

True Proportions and Infinite Beauty

Simply as an art product, and setting aside all thought of its practical value for table use, there are few things which will more greatly delight the eye of anyone having the slightest love for beautiful handwork than a piece of Hawke's Cut Glass. There are other makes of Cut Glass which are good. But there are none of them which attain quite so high standing as works of art. The true proportions and infinite beauty of every piece of Hawke's Glass we display is not easily describable in words; but it will not be difficult for any discerning person who inspects our line to recognize how much higher it is in character than any other in Salem. This may almost seem an extravagant statement—but compare and judge for yourself.

SALEM SOCIETY WEDDING

Prominent Young People United in Marriage and Take a Trip.

At high noon today, at the residence of the bride, on Cottage street, Miss J. J. Brown was united in marriage to Douglas C. Minto, both of this city. The ceremony was the ring service of the Presbyterian church, performed in an impressive manner by Rev. Ketchum, of the First Presbyterian church. Miss Blanche Brown sang the sweet bridal song, "Oh, Promise me," and then played the wedding march. The couple stood under a bower of smilax and white. The bride was dressed in white, presenting a most charming appearance. There were present only the members of the two families, and a few friends. The groom is the second younger son of Hon. John Minto, of this city, a prominent member of the Elks and a popular and well-known young man of this county. The bride was for several years stenographer to Secretary of State Dunbar, and a most popular and accomplished lady. A lunch was served to the wedding party and guests. Mr. and Mrs. Minto took the afternoon train for Portland, where they will stay a few days, and then take a trip to California for several weeks, before returning to this city to make their future home.

CONTROL OF HORSE DIABLO

Controversy Over a Lease in Salem Justice Court

A Petty Civil Case That Is Being Fought Out on a Warrant Charging a Felony

The case of State vs. Crookham, before Justice Horgan, was called at 10 a. m., and continued until 10 p. m. Thursday, when it will be heard on testimony and argument on the law. There was a large number of spectators in the court room, and there is considerable interest in the matter. The newspaper reporters all got it Friday that there was a lease of the horse to Castro, and that seems to be the real question at issue. Just how a civil controversy over the possession of a piece of property can be construed into a criminal action for the taxpayers to foot the bill remains for the lawyers to explain.

The facts in the case seem to be that Mr. Crookham and Strong, one the brother and the other the brother-in-law of Mrs. Murray, in company with Mrs. Murray, went to the fair grounds Tuesday and demanded the horse of Castro. Mrs. Murray asked Castro to deliver the horse to her representatives, and he refused. She asked Castro to unlock the door of the stall, and he refused. The two men, under direction of Mrs. Murray, the owner, then proceeded to open the door by pulling the latch in the presence of Castro, and he then left to take legal advice and got a warrant for Mr. Crookham. Mrs. Murray had previously demanded that Castro turn over the horse to her, but he had always refused on the ground that he had a lease on the horse.

In his complaint Castro swears that he is the owner of the horse, which, of course, is not the case. Mrs. Murray and her counsel also claim to be able to show that Castro never had a lease of the horse, as he claims, and that Mr. Murray never made any dying request that he be put in sole charge of the animal. In any event they say that the horse will not be taken away from Salem, and that all agreements for his services with Salem people will be fulfilled to the letter. They claim that Castro has not treated the horse right, and that they do not consider that he is a proper person to have the handling of the animal.

Creditors Object.

Some of the creditors of the Gilbert Bros. bank have filed an answer to the petition of Claud Gatch, receiver, for the appointment of an agent to collect the outstanding notes now in his hands. Mr. Gatch asked to be allowed to enter into a contract with H. J. Dunn, of Corvallis, for the collection of the notes, and the creditors objected to this proceeding, alleging that the receiver would thereby be released from liability for those notes so turned over to his agent. The creditors say they would like Mr. Gatch to continue as receiver, but if he cannot personally give his time to the work required, they suggest that a new receiver be appointed. The creditors signing the objections to the granting of the petition are:

Schaeffer Piano Mfg. Co., J. R. and Emma Richardson, W. M. Kaiser, W. T. Slater, W. T. Slater, receiver; H. N. Cockerline, W. I. Staley, J. Bontor, M. L. Jones, James Winstantley, J. H. Campbell, Joel Hewitt.

READY FOR THE CITY ELECTION

Council Appoints Judges and Clerks in Compliance With Australian Ballot Law

The city council met at 7:30 o'clock last evening in adjourned session, with the mayor and all members present, except Messrs. Catlin and Young. The reading of the minutes of the last regular session was, on motion, dispensed with.

The mayor stated that, under the adjournment resolution of the last regular meeting, the only business to be considered at this time would be the appointment of judges and clerks of election, in accordance with the provisions of the Australian ballot law. The aldermen from the several wards presented their choice for judges and clerks as follows:

First ward—H. A. Johnson, Thomas Burrows, W. D. Claggett, judges; F. W. Steustoff, R. S. Southwick, W. W. Hall, clerks.

Second ward—First set, M. E. Goodell, F. A. Turner, David Steiner, judges; Henry Hubbard, Ellis Richardson, Jos Baumgartner, clerks. Second set, G. P. Litchfield, P. T. Wrightman, J. R. Broyles, judges; Chas. L. McNary, Whit Holman, J. R. Linn, clerks.

Third ward—Hiram Smith, John Gray, Wm. Manning, judges; J. G. Graham, Wm. Cook, Rockwell W. Carey, clerks.

Fourth ward—G. G. Gans, H. H. Vandervoort, L. L. Royer, judges; A. F. McAtee, J. O. Goodale, Jr., Robert Coshov, clerks.

Fifth ward—L. R. Stinson, J. R. Fairbanks, T. H. Kaylor, judges; D. A. White, L. J. Vibbert, P. L. Frazier, clerks. Second set, J. F. Goode, Jos. Wright, H. E. Drake, judges; T. J. Arthur, Henry Fletcher, C. C. Worrick, clerks.

Sixth—E. T. Malvin, C. M. Parmenter, W. J. R. Jones, judges; Joel Hewitt, Chas. Calvert, Martin Olsen, clerks.

Seventh—W. E. Ross, Jesse Macy, A. H. Kniskern, judges; J. W. Roberts, H. Snook, Amos Vass, clerks. Second set, A. A. Miller, G. A. Nye, Fred Hurst, judges; Oliver Jory, Geo. W.

Mason, S. C. Kightlinger, clerks.

The boundaries of the voting wards were declared to be those described in the ordinance creating the several wards.

Wanted for Larceny.

E. J. McNulty, wanted in Grants Pass for larceny of a number of articles from a hotel, was last evening arrested by Chief of Police Gibson on telephonic instructions from that city. The man worked in a hotel there, and after he left the proprietor asserted a number of articles were missing, among them an overcoat which the young man was wearing when he was arrested, but which he claims he purchased from a man in Grants Pass. Officers from Grants Pass will tonight take him back to that place for trial.

Basket Ball.

The Albany college girls' basket ball team and Lebanon will play their second game on Friday night at the Vance building. Albany won the first game, and since then the Lebanon girls, with some splendid material in their team, have been doing some fine practice and a live contest is expected.—Albany Democrat.
