The Reservoir Being Tested.
The reservoir on Fairmount Hill Park has been completed, so far as the concrete lining is concerned, and the first water was turned into it Monday. Manager Chas. A. Park, of the Salem Water Company, inspected the work, and, to all appearances, it is a fine and perfectly water-tight structure. It was emptied, and later in the night was pumped full again. The water is a clear and appetizing looking fluid. When completed the reservoir will be enclosed with a fine iron fence, and the top of the earth enclosing the reservoir planted in grass.

SLOCUM DISASTER GROWING

Coroner's Inquest Is Now Proceeding
Thunder Storms Raise More Bodies From Their Ocean Graves
Tremont, N. Y., June 21.—The big armory was packed at noon when the Slocum inquest was started. Frank A. Barnaby, president of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Co., was the first witness. He testified as to equipment of vessel. The insurance companies had considered the boat an excellent risk, giving the company lower figures. The church paid $350 for the use of the boat.
John Cokely, a deck hand, swore during 18 days he had been on the steamer he never saw a fire drill. First Mate Flanagan admitted he had never been examined by government officials and was not a licensed mate. He had been chief mate of the steamer two years.
At 8 o'clock this morning 12 additional bodies, victims of the Slocum disaster, were recovered, making a total of 764 found and missing. Sixty-four unidentified bodies are at the morgue. A severe thunder storm early this morning caused two bodies to come to the surface and eight were found floating near where the steamer was beached. The relief fund now stands at $53,000. Two four-inch guns today will be taken out on the floats and fired along the river where the bodies were supposed to be sunk. First of damage suits has been filed by Mrs. Kate Mattler, who lost four children. She asks $50,000.

CONVENTION SCENES DEPICTED

ple howled and clapped, but it was all over in a few seconds, and quiet reigned again.
Preliminary Was Mild.
The regular preliminaries were so mild that the enthusiastic opening is hailed as a good omen. Uncle Joe Cannon wore an expansive smile, when the cheers swelled up for Fairbanks. It was made a plain fact that the delegates had boarded the Fairbanks wagon. Swinging his two-handed bung-starter, Payne rapped for order, quiet ensued, while the chaplain prayed.
Senator Scott got a hand-clap as he stepped to the front to present the gavel from the Chicago committee to Payne, after which Reading Clerk Malloy let loose his fog horn.
Salem Choral Society.
The Salem Choral Society members held a meeting this morning to settle up the accounts for the late May Festival and "Queen Esther" cantata. They audited all the bills, and, although they were short, the main movers in the enterprise dug up about $25 each, and, after next Tuesday, all parties having claims against the society can call on the treasurer for their checks. These entertainments were a good-sized musical treat for the entire community, and those who, with their labors and generosity, have made it possible for the public of Salem to have it are entitled to great credit.
Late Court of Hues News.
John Heldecker, the well-known cement worker, was today committed to the asylum. He has been suffering from brain fever for several weeks.
Marriage license was issued today to Edward G. Kienly and Miss Augusta Reuf, and Chas. E. Freeland and Miss Florence P. Tillson.
John Scholl was appointed administrator of the estate of Christophel P. Kreiger, deceased.
Engagement Announced.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shoemaker announce the engagement of their daughter, Mabel Ethel, to Dr. Rasmus P. Mortensen, of oYacalla, Ore. The wedding will take place on Wednesday, June 29th, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the home of the bride's parents, on South Liberty street.
Piano Recital.
The pupils of Miss Eva Cox, assisted by Mrs. Hinges, will give a piano recital tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. The public is cordially invited.

MAIL CARRIER HURT

C. L. McAllister of Shaw Receives Serious Injuries
C. L. McAllister, the rural mail carrier, who drives on the route running east of Shaw, met with a serious accident last evening, and may die from the injuries received. He had a spirited team and was returning from his trip, when the horses became frightened, and dashed down the road at a terrific speed, throwing Mr. McAllister out of the buggy, and dragging him a considerable distance. The unfortunate man was picked up and conveyed to his home, where he is in an unconscious condition. His right ear was torn from the head, and he received a number of severe bruises about the body, causing internal hemorrhages.
Dr. Arnsom, of Turner, was called, and he pronounced the injuries of a very serious nature, with very unfavorable chances for recovery. His little son was also in the buggy, but escaped with only a few slight scratches.
Mrs. Hinges Will Sing.
At the piano recital given at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, by the pupils of Miss Eva Cox. You are invited to attend.

Get a Runabout— A Cushion-Tired Runabout

AND ENJOY THE PLEASANT DRIVING.
One hundred dollar runabout is the talk of the trade, for it has the style and finish common to the $125 sort, and the quality has had a year's test, so we know what it will do.
The higher priced ones we sell are world-beaters, too. There are the points of excellence that make them worth the price, and they stand out.
Our other buggies and driving rigs are equally good values, and all we ask is a chance to show you. Our trade never was so good, and the reason is not far to seek, once you note the assortment.
Two second-hand buggies, and two open rigs. Call and see them.
