

ENLARGE SOLDIERS HOME

Governor Chamberlain Orders Room for More Veterans

Capacity Will Be Increased to Accommodate a Large Number Who Are Without Means of Support

Governor Chamberlain has returned from a tour of inspection of the soldiers' home at Roseburg and reports everything in excellent order. He has decided to enlarge the quarters and has instructed Commandant W. W. Elder to furnish the barracks building. At the present time the home has 99 inmates and every available inch of space is occupied. There are 46 applicants who cannot gain admission to the home and the governor considered it his duty to expend the funds on hand to furnish the barracks and admit the applicants. The improvements contemplated will cost about $3500, and will be completed within 40 days, at the latest. Every applicant who is now on the register will be admitted, while the additional number may cause a small deficit in the subsistence fund it is believed to be a better policy that to have the old veterans who are without means in the county poorhouses or knocked about at the mercy of strangers.

There are ginger worms and red-pepper bugs—queer boarders—that have to be looked for, not in Schilling's Best, but in making it. There are eggs of these queer boarders, too small to be killed by grinding. Don't keep spices warm, or they'll hatch.

The action of the governor should meet with general approbation as it is a humane and considerate act.

Jay Richardson's Funeral.
The funeral services over the remains of Jay Glen Richardson were held at the First Christian church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, and there was a large attendance of friends and relatives of the family. Deceased was the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Richardson, of this city. Most impressive services were conducted by Rev. David Erritt, pastor of the church, and his brief sermon was full of good thought, and very consoling to the family and friends of the deceased. Many beautiful floral gifts covered and surrounded the casket, one of exceeding beauty from the class of law students of the Oregon Law School, of which Mr. Richardson is the dean. Special cars carried all who did not go in carriages to Rural cemetery, where the remains were buried. The family desire to thank their many friends who showed kindness and sympathy on this occasion of their great bereavement.

Sweets Served While You Wait.
Mrs. Hayward, of Portland, representing the Walter Baker chocolate and cocoa preparations, has been in the city the past week introducing their goods for Johnson, Leiber & Co., and today will serve these delicious drinks at the Harritt & Lawrence grocery. A new drink is that made from powdered chocolate. As an introducer of these delightful and gentle stimulants, Mrs. Hayward is a great success.

BARBERS AROUSED TO ACTION

Will Make Hard Fight in Supreme Court to Sustain the State Law

The case of the State vs. Briggs, commonly known as the "barber case," will be heard in the supreme court in a short time. The date has not been set, although the briefs of the appellant and respondent have been filed.

Briggs was arrested for violating the state barber law, and Judge George, of the Multnomah circuit court, held the law invalid. The state appealed from his decision, and the barbers are making a strong effort to have the opinion reversed.

Logan & Galloway, John Manning and S. C. Spencer, of Portland, and J. H. McNary, of this city, represent the plaintiff, and Frank S. Grant the respondent.

Court House News.

The appraisal of the estate of Joseph Hendle was filed, showing the total value of all property to be $205, consisting of cash.

The following real estates sales were recorded:

J. Moser to W. A. Grace, land in Marion county, $650.
G. Collins to G. F. Niles, 30 acres in t 7 s, r 2 and 3 w, $6000.
Ella Young to C. Bernhardt, lot 6, block 2, Jones, addition to Salem, $250.

Fire in Bernardi & Dunforth's Building, Promptly Extinguished by the Hose Laddies

Fire broke out in the building owned and occupied by Bernardi & Dunford, the plumbers, at 69 State street, this afternoon at 1 o'clock, and, but for the prompt action of the fire department, a disastrous conflagration might have resulted. The fire started in the attic and caught from a terra cotta flue that was probably defective. The hose cart responded promptly, and the firemen soon had two streams of water on the flames, and the damage to the building will not be heavy. Owing to the nature of the stock the water did not materially damage it. It is probable that the fire was caused from the burning of a quantity of straw in the stove early this morning, and it had smoldered for several hours. The building and stock is fully covered by insurance.

"I Found a Horse Shoe."
The first item of interest that occurred this morning was the finding of a horse shoe by Irvin, the shoe man. It was "rusty and full of nail holes," and Irvin is thinking of hiring half a dozen extra clerks to attend to the rush that his find will bring him.

Prominent Implement Man.
Wm. Deer, head of the Deer Implement Co., of Moline, Ill., is in the city, with his Western representative, seeing his local representatives, Manning & Ferguson. The afternoon was spent driving over the city.

James M. Shoup of Alaska has been appointed marshal of Alaska.

Gun Play on the Street.
A gun-play occurred at the corner of the Ladd & Bush bank last evening about 8 o'clock. A stranger from Portland was walking down the street, when he had some trouble with a couple of local characters, and one of the latter knocked the Portlander down. When he got up he pulled a gun, and it looked rather warlike, but the local fellows decamped hurriedly, and the fracas ended without bloodshed. No arrests were made, as the affair was hushed up by all parties concerned.
