BIRD STUDY CLUB.

Report of Field Meet and Regular Session.

The Salem Bird Study club had a very interesting meeting last Friday evening, at which time many birds of the season were discussed, and plans made for the future work of the club. Among the attractive features of the program was a short paper read by Mrs. Prescott describing the field meet of the club held last week on Minto's island. It is given below, and anyone reading it will no longer wonder why the study of birds becomes so fascinating:

"While waiting at the ferry landing those who were early saw the russet-backed thrush, a sly but very sweet and interesting bird. Its notes are very like the robin's but clear and liquid and with an indescribable breath of the wild woods and purling brooks. Mr. Lord ranks it's song among our half dozen best. When Miss Smith came she told us the cedar waxwings were in the ivy on the street corner. We went back and saw dozens of the little dandies.

"After crossing the ferry we stepped into bird land, for although it was in the middle of the afternoon and warm, the songs of the summer warblers, and white crowned sparrows, warbling vireos and gold finches, robins, towhees and thrushes greeted us from the hedges. The first real beauty to come out and give us an open welcome was the black headed Grosbeak. He crossed our path with a flourish of his bright colors to attract our attention and perching on a low shrub sang us a beautiful song. We crowded to within a few feet of him and to teach us better manners he moved to a taller tree. A few feet farther on was a vigorous Wren busily carrying straws, we suspected to an old stump, but we didn't learn his secret. Crossing the open to the western shore of the island the crows and quails called to us and the imported pheasant strutted the fields in his gown of oriental colors. We had only entered the woods again to be confronted by more funny noises than I supposed one bird could make. He would laugh with us, and at us and scold us and chatter and chatter—and keep out of sight. While we were carefully stalking about one clump of bushes he would peer us from the opposite direction. How he could get away we could not see, but he did for half an hour or more, always within a radius of 100 yards and only in sight a few times. This was the long-tailed chat. By the time we reached the river beach, the wind storm had become so severe that giving over our bird hunt we hurried homeward, happy in having seen 15 different birds, gathered four varieties of wild roses, and some ripe salmon berries."

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many a Salem Reader Knows Too Well.
When the Kidneys are sick. Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Hundreds of people testify to this. Mrs. Wm. Rainwater, wife of Wm. Rainwater, employed in Veal's chair factory, residing at 903 East First street, Albany, says: "My kidneys troubled me off and on for eight years. Every time I contracted a cold it settled in my kidneys, causing my back to ache often so badly that I could hardly get about to attend to my household duties. Accompanying this was a very annoying and distressing difficulty with the kidney secretions. I was treated by physicians and took a number of highly recommended remedies but the relief I obtained was only temporary and I was about discouraged. Finally I read an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box and began their use. I expected some relief, of course, but to my surprise they went quickly to the root of the disease and I had no more trouble until recently I felt symptoms of a recurrence. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine I have ever used and I have recommended them to my neighbors."

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In the six day bicycle races the pace tells terribly at the end. Man after man falls out exhausted. The victor wabbles wearily over the line. In the business race it's the same. Man after man drops out exhausted. The successful man is often a dyspeptic, unable to enjoy success. When the stomach is diseased there is not enough nutrition assimilated to sustain the body and repair the daily waste of tissues. The result is weakness, tending to collapse.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect assimilation of food by which the body is built up with sound, healthy flesh.
"I have taken one bottle of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for indigestion and liver complaint," writes Mr. C. M. Wilson, of Yankin College, Davidson Co., N. C. "I have had no bad spells since I commenced taking your medicine—in fact, have not felt like the same man. Before I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I could not eat anything without awful distress, but now I can eat anything I wish without having unpleasant feelings. Last summer our baby was teething and was so poor he was almost a skeleton. We gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and now he is as healthy and well as any child. I will speak a good word for your medicine whenever I have an opportunity."
