

NEW CHWANG PORT TO BE OPENED

A Russian Force Has Advanced Upon Wiju Across the Yalu

Japan Had First News of Russia to At- tack Them With the Port Arthur Fleet

London, May 9.—The Japanese minister, Haya-shi, today said that General Kuropatkin's forces at Lailiang, driving them back. In the event of the Japanese occupation of New Chwang, the civil administration will immediately be appointed, and that port opened to all nations. Admiral Togo will dock part of his fleet, and give his men a rest from their ceaseless vigil.

Russians Cross Yalu.
St. Petersburg, May 9.—A cable from Seoul, capital of Corea, says Russian forces of unknown strength have crossed the Yalu below Wiju and occupied Chang Jin on May 5th. A force of mounted Manchurian bandits accompanied the Russians.

Japs Had First News.
London, May 9.—The Birmingham Post today says the British government has officially notified the United States that it has resolved to create an Asiatic department to deal with business in the Far East. The government has authoritative information to the effect that the Russian government will not press her charge against Japan, of alleged breach of international law, by making the first attack on Chemulpo, for the reason that interrupted cables between Vladivostok and Port Arthur, in possession of the Japanese, show that the Russians were prepared to attack Sasebo with their Port Arthur fleet February 13th, without preliminary declaration of war.

Latest Russian Movements.
St. Petersburg, May 9.—Alexieff announces the transfer of his headquarters to Harbin, while Kuropatkin goes to Mukden. Jessen's fleet is at Vladivostok.

Another Cruiser Lost.
St. Petersburg, May 9.—A report current today says the Russian cruiser Rurik, of the Vladivostok squadron, has been destroyed, whether by accident or of a Japanese attack, is not stated.

Port Arthur Strong.
St. Petersburg, May 9.—In army circles the belief is prevalent that Port Arthur will be able to resist a land attack for six months. Yellow tinged cloth, similar to khaki has been decided upon for summer clothing for the troops.

SENATOR McGINN RESIGNS

His Position as Hold-Over Sen- ator From Multnomah County

Pressure of Private Business Assigned as the Reason--His Successor Will Have to Be Chosen in June

State Senator Henry E. McGinn, of Portland, resigned his office Saturday afternoon, and his successor will be elected at the coming election.

The letter which was received by Governor Chamberlain is as follows: "I herewith transmit to your excellency my resignation as state senator from Multnomah county to the Oregon legislature, to which office I was elected in June, 1902, for the full period of four years.

"The reason which impels me to this course is entirely of a business kind. My private affairs require a stricter attention than I could possibly give to them, were I longer to continue a member of the senate. I have, therefore taken the liberty of placing my resignation in your hands at this time, to the end that the necessary steps may be taken to elect my successor at the coming general election in June, when, without trouble and expense, this may be done."

Senator McGinn has occupied a prominent place in Multnomah county affairs for many years, and was one of the members of the Scott-Mathews machine.

Governor Chamberlain will give the required notice, and his successor will be named at the regular election.

Flunked at a Banquet.
It is recalled that Senator McGinn was given the place of honor at the Polk county Republican banquet a few weeks since, but when the time came for the oratory to be turned on he had disappeared, and it was impossible to get track of him. He did not appear again at the banquet table, although he had come a long distance to be in attendance. Republican leaders do not know what to make of his present action, and fear that it forebodes evil to their organization. It is also recalled that he was not in attendance at the special session of the legislature, taking that occasion to go on a visit to his mother in San Francisco. It is now thought that he has not been in harmony with the dominant faction of the party at Portland for some time. It is also understood that he is out with the Simon faction, and hence had no political association.

Condensed Telegrams.
(Received today by The Capital Journal via Scripps' News Association.)

WOODBURN REPUBLICAN HURRAH

Red Fire and Rockets and Ora- tory by the Candidates With Two Bands

Two Special Trains Loaded to the Guards -Dan J. Malarkey Who Broke Multi- nomah Slate

An unqualified success was scored by the Republicans at their Woodburn rally last night, and the congressional chairman, Toore, and his Albany secretary, Hill, came in for high praise. Two special trains were crowded to the guard rails, and the aisles were filled with people, all of whom paid their own fare to hear Republican orators make their maiden effort in the presidential campaign. The train from Salem down was unable to carry all who wanted to go, and the Salem committee covered itself with glory, making the train net the Southern Pacific Company nearly $50 more than was asked as a guaranty. The Silverton train carried twice as many people as the local committee there set out to secure. The Chemawa Indian band spent the day at Woodburn, and a great crowd was gathered there all day. The addition of the Salem Military band was a great feature, and they won many fine compliments for their fine playing, dividing honors fairly with the Indian school boys.

Woodburn Was Decorated.
There were pictures of Roosevelt and bunting and flags on all the principal places of business and residences, and the Queen City of French Prairie did herself proud. The local committees were beribboned and wore broad, beaming smiles of welcome for the Republicans who came from as far as Brownville and Lebanon in Linn county. Nearly every town in the county was represented. There was an abundance of music, and there were many speakers and candidates introduced who were not "on the program." But everything was given and received in the proper spirit.

There Was Red Fire.
When the trains were in at 7:30 there was a forming of lines on the main streets of the town, and at the command of Chairman Patton, the red fire began to glow, and the town was bombarded with a rain of fire from the prosperity rockets in the hands of the Salem Roosevelt Club and the Young Men's Republican clubs.

Plain J. P. Leveque.
Rev. J. P. Leveque, an enthusiastic Republican worker, was one of the local reception committee, and helped to entertain the speakers. His residence was the most patriotically decorated of the many in Woodburn on the occasion of the Hermann rally. The front was covered with bunting, and there was a large picture of Roosevelt wreathed with flags.

In being named to preside at a Republican primary, he was nominated as Father Leveque. He said: "First of all, I am an American citizen. Next I am a Republican. In my pulpit I do not discuss politics, and when taking part in a political meeting I am not 'Father,' but just plain J. P. Leveque." His remarks carried the house by storm.

Shorey Turned Loose.
Dr. Shorey opened the ball with a few felicitous remarks. He tore a few shakes off the temple of liberty. (Continued on fourth page.)

TRIPLE MURDER TRIAL

Man Charged With Shooting Down His Twin Sister

Rising Sun, Ind., May 9.—The trial of James Gillespie, principal, and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Barbour and Mrs. Belle Seward, accessories in the alleged murder of Elizabeth Gillespie last December, began this morning. Gillespie was arraigned singly. The victim was his twin sister, and she was shot down in her home by a hidden assassin, as she was preparing to receive guests. A shotgun was used. The story of the family's dissensions caused the grand jury to indict Gillespie and the others.

ST. LOUIS IS FAR AHEAD

Of the Other World's Fairs in Getting Under Way

St. Louis, May 9.—The second week of the exposition was ushered in today with beautiful weather. The director of exhibits said: "Progress of the exhibit and installation is now five weeks ahead of Chicago for the corresponding period of 1893, seven weeks ahead of Paris, and will be 99 per cent completed by Thursday evening. Today's program embraces opening of the Swedish pavilion, a lady managers' reception to Mrs. R. D. Francis and meeting of the national commission."
