

MARION COUNTY PIONEER

Louis Miller of Turner Dies of Paralysis

Married First White Woman Born in This Part of Oregon

At his home in Turner, Marion county, Oregon, Friday morning, May 20, 1904, Louis Miller, aged 67 years.

Mr. Miller was an old Oregon pioneer, coming to this state from Missouri in the early fifties. He married a daughter of a pioneer, who was one of the first settlers in the Aumsville-Stayton country, and she is said to be the first white girl born in that part of Marion county.

Louis Miller was born in St. Louis, Mo., April 12, 1837. In 1853, at the age of 16 he crossed the plains, coming to the California gold fields where he worked until the outbreak of the Rogue River war, when he enlisted and served during '55 and '56 under Captain W. A. Wilkinson. After his discharge he remained in the mining district of Jackson county, and in 1861 he again volunteered his services and served for one year, receiving his discharge at Fort Vancouver in 1865. In 1863 he was married to Miss Sallie Davie.

Paralysis was the cause of his death. He had been doing some light work in the garden near the house, when he walked to the house, presumably to rest and was stricken down without time to give a word of warning to those around him. A physician was soon called, but nothing could be done for him.

Deceased was 67 years old and was of a kindly disposition, making friends wherever he went, and the community loses a man of sterling worth and unswerving character. Five children and a loving and faithful wife are left to mourn his death. One son, Roy, was drowned at the mouth of Salmon river, Tillamook county, in 1897, and his body never recovered, while the other children are Mrs. Lizzie Helmsken, Salem; Mrs. Ollie Catterlin, Hobsonville, Or.; Mrs. Louise Small, Turner; Pearl Miller, Turner; Mrs. Emma Cole, Stayton, Or.

Interment will be had in Twin Oak cemetery, near Turner, Sunday, May 22, at 2 p. m., and the services will be conducted by the Stayton lodge, No. 64, I. O. O. F., of which deceased was a member. Members of the order at Salem will attend.

Scholastic Baseball.

The Hill Military Academy baseball team went to Eugene today, and will play the High School nine of that city this afternoon.

Douglas Jessup and H. Wiprut yesterday took a fishing excursion up Mill creek. They carried several limburger sandwiches, a number of life preservers and lines, and a large basket to cage the foolish little fishes who are victims of the smooth anglers. This is their second trip and they are studying the habits of the piscatorial inhabitants of the familiar crevices.

South Salem Personals.

Mrs. H. Hahn and Mrs. Scott, of Sublimity, have returned home, after a few days' visit in this city.

Miss Lena McIntire returned home last evening from a visit with relatives and friends in Portland and Oregon City.

Tommy Davidson's Poems.

The Journal prints another of Uncle Tommy Davidson's poems today. Like the editor of this paper, he has a weakness for verses, and, unlike the editor, he writes some pretty good ones. No one has more friends than Uncle Tommy, and they will read his poem on springtime with a great deal of pleasure. He has served two terms on the board of education, but expects to retire after the end of his term, which expires in June.

A Great Heifer.

Mr. S. Frost, of Polk county was in the city today, and reports that his Jersey heifer, which is just 18 months old, now produces a pound and four ounces of butter daily, and that a pound of her milk makes 1 1/4 ounces of butter. She is a Jersey of the Mars strain, and is certainly a wonder in the way of a producer. If she meets with no set-backs she will be a record breaker.

Two Hop Contracts.

Two hop contracts were filed today. They were both from Al and Will Downs, of Silverton, to Adolph Wolf & Son, and each call for 10,000 pounds of prime hops, one lot at 16 cents and the other lot at 18 cents per pound. The usual provisions for picking money in either not to exceed $790 is part of the contracts. The contracts bear date of January and February, 1904, respectively.

Extradition Papers Issued.

Governor Chamberlain last evening honored the requisition of the governor Massachusetts for Joseph M. Horton, who is wanted in Brockton for the crime of embezzling $600. He was arrested in Portland, W. A. Boyden and Chas. W. Grose are named as agents to take Horton back to stand trial.

PUSH CLUB MONDAY

Another Two Thousand Dollar State Fair Purse

Railroad Extension From Dallas to Salem Can Be Secured

Several public-spirited Salem gentlemen have volunteered to raise a guaranty purse of $2000 for another race at the state fair, and that will put the big race purses ahead of all the Pacific coast attractions. President Downing, of the state fair board, has asked the club to name a committee for this purpose, and it will be done at the meeting Monday night, at the city hall.

J. W. Couvert, the engineer who is rebuilding the Dallas and Falls City railroad has all his surveys completed for the extension from Dallas to Salem. Mr. Couvert, through his local representative, Mr. Holmes, has a direct proposition to make to Salem business men that will be very interesting. That railroad is now in sight for Salem, and should be picked up like money found, if this community wants something good and immediate. Attend the meeting at the city hall Monday night, and help push these two worthy propositions. Mr. Couvert was in the city today, and talks business. He is not a promoter.

MAY USE CRUSHED ROCK

Court Street Improvement Committee Accompanies Judge Scott

The Court street improvement committee made a trip to the Skinner rock quarry in Polk county yesterday afternoon, and were highly pleased with their investigations. They were accompanied by County Judge Scott, and, through the courtesy of J. H. Albert, the party was carried in the latter's fine automobile.

They also visited the quarry south of town near the Liberty road, and noted the methods used by the county in handling the rock in that section. The committee has about concluded to cover Court street with crushed rock, and in this they will reap the benefit of Judge Scott's wide investigation into the various methods employed by cities and towns in the Eastern states. It is to be hoped that the work will be commenced at once, and be rushed to an early completion.
