, and depositing the same in the soldered tin box provided at The Journal office for that purpose. Subscribers out of town will be allowed to make their guess in the same manner, and send the same in a sealed envelope plainly marked "Journal Diamond Guessing Contest," and they will be deposited in the box. The soldered tin box will not be cut open until all the receipts in the guessing contest are sold—975 receipts in all.

Receipts Now Ready.

Subscribers can now get their receipts and begin making guesses to secure the $150 diamond, which has been ordered from San Francisco, and will be set and put on exhibition as soon as it arrives. Subscribers by mail and at Journal special delivery stations in the suburbs of Greater Salem will all be given the same opportunity to guess.
