PLAYED EXTRA INNINGS

Raglans Won on Sunday but Both Sides Played Good Ball

Yesterday afternoon about 800 people witnessed one of the best games of baseball that has been played on the Salem field this season. The weather was conducive to good playing and the teams were in excellent condition.

Both pitchers did credit to themselves, McInnis pitching an especially fine game, holding the Albanians down to nine hits, striking out three, and only walking one man.

The Raglans picked up some in their hitting and made a much better showing than they did Saturday, getting 11 hits off of "Rube" Howard, while they had to be satisfied with five the other day.

The game was closely contested throughout, and the boys had to play for every score they made. At the end of the ninth the score was 4 to 4, and it took 10 innings to decide the game.

Salem started the fireworks in the first inning, Fay, the first man up, putting a single into left garden, and stole second. Wilkins got first on a fielders' choice. Loughheed made a pretty sacrifice and advanced them both, but was thrown out at first. Davis followed with a two-bagger, which scored Fay and Wilkins. Williams got a single, and Davis got home on an error by Sullivan, making a total of three runs for Salem in the first inning.

Albany failed to do anything in the first, but in the second Lee made a hit, Sullivan followed with a single, but was thrown out in trying to make second. Harper followed on a fielders' choice, while Lee reached home, then Graves hit safe and scored Harper, which made the Albanians two runs at the end of the second.

The fourth inning ended with a run to Sullivan's credit, and Harper on second. Donovan dropped one over the fence in the fifth, making the only home run of the game, giving Albany the lead by one score, which remained the same until the seventh, when Fay got a hit, stole second, and finally made home, tying the score.

The score remained at 4 to 4 until the last half of the 10th, despite the fact that Donovan, in the first half, laid a very pretty bunt on the chalk line, and then beat the ball to first. The last half of the tenth settled the game, when Davis singled, stole second, and came home on a two-bagger by Williams.

There was plenty of excitement, and the game was a rattling good one, from start to finish. The score was as follows:

Saturday's Game.
The game on Saturday was very listless, and was without a feature. Nothing, Salem's crack first baseman, was injured in collision with a runner, and retired from the game at the end of the second inning. He will be out of the game for some time, as his ankle is in bad shape.

The Monday Morning Game.

Things run to extremes always, and baseball is no exception. Instead of the large crowd witnessing a fast game of ball, as was the case yesterday, a very small crowd watched an exceedingly poor game this morning.

It cannot be said that Albany put up a very poor game, for they played without error, but as Wilkin's arm was so sore that he could not pitch, and putting Loughheed, the first baseman in the box, Williams on first, and changing the team around generally, it broke the Raglans' playing considerably. The game was announced as seven innings, but the boys warmed up toward the last, and tied the score in the seventh, and two more innings were played to decide the game. Home runs were made by Loughheed, Downie and McInnis.

The score was as follows:

R. H. E.
Salem	7 12 5
Albany	8 10 0
Salem	0 0 1 2 3 1 0 0 7
Albany	2 1 0 1 0 1 2 0 1 8

Eugene Skipworth Dead.

E. R. Skipworth, the prominent lawyer and politician, died at his home in Eugene yesterday, of consumption, after a lingering illness of several years. Deceased had battled with the dread disease to no avail, seeking the milder climates of California and Arizona at various times, but the destroyer gradually weakened him and he succumbed.

Eugene R. Skipworth was well known throughout Oregon as a bright, brainy lawyer, and a fine gentleman. He was clerk of the supreme court in 1886-7, and has been a Democratic candidate for office a number of times. He was 47 years of age, a member of the Methodist church and Workman. He leaves a wife, father and mother, and number of brothers and sisters.

GREEKS WERE SORRY

Wanted to Return to California but Afterwards Changed Their Minds

About 50 Greeks, who have been employed on the Southern Pacific repair gang, became dissatisfied a few weeks ago, and wanted to return to California, where they formerly worked.

W. E. Spofford, the head contractor, arrived from San Francisco last week, and made a trip down the line to all the camps where Greeks were employed. He told them that he had arranged for them to change places and they were to start last evening, but when the time came for the swarthy little fellows to go, they commenced to think that it was a pity to leave the nice cool weather in Oregon for the sun-parched plains of Southern California, and told the contractor that they would remain here. Mr. Spofford had been to considerable trouble and expense in making the change, and informed the stubborn chaps that they would leave Salem on 11 o'clock overland today or their transportation would be cancelled.

The Greeks held a great pow-wow, and were undecided as to the course they would pursue.

Mr. Spofford is a large contractor in California, and has about 1500 Greeks at work for the Southern Pacific in different parts of that state. The main trouble with the Greeks who have been in Oregon seems to be over wages, as the railroad company reduced their pay from $1.60 to $1.40 a day, but, after several efforts Mr. Spofford had the price fixed at $1.50 per day. The hands were persistent in their demands to be returned to California, but, with the advent of nice weather, and the opportunity to go, they recanted, but Mr. Spofford was mad, and read the riot act to the flimsy-minded fellows:

Democratic Candidate for Justice of the Peace Will Scrap Rosefelt and the Two Turners.

Salem, Or., May 30, 1904.
Mr. Editor: I have waited four days since entering my protest against Rosefelt and the two Turners combining their strength against me, hoping that Rosefelt and Frank A. Turner would withdraw from the ring; but as I have not heard from them, and since talking the matter over with Uncle John Lewis, we have decided to scrap the whole combination, unless Rosefelt and Frank A. Turner decides not to trot in our class. Yours truly,
CHARLES W. CORBY.
