CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEETINGS

They Are Growing in Interest Under the Lead of Rev. Erritt

A good audience was present last night at the First Christian church to listen to Rev. Davis Erritt's second sermon "The Bible."

Rev. Clark Bower, pastor of the First Christian church of Albany, was present and read the scripture lesson, and made the opening prayer. The sermon last night dealt principally with giving and meeting objections to the Bible. Mr. Erritt said: "No book could grow and become an influence for good with such opposition, if it had not a divine origin. The fact that no has ever been led into a bad life by reading the Bible is evidence of its divine origin." Mr. Erritt quoted some of the objections made to the Bible, and said they were made on account of fallible conditions, and not from a study of the book itself. He said some repudiated a part of the Bible to be "broad," and said he heard an illustration once that appealed to that kind of persons in particular. A man in speaking of the Platte river, in Nebraska, said it reminded him of some people—it was so broad and so shallow. The sermon tonight will follow up the subject of the past few nights or "The Bible," with a different text.

Dr. H. C. Eppley sang the beautiful solo, "Tell Mother I'll Be There," at last night's service, and was appreciated by all.

The public in general is invited to be present at these services. It will do you no harm, and may do you good.

ARE YOU SATISFIED.

If Not, What Better Proof can Salem Residents Ask For?

This is the statement of a Salem citizen, The testimony of a neighbor, You can readily investigate it. The proof should convince you G. S. Cooper, farmer, living three miles north-east of Salem on the Garden road, says: "I was raised in the wheat district and when a good lump of a boy I prided myself on having as much strength as any other boy in the neighborhood and when a number of us got together we often tested our strength by lifting. I very often lifted two bags of wheat but have since regretted having done so as the result was that I strained my back and ever after had more or less trouble from dull aching pains across my loins and other symptoms of kidney complaint. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and the first time I went to town I dropped into Dr. Stone's drug store and enquired about them. I was told they were highly recommended and advised to give them a trial. I did so, and while I did not follow the treatment as regularly as I should have done, being a poor hand to take any kind of medicine, the benefits I derived from their use stamps them as a remedy which acts fully up to the representations made for it."

AN AWFUL CRIME CHARGED.

Norman Williams Accused of Murder—Will Be Brought Here for Trial.

This morning Sheriff Sexton left for Bellingham, Wash., to bring Norman Williams to The Dalles for trial on the charge of murdering Mrs. L. J. Nesbitt and her daughter Alma, near Mt. Hood, this county, four years ago.

The crime of which Williams is accused is one of the most sensational in the history of the state. In 1899 Williams induced Alma Nesbitt to leave her home in Omaha and come to Oregon for the purpose of taking up a homestead near Mt. Hood. After establishing her residence on the homestead in June of that year, Miss Nesbitt came to The Dalles, working here as a domestic in the home of Judge Bennett, remaining here until fall. In September Mrs. Nesbitt came West to join her daughter. Some time in September of that year the two women went to Portland, Miss Nesbitt working in a hotel. On March 8, 1900, Mrs. Nesbitt wrote to her children in Omaha that they would go to the homestead about April 1. This was the last her children heard of her. About April 1 Williams and the two women appeared at Hood River, Williams hiring a livery team, stating that he was taking the women to their homestead. The next morning he returned to Hood River, but the women were never seen after they drove away from Hood River about dusk the previous evening.

On June 23, 1900, a relinquishment was filed in the land office here to the homestead claim of Alma Nesbitt, and the same day Williams filed an application to amend his homestead covering a part of the Nesbitt tract. Search of the records showed the relinquishment of Miss Nesbitt to have been a forgery. This was brought to the attention of a special agent of the general land office, and Williams was indicted by the federal grand jury last fall for forgery, and gave bonds to appear for trial next April.

George W. Nesbitt, a son and brother of the missing women, arrived here from Omaha last week, and began investigations. Going to Mt. Hood, he discovered where a grave had been dug on the Williams place and had recently been refilled. In the bottom of the grave was found some gunny sacks matted with clotted blood, also two large bunches of human hair. It is supposed that the bodies of Mrs. Nesbitt and her daughter had been buried in this grave by Williams, who, becoming alarmed by the indictment in the federal court, removed the bodies to some other place.

Eat and Run.

There isn't a man who would be seen running through the street munching a piece of pie. Why not? Because it would mean dyspepsia and stomach trouble? Not at all; but because it wouldn't look well. As a matter of fact many a business man snatches a lunch in such a hurry that he might as well take it on the run. That is one reason for the prevailing "stomach trouble" among men of business.

There is a certain remedy for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The worst cases of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach have been cured by this medicine. It cures where all other means have failed to cure.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carver, Esq., of Taylorstown, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. There was a gentleman told me about your medicine, and how it had cured his wife. I thought I would try a bottle of it. Ah now glad I did, for I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They stimulate the sluggish liver, and cleanse the system of impurities. They should always be used with "Golden Medical Discovery" when there is need of a laxative.

and the same day Williams filed an application to amend his homestead covering a part of the Nesbitt tract. Search of the records showed the relinquishment of Miss Nesbitt to have been a forgery. This was brought to the attention of a special agent of the general land office, and Williams was indicted by the federal grand jury last fall for forgery, and gave bonds to appear for trial next April.

Mr. Nesbitt has been working on clues for some time, and has uncovered Williams' bad criminal history. He was sentenced to the Nebraska penitentiary for rape, but was released after serving half his term. He has been married six times, two of his wives having died suddenly and under suspicious circumstances. The evidence in the hands of the district attorney is most damaging against Williams, and if not satisfactorily explained away will likely land him on the gallows.
