FRUIT GROWERS UNION

Hold an Enthusiastic Meeting at the Courthouse This Afternoon

There was a large attendance of the Marion County Fruit Growers' Union this afternoon at the courthouse. Secretary J. M. Kyle read a favorable report from the trip he has just made to the large markets on Puget Sound. He favors sales through a broker at the larger cities, and answered all the questions that were put to him by interested members of the union.

A number of growers joined the union in answer to the appeal sent out by the committee, and the report of the secretary and his recommendations were adopted. The growers report a fine outlook for a crop of strawberries, cherries and all small fruit. The Italian prune crop will be very short, but plenty of Petites and other varieties.

Traveled in Male Attire.

Butte, Mont., May 21.—Annie Morrison, of Baker City, Or., who says she ran away from home a year ago, and has traveled 1300 miles on the brakes in woman's clothes since that time from Portland, Or., to Minnesota, was arrested here today for wearing male attire and fined $20. Being unable to pay, she was committed. Her companion, a man named Ed. Grant, who says he is out of the Oregon penitentiary on Parole, was fined $200 for carrying concealed weapons, and held pending messages from the Oregon officials.

The girl is tall, slender and pretty. She says her parents abused her. She evinced no perturbation when arrested, saying she was so used to men's clothes she did not realize she was committing an offense.

(E. L. Grant, who is referred to in the above dispatch, was released from the Oregon penitentiary on March 4, of this year, having served his time. He was convicted of horse stealing in Unatilla county, and sentenced to 1 1/2 years in the penitentiary. His true name is Weston, and he has a brother who is giving the officers in Eastern Oregon and Washington at the present time. The state of Oregon does not recognize the parole system, and the dispatch is in error. The officials at the prison had not received any communication when their attention was called to the Montana affair.)

AND BICYCLES—

The good old Tribune is meeting with its usual cordial reception, and satisfied riders are seen everywhere.

The wheel is so well known that we sometimes neglect to make prominent it goods features in our ads. The drop forged steel crown that never breaks, the Tribune bearings that never cut out, the oval spring tempered cranks that do not bend, break or come loose, the Tribune cycloidal sprockets that make the chain run noiselessly, and the wheel run light, all combined with frame lines that suit the trade, whether old or young.

Ladies' in black. Gent's in blue or black. Any tire, saddle, bar or other equipment. Coasters, cushion frames, spring forks and all other features that are up-to-date. Sundries, too.

STRUCK HOT PLACE.

Baker County Miners Driven from Shaft by Flow of Water. Baker City, Or., May 21.—The men working in the Cyclone mine, about six miles east of this city, struck a flow of hot water yesterday afternoon. They were driving a drill hole at the time, and cut through into the geyser. The hot water rushed out into the tunnel with a roar, and the men barely escaped being several scalded.

The water was about 116 degrees at first, and became warmer as it flowed until it was scalding hot. The pumps are working now, and the flow of water is under control, but the mine in that vicinity is uncomfortably warm on account of the steam.

It is not a new thing to encounter hot water in that vicinity. The old Virtue mine was often the scene of such experiences, but, as a rule, the hot water could soon be disposed of. Two or three times, however, it was very troublesome.
