BEGIN REFORMS AT HOME

Advice Given by Roosevelt in an Address Before Publisher's Association

Washington, April 12.—A distinguished crowd attended the dinner given at the New Willard hotel last night by the Periodical Publishers' association of America. President Roosevelt was present and made a speech. To his right Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, Dean of the Corps, and on either side of them was Mr. Hay, secretary of state; M. Brusard, the French Ambassador; Baron von Sternberg, the German Ambassador; Justice Peckham, of the supreme court; Hamilton M. Mabie, the toastmaster, and other distinguished members of the society. The dinner was preceded and followed by a reception. The President arrived about 10:30 o'clock and remained throughout the reception which followed the dinner. He was the first speaker. Mr. Mabie introduced him as "the best-known author in America today, the author and illustrator of American ideals." He spoke as follows:

"Mr. chairman and gentlemen: It is always a pleasure to a man in public life to meet the governing classes. I wish to bid you welcome to Washington and to say a word of greeting, and that word shall take the form of a warning and a hope. I did not speak in jest when I alluded to you as representatives of the governing classes. I think that we of the United States cannot keep too fresh in our minds the fact that those most responsible for the government are not the representatives of the people, but the people themselves, and that therefore heavy is the responsibility that lies upon the people and upon all those who do most toward shaping the thought of the people.

"No, in the days of my youth I was a literary man. I have recently in reading a book, been immensely struck by the thought developed in it by one of our greatest scholars, who was speaking of freedom, and of the fact that freedom could not exist unless there went with it a sense of responsibility and he used a phrase somewhat like this: 'That among all people there must be a restraint; if there is no restraint there is for an inevitable result anarchy, which is the negation of all government.'

"Therefore there must be restraint. A free people has merely substituted self-restraint for external restraint and the permanence of our freedom as a people and of our liberty depends upon the way in which we shall exercise the self-restraint. There must be more than good laws to make a good people.

A man whose morality is expressed merely in the non-violation of the law is a pretty poor creature. Unless the average citizenship is based on a good deal more than mere observance of the laws on the statute books then our average citizenship can never produce the kind of government which it must and will produce. So far from liberty and the responsibilities of self-government being things which come easily and to any people, they are peculiarly things that can come only to the most highly developed people capable not only of mastering themselves, and who can achieve real self-government, real liberty. For that cultivation of the spirit of self-restraint which is the spirit of self-reliance we must rely in no small degree upon those who furnish so much of the thought of the great bulk of our people who think most, and therefore, gentlemen, in greeting you here I wish not merely to welcome you but to say that I trust every man of you feels the weight of the responsibility that rests upon him. The man who writes month in and month out, week in and week out, day in and day out, and furnishes the material which is to shape the thoughts of our people, is essentially the man who more than others demonstrates the character of the people and the kind of government this government shall possess.

"I believe in the future of this people, because I believe that you and those like you approach their tasks in the proper spirit—not always, but as a rule—and, gentlemen, it seems to me that because of the very fact that we are so confident in the greatness of our country and our country's future we should beware of any spirit of mere boastfulness. Individual courtesy is a good thing, and international courtesy is just as good a thing. If there is any one quality which should be deprecated in the public men and in the public writer alike, it is the use of language which tends to produce irritation among those with whom we should be on friendly terms. Nations are now brought much nearer together than they were formerly; steam, electricity, the spread of the press in all countries, these factors have brought the peoples nearer together. You can rest assured of good judgment, and that when all is said and done, it is in the nation and state and municipality here at home, we can then talk about reforming the rest of mankind. Let us begin at home."

The Good of Medicine.

People insisting that medicine does no good, have one stubborn fact to contend with, that is, the people who do believe are greatly in the majority. We have been so fortunate during the past twenty years as to convince thousands of sufferers with weak watery blood, who had all the symptoms of a general breaking down of the system, that one medicine at least does good. Nervous and unsteady people can have strong steady nerves, and solid healthy flesh by the use of Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic. A tablet to take at meal time, it turns the food you eat into rich, red blood, making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 pounds per week. Sold by all druggists for 75c per box, or 3 boxes for $2. This medicine saves doctor bills and insures health, giving the very best treatment possible.

Call for Congressional Convention

A convention of the Republican party of the First congressional district of the state of Oregon is hereby called to meet in Salem, Ore., Wednesday, April 13, at 11 a. m., for the purpose of nominating one representative for congress and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The convention will consist of 177 delegates, apportioned among the several counties of the district as follows, to-wit: Benton, 7; Clackamas, 18; Coos, 9; Curry, 3; Douglas, 14; Jackson, 12; Josephine, 7; Klamath, 4; Lake, 4; Lane, 19; Lincoln, 5; Linn, 14; Marion, 23; Polk, 9; Tillamook, 5; Washington, 13; Yamhill 11. Total, 177.

The same being one delegate-at-large for each county, one for every 150 votes cast for Judge Bean on the last general election, and one for every fraction of 150 larger than 100.

That the work of the convention may be expedited as much as possible the committee suggests that the chairman and secretaries of the several county conventions certify to the list of delegates elected by their county conventions to this congressional convention and mail them at once to Curtis B. Winn, secretary congressional committee, Albany, Ore.

Delegates or others in attendance at the convention may secure a rate of one and one-third fares for the round trip on the Southern Pacific and the Corvallis & Eastern railways by paying full fare to Salem, taking a receipt for fare paid from the ticket agent and having same properly certified by the secretary of the convention.

T. W. HARRIS, Chairman Congressional Committee, CURTIS B. WINN, Secretary.

HOW TO HOLD A HUSBAND.

The best known guide to married happiness is to hold the husband as you won the lover—by cheerfulness of disposition, patience and keeping your youthful looks. Of course a great many women are handicapped by those ills to which women are heir. The constantly recurring troubles which afflict her are apt to cause a sour disposition, nervousness and a beclouded mind.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., after a long experience in treating such diseases, found that certain roots and herbs made into a liquid extract, would help the majority of cases. This he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Thousands of women have testified to its merits, and it is put up in shape to be easily procured and is sold by all medicine dealers. This is a potent tonic for the womanly system. So much faith has Dr. Pierce in its merits that he offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, Perkins Co., Neb., writes: "I was cured of painful periods by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best in the world."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send at once one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
