The Weather.

Tough and Sunday, occasional rain, brisk to high southwesterly winds, decreasing tonight.

GIVE THE CITY THE BEST.

In considering street improvements for this city, there is not much to be gained by raking up what has been done or not done in the past.

The plain application of a sound business principle ought to settle in any man's mind what is the right policy to pursue.

The good business man never buys the cheapest article that is offered, from the standpoint of present expense only.

When he buys a suit of clothes he looks to what will wear best, and give the best satisfaction, regardless of price.

When he gets a pair of shoes, he gets the best, and he knows it will be the cheapest in the long run.

When he lays a sidewalk in front of his house, he does not put down the cheapest for the time being, but puts down cement because it will be cheaper in the long run, and more satisfactory.

When it is wisdom to buy the best coat and shoes, to lay down the best sidewalk, why is it not wisdom to get the best street pavement?

If it pays to build a house well, to put up the best kind of a business block, why is it not wisdom to put down the best street improvement?

Why be satisfied with a policy that gives us mudholes in winter and unsanitary conditions in summer?

An intelligent business man knows that the best is the cheapest in the long run, and the only question is of getting your money's worth.

Would not streets built on this principle give the most satisfaction and inspire public pride in our city?

Would not this policy of demanding the best inspire confidence in our city and in ourselves in constructing streets, as well as in all other transactions?

MAYOR WATERS' COMMITTEES.

The first discussion in the new council resulted in a victory for the members from the new wards, in securing the much-coveted electric lights.

The six aldermen from the three new wards presented a solid front, and Mayor Waters, consistent with his message, supported their demands.

The new wards were clearly entitled to the recognition they sought, because it had been provided by the old council.

Alderman Bayne made a spirited plea for the rights of the new wards to some recognition, and the representatives from those wards were found to be more than a match for the opposition.

The committee on lights is composed of two members from the new wards, and the petitions of the people for lights will not be pigeonholed.

WAYOR WATERS' COMMITTEES.

The list of standing committees, as announced by Mayor Waters, seems to be very fairly made up.

Back of the opposition party gets a chairmanship—the one Democrat, Bayne, getting one of the most important committees—ordinances.

A young man is given the chair-

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unhappily About It.
Many women weep and wall and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men moan to profanity because the flax bits through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newberg's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ of microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send for sample in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

manship of the most important committees—Hughes, on ways and means. The chairmanships of finance, licenses, and parks, are given to the old members of the council—Cattin, Sims and Hubbard.

As constituted the committees have three members each, and each member of the council is on three committees.

The new wards are given six important committees—ordinances, sewerage, plumbing, bridges, lighting and printing.

Alderman Young, who is a contractor, is put on committees where the need of a man with a firm hand with contractors is most apparent.

Australia's Curse of Socialism.

(Washington Post.)

Some months ago the Post editorially discussed the effects of Socialistic domination in government upon the commercial and industrial development of Australia. The discussion was based upon some figures taken from a London newspaper showing the falling off in immigration to Australia and the abnormally low rate of increase in the country's population.

The statistics furnished by the English paper seemed almost extravagant, but it appears that the half has not been told. The Australian Globe, in discussing the Post's review of the situation, declares "the Washington paper is but poorly informed if it is satisfied to accept the figures quoted by it as correct. The world should know that Australia is almost at a standstill in the matter of population, and will begin soon to lose unless there is a radical reorganization of governmental policies and a return to sane politics and principles. In a land capable of supporting the whole of the European population many times over, and where it might be thought labor had found its elysium, the workingman and his employer find they cannot make a living."

The Globe quotes figures to show that the gross increase in population in Australia in the last 40 years has been only 750,000, and that for the last 10 years the increase has not been more than 500. Young men are leaving the country, seeking homes elsewhere, unwilling to longer endure the exactions of government on the Socialist plan. In some of the provinces the Socialists have secured complete control, and the result has been practical confiscation of property interests, complete destruction of individual ambition and plans, and, finally, actual decrease in the population and withdrawal of investments. Similar conditions exist in New South Wales, where the population has decreased by thousands within the last three years.

The Globe presents many interesting statements, supported by official figures, showing the effect of the Socialist movement in Australia. The paper challenges successful contradiction of its figures, but this will probably not prevent Socialists throughout this country from holding up Australia as the ideal country for the laboring man and picturing the beauties of Socialist forms of government. The dream of the Socialists of all men working together for common good has been attractive through all time, and it has been given probably its most thorough test in Australia. It has failed utterly just as all plans must fail which eliminate self-interest of the individual from the calculation. It will be discouraging to American Socialists to be no longer able to point to what has been accomplished by the operation of their scheme of government in Australia and New South Wales.

Very Pleasant Electioneering.
In South Australia female suffrage has been in operation for some time. A member of the commonwealth parliament, anxious to ascertain the best mode of approaching the woman voters in his constituency, sought the advice of an experienced South Australian legislator. "How do you please them? Do you kiss the babies?" "No, sir," was the candid reply, "we kiss the elector."

Suggestion.
Jimblicute—Say, have you forgotten that $10 you borrowed of me some weeks ago?
Bobalong—Oh, no; I still have it in mind.

Jimblicute—Well, don't you think it would be a good idea to pay up and release your mind.

Great Opportunities.
Mrs. Jenkins—They are going to have another rummage sale next week.
Mr. Jenkins—Good! I wish you'd send down that rocking chair in the sitting room that I always tumble over when I come late at night.—Somerville Journal.

Lucky Fishermen.
A fisherman at Phippsburg, Me., pulled up a jug of gin on the cod hook the other day. The date of the jug was 1821.

