BETTER LABOR CONDITIONS.

The labor unions of this state are working harmoniously for the promotion of better conditions for carrying on the industries. The disposition to strike has been reduced to a minimum, and educational work has been largely substituted, producing more harmonious results. The labor unions have a rich field in Oregon if they will pursue moderate policies. There is no glut of the labor market here to speak of. There is always difficulty in supplying the demands for good workmen in the different trades, and the number of independent mechanics is large. By advocating policies that make demands for labor the unions can make Salem a first-class community for the working classes at all times. The labor unions should at all times favor street improvements, and good roads and new public buildings. Thus they help increase the wage fund.

Only one public building erected by this city or county in about fifteen years is a very poor record for a city like Salem.

Of course the state has erected a number of buildings, but not near what the state actually needs, while office-holders get large sums.

Labor unions should also take a direct interest in such tariff policies as will keep American industries prosperous.

If the factory prospers, the producer gets good prices, and he in turn employs labor at good wages, and makes improvements.

Sound industrial policies are better for labor unions than strikes.

"SHAPING THE PRESS."

In every mail come to this office ready-made editorials and paragraphs, news letters and Washington and New York correspondents.

Most of this stuff is offered free, and yet it must cost a great deal of money to prepare it and send it out under letter postage.

In one way it is a tribute to the press, as there must be a purpose back of it, to get newspapers to use it for the influence it will exert.

The Journal will not print such matter if it knows it, although it is frequently sent out under the guise of "advance telegraphic news."

THE JOURNAL WOULD LIKE TO TALK FRANKLY AND FREE WITH ITS READERS, AND EVEN IF THEY DO NOT LIKE WHAT WE SAY.

We would like the readers of this paper to know and feel that one newspaper is edited by men who own it and who say what they believe.

We may not always succeed in making this clear but we shall try. And having done our best let the matter stand at that.

If readers differ a little or much they have a perfect right to come back at us and we shall print what they say so long as it is gentlemanly.

A PRACTICAL SOCIALIST.

R. R. Ryan, the real estate man and Ready Rustler, is a redhot Socialist, but of a decidedly practical type.

He has spent sixty dollars on flowers and flowering shrubs to set out in his front yard at his new place east of the red barn. He says he wants to have the prettiest place on the road.

He offers to spend $50 among others in improving the public road along his place, and he is a good roads enthusiast. He says he wants the best road out there that money can build.

Mr. Ryan, owing to his peculiar advanced type of politics, has never made any of his money out of the public crib. A Sunday-school Superintendent would stand a better show to get an office in hades than a Socialist in Oregon.

Not but that he would like to, like other American citizens, if he got the chance, but he don't take the chance.

He believes in progress and is always ready to do his part toward any public improvement, and altogether is not a bad man.

When it comes right to a hard showdown, the man who runs any business that makes a market for products, or hires labor is a benefactor. No matter what his political views may be. He may be a Mormon, a Socialist or a real estate man, if he gives people employment, he is all right.

THE PROPOSED DIRECT PRIMARY LAW.

Section 11 of the proposed bill is as follows:

Section 11. A political party within the meaning of this act is an affiliation of electors representing a political party or organization, which at the next general election preceding polled for its candidate for Representative in congress at least twenty-five per cent of the entire vote cast for that office in the state. Every such political party shall nominate all its candidates for public office, under the provisions of this law and not in any other manner, and it shall not be allowed to nominate any candidate in the manner provided for by section 2691 of Bellingier and Cotton's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Oregon. Every political party and its regularly nominated candidates, members and officers shall have the sole and exclusive right to the use of the party name and the whole thereof, and no candidate for office shall be permitted to use any word of the name of any other political party or organization than that by which he is nominated. No independent of non-partisan candidate shall be permitted to use any word of the name of any existing political party or organization in his candidacy.

The names of the candidates for public office nominated under the provisions of this law shall be printed on the official ballots for the ensuing election as the only candidates of the respective political parties for such public office in like manner as the names of the candidates nominated by other methods are required to be printed on such official ballots, and the provisions of sections 2805 and 2806 of Bellingier and Cotton's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Oregon shall apply to and be hereby made applicable to nominations for public office made under this law, so far as the same are not in conflict with the provisions of this law.

By reading the above it will be seen that the law is defective as by section 11 no political party having less than 25 per cent of the votes for congressman could be recognized. The bill is so framed that every voter who is not a Republican or Democrat is compelled to vote against the bill because they have no standing by its provisions. The bill was evidently intended to give no political party any chance at the polls that was not straight Republican or straight Democrat. We shall point out a few defects but at the same time we are in favor of a direct primary law but not the proposed law.—Roseburg Plaindealer.

BIGGER PAY FOR CONGRESSMEN.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to give better compensation to congressmen and senators.

We cannot subscribe to the proposition that a congressman should get much more compensation than the manager of a good big farm or store.

