

SALEM POPULAR LOAN

Subscribed for Nearly Two and a Half Times Over

Great Success of the Home Loan Plan Inaugurated by the People of the Capital City

The fourth popular loan made in this city has been a great success. The subscriptions amounted to $72,825, when only $30,000 was called for. This indicates that the people have confidence in the Republican administration of the city, and that it is just as safe and as good a business administration as the Citizens' administration that preceded it.

So many subscribed that no bonds above $500 will have to be issued, the city charter requiring the smallest bonds to be issued first. A New York firm offered to take the bonds at par and interest, but not a dollar will go to any syndicate, the people of Salem preferring to hold their own securities, and keep the interest at home, and this is the only city in the United States that pursues this sound policy of municipal finance.

These bonds draw four per cent and interest payable in gold coin semi-annually at Salem, and it is in striking contrast with the sale of bonds of the city of Portland recently at a higher rate of interest.

The following is a list of the successful subscribers and bonds will be issued to them in the amount set opposite their respective names:

The Ordinary Girl. She talked about theosophy and transcendental lore; She used a lot of words that you had never heard before. She'd learned a wealth of phrases, and she always had them pat; Her facts were "esoteric," and you let it go at that. Her mind was very active, but her hair was out of curl; She always tried to be unlike the ordinary girl.

A MODEL HUSBAND. A man must be that can wear the shirts and collars that we see daily on suffering mankind. Why torture yourself with a new collar when we will launder one for 3 cents or why wear a shirt front that looks like a mackerel sky in an oil painting when we will launder one in faultless style for 10 cents.