WHO OWNS BURIED TREASURE

The state supreme court Monday announced its decision in the case of W. Danielson, et al., appellants, vs. W. B. Roberts, respondent; from Jackson county; Hanna, Judge. Decision is reversed and a new trial ordered. Opinion by Justice Bean.

This is a case which has excited considerable interest in this county. Roberts encountered a public opinion severe in condemnation of his action in despoiling the boys of the find, who were too young to know its real value, and taking advantage of them so grossly in giving them a 5-cent reward. The court's action may result in the boys getting the value of their discovery to a large extent.

The case is one of treasure trove involving the right to the possession of $7000 in gold.

In 1894 the Danielson boys, aged 8 and 10 years, were hired to clean out the Roberts chicken house. They dug out of the ground a gallon can containing gold coins alleged to be of the value of $7000. The coin had been hidden for many years and evidently the true owner was dead or unknown. The boys showed the money to W. B. Roberts, who claimed it, gave the boys 5 cents, told them not to tell any one and the Lord would bless them. Early in 1903 they brought this suit to recover the money. After their testimony had been introduced at the trial the judge granted a nonsuit upon the ground that the money had been intentionally hidden by some one and that the boys could not, therefore, invoke the rule that the finder of lost property is entitled to its possession as against all the world except the true owner. This decision is held to be erroneous. The supreme court holds that in this country there is no distinction between property which the owner has lost or involuntarily parted with and property which the owner has hidden in the ground. The finders are entitled to possession as against all the world except the true owners. In this case the court holds that the boys are entitled to the possession of the money unless the defendants can show a better title, and the case is remanded for new trial in order that the rights of the parties may be determined by the evidence. It is intimated that perhaps the boys are not entitled to recover the money, under the statutes relative to lost property and treasure trove, but the question whether the money belongs to the boys or to the state is not passed upon.—Ashland Tribune.

The Missouri State Building.
"Roman architecture with an American feeling" is the way in which Mr. Isaac S. Taylor, architect of the Missouri state building at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition describes the style of architecture of that structure.

The building is to be 312 feet long and 160 feet wide. It will be completely surrounded on two floors by balconies and porches, which will supply an uninterrupted promenade about the building at two levels, one 20 feet above the other.

Seals Being Exterminated.
American and Canadian fishermen are exterminating the seals on Pribilof islands, near Alaska. Just for the sport of the thing they shoot the animals instead of spearing; the bodies sink, and the breeding seals are frightened away by the noise.

Cucuous Cucumber.
A freak in the cucumber line was found in Brandon, Vt., last week by Arnold Manchester. It is four distinct cucumbers, yet all grown from a single stem and forming a solid bunch shaped not unlike a Maltese cross.

A Well-Equipped Theater.
Without good and appropriate scenery no play is attractive, and old, worn scenery is little better than none. Patrons of the Baker, at Portland, Oregon, have never seen the same scenery twice during the two years the Baker Theatre Company has been organized. There is a change of bill every week at this house, and for each play there is a new and complete equipment of scenery. In order to meet this demand, Manager George L. Baker has established the largest scenic studio in the Pacific Northwest, and in this studio everything can be turned out from a full-rigged steamer to a church. This department of the Baker enterprises is in the hands of Scenic Artist Shultz, the best in the West, and Stage Mechanic (Pennie) McCabe, who is considered a genius in building novel stage effects. It is one of the strictest rules of Manager Baker that no piece of scenery shall be used in more than one production.

Approval.
"What do you think of government ownership?"
"I'm in favor of it," answered Senator Sorghum, with emphasis I'd like to see the government own everything. My experience has been that it is a great deal easier to get money from the government than from most private concerns."—Washington Star.

The Sequel.
"I have written an article on 'How to Live on $2.50 a Week,'" he explained to the editor.
"Well," said the editor, "you had better write the sequel to it."
"I do not understand."
"Why? 'How to Get the Two-fifty.'"—Baltimore American.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Ask your doctor if this is the medicine that cured his hard cold. Doctors have used it for over sixty years.

Men Love the Neat Woman. There is an attraction in neatness and order all their own. The lack is felt even when there is great beauty to dazzle the eye. I know that there are men who tolerate slack, untidy women, but I have always regarded them as martyrs to duty, mistaken in the size of the obligation laid upon them. I have never blamed the man who shunned untidiness at home, be he father, husband, son or brother, and that, my friends, is the real whip that drives men from their own firesides. The really neat woman is neat at all times, and the slack one is very unwise when she indulges her propensities at home. Cleanliness may be next to godliness, and certainly neatness is next to beauty.

A Big Kick

A man makes when his laundry work is sent home with porcupine eyes and spreadeagle buttonholes. If he would bring his linen to an up-to-date laundry where perfect methods obtain at all times, such as the Salem Steam Laundry, he would receive his shirts, collars and cuffs equal to new every time that we send them home.

Can you Afford to Run the Risk

Read the Testimonial of a Prominent Salem Man: TO THE PUBLIC.

In justice to DR. J. F. COOK, and that the world may know what a great work he is doing, I wish to inform them that I have been taking treatment from him for the past 15 months, and that in that time he has removed from my alimentary canal three tumors of cancerous growths as large as a man's hand, all from the large intestine. Also another cancerous growth of lesser size from off my foot, and another from off my thumb. This has all been accomplished through medicines alone, they killing the growth and spider-like roots, and Nature itself casting them off without the aid of knife or surgery. I dare not believe I could have found equal successful treatment anywhere in the world, and cheerfully recommend Dr. J. F. Cook, the Botanical Doctor, to all who read this testimonial.—R. J. SPENNER.