It should be remembered that those who have the most money to spend and who spend the most are not a whit better morally for that.

To give the dishonest public servant more salary is not to make that servant purer, more honest, more industrious, by any means.

The county government of Marion county and the city government of Salem were improved by reducing the salaries and fees of the officials.

THE AVERAGE OFFICE-HOLDER DOES NOT REQUIRE AS MUCH PREPARATION AND DOWNRIGHT ABILITY AS THE AVERAGE SCHOOL TEACHER WHO IS PAID MUCH LESS.

The politicians generally would be less liable to dictate to the people and to manage their politics for them if they got less pay.

The school teachers could do better work and make better preparation for doing their work well if they received more pay—in our humble opinion.

THE HARVEST OF BAD FINANCE.

By an advertisement in the Oregonian it appears that Multnomah county warrants are called up to November, 1903.

The same condition of things is probably true of the city and school district warrants in that community. On an average the warrants of the three-headed local government are about a year behind.

There are besides, Port of Portland, park commission and other special funds that have floating debts, all drawing interest.

Thus the interest harvest is always white. On top of the taxes for each of the political multi-machines, the banker gets his rake-off.

Is it any wonder that Portland property owners are groaning under a forty-mill tax levy, and cried out for a change?

WHO IS TO BLAME FOR THIS CONDITION OF THINGS THAT IS ENRICHING ONE CLASS OF PEOPLE BY GIVING THEM A SKIMMING OF CREAM OFF THE MUNICIPAL MILK?

The taxpayer is a good-natured, well foddered cow, basking in a mild climate, and fighting off a few parasites occasionally.

But the bankers and the alleged financiers, warrant brokers and bond syndicates, skim the richness off every pan of milk set by the people.

The syndicate burden at Portland has not been figured up lately, but it must reach somewhere near the twenty-dollar mark for those who are actually paying any taxes on property.

The direct cut of fixed charges on property must be a fright, and only the most favorably situated can keep up with the procession.

THE JUDICIAL TICKET.

The Journal publishes the complete Republican ticket today, from justice of the supreme court to constable of Salem precinct.

There was some dispute as to who had authority to order the judicial ticket published—whether it was part of the state or county ticket.

This paper makes it a rule not to publish the ticket of any party, unless it is prepaid by the proper political campaign committee.

The judicial ticket is composed of the names of Geo. H. Burnett, present judge of this district, who is well known to all, and B. L. Eddy, of Tillamook, the other Republican candidate. He has served several terms in the legislature and is an able orator and practicing lawyer.

The Republican candidate for district attorney is John H. McNary, of this city, too well known to need any introduction.

For justice of the peace H. H. Turner of Liberty precinct, and for constable Robt. O. Donaldson are the Republican nominees.

These candidates are all men of ability and high character and standing in the community, and loyal Republicans.

A Republican can have no reasonable grounds for not voting for them, and, as the district is several thousand Republican, they will be elected.

X-RADIUMS

A man who can lie frequently, deliberately and persistently has quite a future in politics for a short time at least.

Whether you roast the Socialists or not, depends on how badly you need them.

To really love a man you want to be a candidate on the anxious seat. You can think of more things to do and say to please that man than ever occurred to you before or ever will occur to you again.

The Journal is not responsible for many of the matters quoted and published in other papers and credited to The Journal. They are sometimes taken from the Portland Journal, and the Salem Journal is ripped up for it. But then we always did get the worst of it in the newspapers.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Women who work, whether in the house, store, office or factory, very rarely have the ability to stand the strain. The case of Miss Frankie Orser, of Boston, Mass., is interesting to all women, and adds further proof that woman's great friend in need is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered misery for several years. My back ached and I had bearing down pains, and frequent headaches. I would often wake from a restful sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days, I could do no work. I consulted different physicians hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was highly recommended to me. I am glad to say I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. I feel splendid, have a fine appetite, and have gained in weight a lot."—MISS FRANKIE ORSER, 14 Warrenton St., Boston, Mass.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, sick and discouraged, and exhausted with each day's work. Some derangement of the feminine organs is responsible for this exhaustion, following any kind of work or effort. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as it has thousands of other women.

The case of Mrs. Lennox, which follows, proves this.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last winter I broke down suddenly and had to seek the advice of a doctor. I felt sore all over, with a pounding in my head, and a dizziness which I had never experienced before. I had a miserable appetite, nothing tasted good, and gradually my health broke down completely. The doctor said I had female weakness, but although I took his medicine faithfully, I found no relief.

"After two months I decided to try what a change would do for me, and as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was strongly recommended to me I decided to try it. Within three days I felt better, my appetite returned, and I could sleep. In another week I was able to sit up part of the day, and in ten days more I was well. My strength had returned, I gained fourteen pounds, and felt better and stronger than I had for years. I gratefully acknowledge its merits. Very sincerely yours, MRS. BERT E. LENNOX, 120 East 4th St., Dixon, Ill."
